TO WILL ONE THING: Reflections on Kierkegaard's 'Purity of Heart'

by Jeremy D. B. Walker

LOOKING FOR PHILOSOPHY

by F. E. Sparshott

ALTERNATIVE GOALS IN RELIGION: Love, Freedom, Truth

by George Bosworth Burch

---

TO WILL ONE THING represents the author's personal reflections on several dominant philosophical themes in Kierkegaard's 'Purity of Heart', particularly Kierkegaard's attempt to do the apparently impossible: to reconcile the Platonic and Kantian moral outlooks. The author also discusses some of the concepts and arguments most central to the idea of commitment.

176 pages, $10.00

LOOKING FOR PHILOSOPHY concerns one literary man's attempt to find himself as a philosopher, only to discover that the attempt itself was all that his philosophy could be. "... Everyone who reads poetry or good fiction can read Sparshott. 'Looking for Philosophy' may bend their minds but it's worth the trip."

— Kildare Dobbs, Toronto Star

192 pages, $8.50 cloth; $3.25 paper

ALTERNATIVE GOALS IN RELIGION is an assessment of Christianity, Buddhism and Vedanta which develops the theory that religions, starting from the same point, take divergent roads to different goals. The author believes that the religious quest requires absolute commitment to truth or freedom or love, but argues that the incompatibility of these three alternative absolutes does not preclude their peaceful coexistence.

136 pages, $6.50 cloth; $2.50 paper
