

Harvard Theological Review

Harvard Theological Review is a scholarly journal for those interested in theology, the history and philosophy of religion, biblical studies, and related fields. It seeks to publish compelling original research that contributes to scholarly understanding and interpretation. Published quarterly, HTR includes original, peer-reviewed articles at the forefront of academic debate, providing leading scholars with a forum to publish their research.

Subscription rates are $30 per year for individuals and $55 per year for institutions. An additional $5 shipping fee is charged for subscriptions outside of the continental United States. Student subscription rates are available.

Checks in US funds only, please.

Subscription Inquiries

Harvard Theological Review
45 Francis Avenue
Cambridge, MA 02138

<http://www.dtrweb.harvard.edu/htr/index.htm>

- 115 The Runaway Paul
Laurence L. Welborn
- 165 Paul's Uncommon Declaration in Romans 1:18–32 and Its Problematic Legacy for Pagan and Christian Relations
Kathy L. Gaca
- 199 Ladies' Aid: Gentile Noblewomen as Saviors and Benefactors in the *Antiquities
Shelly Matthews
- 219 "Beautiful as a wasp": Angela of Foligno and Georges Bataille
Amy Hollywood
- 237 Books Received