The AMERICAN JOURNAL OF LAW & MEDICINE was founded in response to the need for a scholarly yet pragmatic publication encompassing all aspects of medicolegal relations. The JOURNAL seeks to provide a broad perspective on our complex health care system, to encourage interdisciplinary communication, and to stimulate creative solutions to the pressing medicolegal problems of our time.

In addition to serving as a forum for analyses and proposals in such areas as health law and policy, legal insurance medicine, and bioethics, the JOURNAL offers a wide variety of pertinent reference materials in these and related areas.

The JOURNAL serves persons from a variety of fields who seek to understand and to influence medicolegal developments: physicians, other health care providers, and health administrators; lawyers; health analysts and planners; researchers and educators in health specialties; judges, legislators, and government administrators; insurance officials; consumer advocates and concerned members of the general public.

The JOURNAL is published in the Spring, Summer, Fall, and Winter by the American Society of Law & Medicine. Editorial support is provided by Boston University School of Law. All decisions concerning the content of the JOURNAL are made by the Editor-in-Chief on behalf of the American Society of Law & Medicine. Statements of fact and opinion are the responsibility of the authors alone, and are not necessarily endorsed by the editors, the Society, or the law school.

The Editors invite the submission of manuscripts on medicolegal topics. For details, see inside back cover. Editorial communications, including original manuscripts and requests for permission to reproduce JOURNAL material, should be addressed to Editor-in-Chief, American Journal of Law & Medicine, 209 Bay State Road, Boston, Massachusetts 02215. Editorial phone: (617) 353-2953.

Business correspondence, including subscription and advertising correspondence, should be addressed to the Executive Director, American Society of Law & Medicine, 520 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, Massachusetts 02215. Business phone: (617) 262-4992.

Missing copies of the JOURNAL will be sent free of charge to subscribers or members of the Society provided that notice of such claim is received at the Society's subscription office within one month of receipt of the next issue published. Requests made after this period will be billed at the regular single issue price of $10.

Subscriptions: $40.00 per year for institutions, and for individuals who are not members of the American Society of Law & Medicine. Foreign subscribers should remit, for a year's subscription, an additional $15.00 for air mail postage or an additional $5.00 for surface rate postage.

Members of the American Society of Law & Medicine receive a free subscription to the JOURNAL as part of their dues ($60.00 for 1979). Information concerning membership is available from the Executive Director, American Society of Law & Medicine, 520 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, Massachusetts 02215. Society phone: (617) 262-4992.

DEDICATION

On behalf both of the Faculty Board of Editors and of the Student Board of Editors, we are pleased to dedicate this issue of the Journal to Dean Richard E. Speidel. After serving as Dean of Boston University School of Law for the past three years, Dean Speidel is returning to teaching.

Dedication of this edition to Dean Speidel is especially appropriate in light of his genuine concern for and action on behalf of the Journal. While at Boston University, he played an instrumental role in the growth and development of the Journal by serving on our Faculty Board of Editors and by securing for us the Law School's very substantial academic and material support. As an active member of the Board of Editors of the Journal, Dean Speidel displayed the same vitality and commitment as he displayed in his capacity as Dean of the Law School; in both capacities, his energetic and skillful work as well as his engaging personality made him admired and respected.

We at the Journal and at the Law School shall miss having Richard Speidel physically present at the Law School. We are grateful for his efforts on our behalf and we wish him well in his new endeavors.
