THE WASHINGTON EMBRACE OF BUSINESS

ROGER M. BLOUGH

In this book, the former chairman of the Board of Directors and chief executive officer of the United States Steel Corporation calls upon business to abandon its hopes for less federal regulation, demonstrates how the moment's good politics may have disastrous economic side effects, and proposes the establishment of a "Hoover Commission" to examine Congress's attempts at business management. Benjamin F. Fairless Lectures: Carnegie-Mellon University

THE TREATMENT OF MARKET POWER

Antitrust, Regulation, and Public Enterprise

WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD

In this innovative examination of the problems of power and equity in the American economy, Professor Shepherd first presents a new analysis of market power, reassessing its effects and permanence in the modern economy, and then offers suggestions as to how this power should be treated by public policies.

The Journal of Transport History

Leicester University Press
2 University Road Leicester, England

Established in 1953, this was the first Journal to be devoted to the history of transport as a whole, in all its branches, ancient and modern. It has attained a high reputation for the quality and range of the papers it has published.

A New Series of the Journal was started in 1971, and appears twice yearly, in February and September. Each volume comprises four issues: each issue includes about 64 pages, in size $9\frac{3}{4} \times 7\frac{1}{4}$ inches. The comprehensive character of the First Series has been maintained, and the Journal continues to include book reviews as well as articles. One of its leading features is an annual bibliography of periodical articles in transport studies.

The annual subscription rate is £3.00 (U.S. $8.00); single copies £1.75; post free. Further details of the New Series and a list of back issues of the First Series are available on request. The Editorial Committee welcomes the submission of articles for consideration, which should be sent to the Editor at this address.

ENTERPRISE AND NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

ESSAYS IN CANADIAN BUSINESS AND ECONOMIC HISTORY
Edited by GLENN PORTER AND ROBERT CUFF

These essays deal with a wide range of important topics in the interaction of business, government, and society in Canada. Their value is two-fold. As careful explorations of Canadian history, they provide important insights into the Canadian past. But the issues they treat are still with us, and these essays make important contributions to the continuing debate over such enduring issues as the mainsprings of national identity, the impact of foreign influence on the economy, the search for economic growth, and the optimum relationship between federal and provincial governments in shaping national development.

These essays appeared originally in Business History Review. Contributors: Glenn Porter, Christopher Armstrong, H. V. Nelles, Michael Bliss, T. W. Acheson, Stephen Scheinberg, Patricia E. Roy, Alan Wilson. 138 pp. $2.50/$6.95.
