Language in Sociocultural Change

Essays by Joshua A. Fishman

Anwar S. Dil, General Editor. In this volume, the author, a leading authority in the field of sociolinguistics, views sociocultural change as the dominant social process of our age, and, therefore, the most fitting context in which to examine language in society. His selected papers concern language maintenance and language shift, societal bilingualism, language planning, and the sociology of language. October. About $10.00

2 Important Studies from TEACHERS COLLEGE PRESS FUNCTIONS OF LANGUAGE IN THE CLASSROOM

Edited by COURTNEY B. CAZDEN,
VERA JOHN, and DELL HYMES

Much of the difficulty in American classrooms today arises out of conflict and confusion on the part of both teachers and students about the norms for interpreting communication. The papers in this volume address themselves to this problem from several disciplinary perspectives—anthropology, linguistics, psychology, and sociology. The crucial issues for these authors is not so much a better understanding of how language is structured, but a better understanding of how language is used; not so much what language is, as what language is for.

TELLING TONGUES: Language Policy in Mexico, Colony to Nation

SHIRLEY BRICE HEATH

Foreword by Dell Hymes

In this first case study of language policy in a developing nation, the author concentrates on the issue of language as it has reflected and effected social and political changes throughout Mexico's colonial and national history. Centering on the question of whether Indians should be forced to learn Spanish and forget their native tongue in order to gain acceptance as participative citizens, this historical survey illuminates the forces which influenced Mexico's complex socio-political rationale for language policy.

Typescripts. The top copy of the typescript should be submitted and, if possible a second copy also. Contributions should be clearly typed on one side of the paper only using a conventional size of paper, preferably A4 (or 21.6 by 28 centimeters for those at work where A4 is not available). Authors should hold one copy for the correction of proofs. The title-page should include the title, author's name and affiliation, in that order, along with an abstract of the article. Areas of study to which the articles may be of interest should be listed at the end of the abstract.

Titles should be so worded that the first part may be used as a running headline (with a maximum length of 50 characters, including spaces). They should be typed on a separate sheet, together with the author's name and the address to which he wishes proofs to be sent.

Citations and forms of emphasis. Normally the Latin alphabet is to be used. Cited forms should be underlined to represent italicization in print. Translational 'meanings' should be placed within single quotation marks.

References are to be made in the text (and not in footnotes) by giving in brackets the name of the author and year of publication, and where relevant the page(s) referred to; e.g. (Whitney 1867: 45-53). If the author's name is part of the text, the following form should be used: 'Whitney (1867: 48) maintained that . . .'. When a work written by two or more authors is referred to, all names should be given in the first citation; e.g. (Weinreich, Labov & Herzog 1968): in subsequent citations the first name only should be given, with 'et al.' added; e.g. (Weinreich et al., 1968). When separate works are referred to in the same bracket, those by the same author should be separated by commas and those by different authors by semi-colons: e.g. (Whitney 1867; Firth 1935, 1957a). Initials should be used (after the author's name) only when it is necessary to distinguish between two or more authors of the same name, all of whom are referred to in the same article.

All works referred to should be listed at the end of the article, double-spaced and in alphabetical order. The titles of articles should so far as possible be abbreviated according to the conventions of the Linguistic Bibliography of the Permanent International Committee of Linguists (CIPL).

Book reviews. With the exception of the title-page, book reviews should be submitted in the same form as articles. The title-page should take the following form: Edwin Ardener (ed.), Linguistics and Social Anthropology. (ASA Monographs, 10.) London: Tavistock, 1971.

There is no need to submit an abstract with a book review.

Proofs. First proofs only will be sent to the author (or his nominee), who will be expected to correct them and return them to the Editor, by airmail where appropriate, within ten days of receipt.

Separates. Fifty separates of both articles and review articles will be provided free of charge. Additional separates may be obtained at reasonable cost, provided that these are ordered before publication on the special form sent out with the proofs.

Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, or is not being considered for publication elsewhere. If an author is publishing a related article elsewhere, this fact should be stated.

Copyright. Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyrights, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the U.S.A.
