New Research Texts Available for Fall Courses

Methods

Natural Experiments in the Social Sciences: A Design-Based Approach

Thad Dunning
ISBN: 9781107698000 | $36.99

Part of Strategies for Social Inquiry

This unique book provides an introduction to key issues in causal inference, including model specification, and emphasizes the importance of strong research design over complex statistical analysis.

Field Research in Political Science: Practices and Principles

Diana Kapiszewski & Lauren M. MacLean & Benjamin L. Read
ISBN: 9780521184830 | $36.99

Part of Strategies for Social Inquiry

The authors reconsider the design and execution of field research and explore its role in producing knowledge, offering an empirical overview of fieldwork in the discipline based on a large-scale survey and extensive interviews,.

The Fundamentals of Political Science Research Second Edition

Paul Kellstedt & Guy Whitten
ISBN: 9781107621664 | $75

Kellstedt and Whitten present an integrated approach to research design and empirical analyses, using examples from political science research that students will find interesting and inspiring and that will help them understand key concepts.

Statistical Modeling

Causal Inference in Statistics, Social, and Biomedical Sciences: An Introduction

Guido W. Imbens & Donald B. Rubin
ISBN: 9780521885881 | $60

This groundbreaking text presents statistical methods for studying causal questions. The authors start with the notion of potential outcomes and go on to discuss how randomized experiments enable researchers to assess causal effects and then turn to observational studies.

Statistical Modeling and Inference for Social Science

Sean Gailmard
ISBN 9781107003149 | $75

Part of Analytical Methods for Social Research

Sean Gailmard provides an introduction to probability theory, statistical inference, and statistical modeling for social science researchers and Ph.D. students. Focusing on the connection between statistical procedures and social science theory, Gailmard develops core statistical theory as a set of tools to model and assess relationships between variables.

Journal of Experimental Political Science

The Journal of Experimental Political Science (JEPS) features research – be it theoretical, empirical, methodological, or some combination thereof – that utilizes experimental methods or experimental reasoning based on naturally occurring data. We define experimental methods broadly: research featuring random (or quasi-random) assignment of subjects to different treatments in an effort to isolate causal relationships between variables of interest. JEPS embraces all of the different types of experiments carried out as part of political science research, including survey experiments, laboratory experiments, field experiments, lab experiments in the field, natural and neurological experiments.

Manuscript submission

All submissions to JEPS should be made online through Editorial Manager at <www.editorialmanager.com/jeps>. For complete instructions and submissions guidelines please visit <journals.cambridge.org/xps/ifc>.

Subscription Information

The Journal of Experimental Political Science (ISSN: 2052-2630) is published twice a year, in June and December, by Cambridge University Press, 32 Avenue of the Americas, New York, NY 10013, USA.

The subscription price of Volume 1 (2014) including delivery by air where appropriate (but excluding VAT), is $238.00 (£149.00) for institutions print and online; $215.00 (£134.00) for institutions online only. 2014 subscription rates: Members of The Experimental Research Section of APSA receive a hard copy of the Journal of Experimental Political Science and have free access to the journal online for an annual charge of $16.00, or online access only for an annual charge of $10.00.

Orders, which must be accompanied by payment, may be sent to a bookseller, subscription agent or direct to the publisher: Cambridge University Press, Journals Fulfillment Department, 100 Brook Hill Drive, West Nyack, NY 10994-2133, USA; or Cambridge University Press, The Edinburgh Building, Shaftesbury Road, Cambridge CB2 8RU, England.
