

Oxford Human Rights

The Law of Human Rights

Richard Clayton & Hugh Tomlinson

- coherent and well-structured analysis provided by three experienced practitioners
- comprehensive coverage of both pre-existing common law and European Convention case-law
- uniquely detailed comparative material from Canada, New Zealand and elsewhere
- discussion of the likely impact upon criminal and civil law more generally

Foreword by Lord Bingham of Cornhill, Preface, Table of Cases and Legislation, Abbreviation, Introduction

Part I: The Background to the Human Rights Act

1. The Constitutional Protection of Human Rights; 2. The Impact of Unincorporated Human Rights Treaties Prior to the Human Rights Treaties

Part II: General Principles under the Human Rights Act

3. The Interpretation and Provisions of the Human Rights Act; 4. The Human Rights Act and Statute Law; 5. The Human Rights Act and Public Authorities

Part III: The Convention Rights (in each case covering: the nature of the right; the right in English law; the law under the Convention; the impact of the Human Rights Act; comparison with the law in Canada, New Zealand and elsewhere)

6. General Principles Under the Convention; 7. Right to Life and the Abolition of the Death Penalty; 8. Right not to be Subject to Torture or Inhuman or Degrading Treatment; 9. Freedom from Slavery, Servitude and Forced Labour; 10. The Right to Liberty; 11. Fair Trial Rights; 12. Right to Respect for Privacy and the Home; 13. The Right to Marry and to Family Life; 14. Freedom of Thought, Conscience and Religion; 15. Freedom of Expression; 16. Freedom of Assembly and Association; 17. Freedom from Discrimination in Relation to Convention Rights; 18. Right to Enjoyment of Possessions; 19. Right to Education; 20. Electoral Rights

Part IV: Remedies and Procedure

21. Remedies under the Human Rights Act; 22 Human Rights Act Procedure; 23 Court of Human Rights Procedure; Appendices; Domestic Bills of Rights

Available through good bookshops. For more information, contact Abbie Leeson

Academic Marketing
Oxford University Press
Oxford OX2 6DP

+44 (0)1865 556767 ext. 4227
24-hour credit card hotline
+44 (0)1536 454534

1,800 pages September 2000
0-19-826223-X £145.00 Hardback 2 volumes

Visit Our New Website on www.oup.co.uk/law

NOTES ON STYLE AND CITATIONS FOR CONTRIBUTORS

The Editors of the Journal, feeling that potential contributors would welcome some guidance as to the stylistic conventions observed in the Journal, have prepared the following notes on styling. If contributors are in any doubt as to questions of style, they could consult previous copies of the Journal of African Law for clarification.

SPELLING

English spelling; use the suffix “-ize” rather than “-ise”.

PUNCTUATION

Double quotes should be used for primary quotations; single for quotes within quotes. Punctuation should not be included unless it is logically part of the quotation.

DATES

29 May, 1987. Not May 29th, 1987; the 29th May, 1987, etc. Dates, whether attached to legislation or otherwise, are preceded and followed by commas: Married Women's Property Act, 1884.

CITATIONS

Standard British methods of citation are followed (please note that these are not the same as American or continental European conventions).

Books

Author (initial and name), title (underlined; this will be printed in italics), place and date of publication (name of publisher not normally needed), page number(s) without p or pp.

[J. Smith, Introduction to African Law, London, 1979, 324.]

All words in the book-title should have capital initials, except minor form-words [to, by, and, a, an, the, etc.]

Articles

Author (as above, with initials on first mention), title (in double quotes, NOT underlined), year of volume, number of volume, title of serial publication (underlined), page number(s) without p. or pp.

[J. Smith, “Torts in English and African legal systems”, (1981) 15 African Law Journal 64.]

Where a journal has its own or a standard mode of citation, this is employed: [1969] J.A.L. 182; (1969) 18 J.C.L.Q. 489.

The title of the journal is underlined (this will be printed in italics).

Please note: the titles of law reports and legislation SHOULD NOT be underlined. These should be printed in plain text, NOT italics.

Cases

Modes of citation of different series in different countries vary so widely that no precise guidance can be given. But: (i) The usual English style is employed wherever appropriate. This is generally in the order: date, volume no., if any, initials of report, page: [1969] 2 All E.R. 678, at 690. (ii) The mode of citation officially adopted by the report itself will be followed in preference to the general English pattern. Please underline the names of the cases: Jones v. Smith.

FOOTNOTES

Should be at the bottom of each page of text and should be numbered serially from 1 to 99 continuously.

Contents

Abstracts		i
Why the judicial annulment of the Constitution of 1999 is imperative for the survival of Nigeria's democracy	Tunde I. Ogowewo	135
South African land reform	D. L. Carey Miller and Anne Pope	167
Judicial review of spending powers: should Kenyan courts entertain taxpayers' actions?	J. M. Migai Akech	195
Criminal justice policies in Commonwealth-Africa: trends and prospects	Simon Coldham	218
The new South African Insider Trading Act: sound law reform or legislative overkill?	Patrick C. Osode	239
Case Note
The jurisdiction of State High Courts in Nigeria	Enefiok Essien	264