Talk “Like a Man”:
The Linguistic Styles of
Hillary Clinton, 1992–2013
Jennifer J. Jones

KANSAS

Bully Nation How the American Establishment Creates a Bullying Society

Charles Derber and
Yale R. Magrass

“An important example of how intelligent social science can help heal the world. If bullying is rooted in history and structured by institutions, then citizen action can do something about it.”—John Ehrenberg, author of Civil Society: The Critical History of an Idea
280 pages, Cloth $24.95, Ebook $24.95

The White House Vice Presidency The Path to Significance, Mondale to Biden

Joel K. Goldstein

“Goldstein’s study comprehensively traces the development of the Vice Presidency, charting its evolution into an important office. The White House Vice Presidency will become the go-to study on the office for years to come.”—Jeffrey E. Cohen, author of Presidential Leadership in Public Opinion: Causes and Consequences
440 pages, 2 tables, Cloth $34.95, Ebook $34.95

Landmark Law Cases and American Society

Peter Charles Hoffer, N.E.H. Hull, and William James Hull Hoffer, series editors

Discrediting the Red Scare The Cold War Trials of James Kutcher, “The Legless Veteran”

Robert Justin Goldstein

“Convincing, disturbing, and impressive.”—History News Network
240 pages, Cloth $39.95, Paper $19.95, Ebook $19.95

Liberty and Union The Civil War Era and American Constitutionalism

Timothy S. Huebner

“At last, a brilliant, imaginative, and original re-examination which synthesizes the histories of the Civil War, of constitutional and legal development, and of the African American experience. The result is a masterful and beautifully written study that will stand out as a superb contribution.”
—Jonathan Lurie, professor emeritus of history, Rutgers University
544 pages, 41 illustrations, 5 maps, Cloth $34.95, Ebook $34.95

The Fourth Amendment in Flux The Roberts Court, Crime Control, and Digital Privacy

Michael C. Gizzi and
R. Craig Curtis

“A significant contribution to the literature on Fourth Amendment jurisprudence that is written clearly and concisely. It should be read by legal scholars and students, and anyone with an interest in how law enforcement interests collide with the privacy rights of citizens.”—Craig Hemmens, Chair and Professor, Department of Criminal Justice and Criminology, Washington State University
208 pages, Cloth $39.95, Paper $19.95, Ebook $19.95

The Heir Apparent Presidency

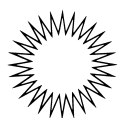

Donald A. Zinman

“Zinman presents a systematic and well-written account of the challenges that face heir apparent presidents. This excellent book explains how these presidents must repair and extend the visions of their predecessors, often at great political cost. Zinman does an able job of illustrating the contradictions of heir apparent leadership, bringing new insights about each of the cases he explores.”—Julia R. Azari, associate professor of political science, Marquette University
216 pages, 5 tables, Cloth $29.95, Ebook $29.95

Disqualifying the High Court Supreme Court Recusal and the Constitution

Louis J. Virelli III

“That recusal buffs will want to have Virelli’s meticulously researched new work on their shelves is a given; but the book will also appeal to anyone who is intrigued by the sparks that can fly at the intersection where the institutional interests of two coequal branches of government collide.”—Richard E. Flamm, author of Judicial Disqualification: Recusal and Disqualification of Judges
296 pages, Cloth $39.95, Ebook $39.95

Philosophy of Perspectives on Politics

Perspectives seeks to nurture a political science public sphere, publicizing important scholarly topics, ideas, and innovations, linking scholarly authors and readers, and promoting broad reflexive discussion among political scientists about the work that we do and why this work matters.

A full-length copy of the journal's editorial philosophy appears in Perspectives on Politics 8(1): 7–10 and also on the web at http://www.apsanet.org/content_44375.cfm.

Submission and Review

For submission guidelines, please see http://www.apsanet.org/content_44360.cfm.

Our editorial team discusses all submissions. Those that seem promising are evaluated by several external reviewers—with full confidentiality on both sides—and then accepted, returned for further revisions, or declined with suggestions of more appropriate venues for publication.

About APSA

Founded in 1903, the American Political Science Association is the leading professional organization for the study of political science and serves more than 13,000 members in over 80 countries. With a range of programs and services for individuals, departments, and institutions, APSA brings together political scientists from all fields of inquiry, regions, and occupational endeavors within and outside academe in order to deepen our understanding of politics, democracy, and citizenship throughout the world.

The direct advancement of knowledge is at the core of APSA activities. We promote scholarly communication in political science through a variety of initiatives including publishing three distinguished journals: American Political Science Review, Perspectives on Politics, and PS: Political Science and Politics.

APSA Task Force Reports Available

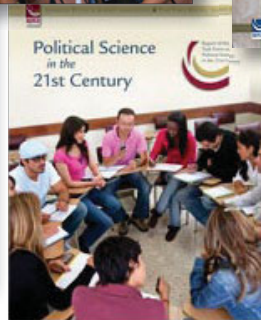

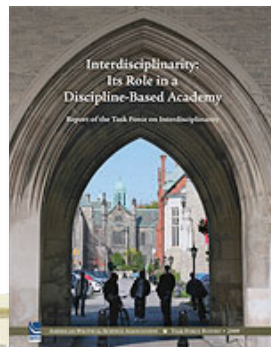

Each APSA task force report applies political science expertise to explore a critical issue with major public policy implications. The reports share political science research with broader society and expand the public presence of political science.

APSA's most recent task force report is "The Double Bind: The Politics of Racial and Class Inequalities in the Americas." The task force investigates the relationship between race and class in producing tangible, political, and social inequalities in the 55 nations of the Americas as well as the political systems in these countries that either foments and/or ameliorates these inequalities. Read it today at http://www.apsanet.org/inequalities!

APSA also offers other task force reports as free PDFs for download as well as select print reports for purchase. You can find these at <http://www.apsanet.org/reports>.
