Many of the articles published in this special issue were presented at a workshop organised under the auspices of the Biosocial Society in July 2013 at the Royal Anthropological Institute and Brunel University, London. We are grateful to the Biosocial Society, Brunel University, Institute of Tropical Medicine, Antwerp, London School of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine, London School of Economics, Liverpool School of Tropical Medicine and the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation for contributing to the costs of the workshop and/or open access publication of the special issue.
