

Association News

Annual Meeting Visiting Foreign National Travel Grant Program

The Association will again have a small program to provide limited assistance to visiting foreign national political scientists and advanced graduate students currently in the United States wishing to attend the 1981 APSA Annual Meeting in New York City. For details on the program and application forms write to the American Political Science Association, 1527 New Hampshire Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

Congressional Fellowship Program

The Association has announced eight winners in the national competition for the 1981-82 Congressional Fellowship Program.

The winners—four political scientists and four journalists—will come to the Nation's Capital for a year of full-time work in the offices of Senators and members of the House of Representatives.

Sponsored by the Association since 1953, the purpose of the Congressional Fellowship Program is to give outstanding young academicians and political journalists an opportunity to further their knowledge of the national legislative process. Other participants in the 1981-82 Congressional Fellowship Program, Asian Fellows, Harkness Fellows, Anthropol-logical Fellows, Johnson Health Policy Fellows, and Federal Service Fellows, will be named later in the year.

The Congressional Fellows are scheduled to arrive here in early November for a three-week orientation period. They will begin working in congressional offices of their choice about December 1, 1981. The Program ends August 15, 1982.

The eight winners were selected on the basis of superior academic training and experience.

1981-82 Congressional Fellows

Political Scientists

Guy C. Colarulli, assistant professor, University of Hartford

Beth C. Fuchs, lecturer, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

James F. Horney, assistant professor, Northwestern University

David C. Kozak, associate professor, United States Air Force Academy

Journalists

Marsha E. Ackermann, reporter, Buffalo Courier-Express

Donald I. Hammonds, reporter, St. Louis Globe-Democrat

Kirk Stone, political writer, Journal-Gazette (Indiana)

Marilyn W. Thompson, reporter, The Columbia Record

Frank J. Munger, professor of political science and Director of the Institute for Research in Social Science, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and a member of the Association's Council, died on April 19. A memorial will be published in the Summer PS.