

evolutionary trends in plants Vol. 5 (1991)

ENVIRONMENT UPDATE

From 1991 the journal evolutionary trends in plants (etp) extends its coverage to environment and conservation issues by the addition of a new section: ENVIRONMENT UPDATE. Included in each issue at no additional charge, ENVIRONMENT UPDATE will publish news and features examining current issues in the conservation of plants and their habitats, together with topics including biodiversity, endangered species and management strategy.

Subscribing to etp now means that not only will we be bringing you the best new research in evolution, genetics and ecology, but also reporting on the interface between these disciplines and the preservation of our natural resources - making the journal essential reading to plant biologists and conservationists alike.

Articles scheduled for publication in ENVIRONMENT UPDATE

- ★ Madhav Gadgil on developing strategy for conserving biodiversity in India
- ★ Loren Rieseberg on the endangered species programme at the Rancho Santa Ana Botanic Garden, California
- ★ Henning Adersen on conservation issues and plants of the Galapagos Islands
- ★ Kenton Miller on a new Global Biodiversity Conservation Strategy
- ★ Rodrigo Gamez reviews the conservation of biodiversity in Costa Rica
- ★ Kathleen Galvin on people and conservation issues in developing countries

THE CONSERVATION ATLAS
OF TROPICAL FORESTS

ASIA
AND THE PACIFIC

The first complete and authoritative study of the Asia-Pacific region's tropical forests, written under the auspices of the IUCN. A series of essays by over 100 world experts and detailed country-by-country maps compiled by the latest satellite technology.

Part One includes 11 essays covering all aspects of deforestation, and the methods used to control them. Anthropological, social, biological, political and environmental issues are discussed, and backed up with relevant data. Colour photographs illustrate the essays throughout.

Part Two contains a series of 25 colour maps of the 18 countries covered by the Atlas which illustrate different types of forest and existing/proposed conservation areas. Countries are discussed individually, with detailed case studies highlighting problems specific to certain areas. Maps are to scale for easy comparison.

To order your copy of the Atlas, simply fill out the order form and return it to the address below. For further information, or a copy of our colour brochure, please contact: Petra Green, Globe Book Services, Stockton House, 1 Melbourne Place, London WC2B 4LF. Tel. 071 379 4687.

INSTRUCTIONS TO AUTHORS

1. Scope of the journal

Papers may deal with any aspect of tropical ecology, and both those devoted to the results of original research as well as those which form significant reviews will be considered. Generally, papers should not exceed 5000 words of text.

Short Communications, which must not exceed four printed pages in total length, are acceptable. Notes up to one page long will also be considered.

Books for review should be sent to the Editor.

2. Preparation and submission of manuscripts

Detailed instructions for the preparation and submission of Papers, Short Communications and Notes are printed at the back of each part of Volume 1 and Part 1 of each subsequent volume. Potential contributors are advised that careful attention to these instructions will greatly assist the Editor and thus speed the processing of their manuscripts.
