George Washington Williams

A Biography

JOHN HOPE FRANKLIN

George Washington Williams is the classic story of a "lost" American – denied political appointment, victim of racist power struggles and, until this book, overlooked by historians. George Washington Williams (1849-1891) pursued a remarkable career. At the age of fourteen he ran away from home to enlist in the Union Army and in just five years made the leap from semi-literate soldier to polished, urbane clergyman. He went on to produce the first comprehensive history of the Negro people in America and his extensive tour of the Belgian Congo (1890) resulted in his "Open Letter to King Leopold" exposing the rape of Africa by Europeans and Americans. Along the way, Williams rubbed shoulders with such eminent men as Presidents Hayes, Cleveland and Harrison, George Washington Cable and Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

Discrimination, Jobs and Politics

The Struggle for Equal Employment Opportunity in the United States

Since the New Deal

PAUL BURSTEIN

In this impressive, and at points, controversial, account of the fight against job discrimination in the United States, Paul Burstein poses compelling questions. Why did Congress adopt EEO Legislation in the Sixties and Seventies? Has that legislation made a difference to the people it was intended to help? And what does the struggle for equal employment tell us about the U.S. political system?

The Politics of School Reform, 1870-1940

PAUL E. PETERSON

Was school reform in the decades following the Civil War an upper-middle-class effort to maintain control of the schools? Was public education simply a vehicle used by Protestant elites to impose their cultural ideas upon recalcitrant immigrants? In The Politics of School Reform Paul E. Peterson challenges such standard revisionist interpretations of American educational history.

The United States and Mexico

JOSEFINA ZORAIDA VAZQUEZ & LORENZO MEYER

At a time when Mexico's role in American foreign policy is coming under close scrutiny the authors of this book offer unique insights into the development of Mexican-United States relations. They recreate, from a distinctly Mexican perspective, the story of how one country's politics, economy and culture have been influenced by its neighbour.

The Jesse Jackson Phenomenon

The Crisis of Purpose in Afro-American Politics

ADOLPH L. REED, Jr.

In the first book to analyse Jesse Jackson's 1984 campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination, Adolph Reed shows that Jackson's candidacy revealed deep divisions within the black political community. He argues that Jackson hurt rather than helped the development of a viable black political movement and offers specific strategies for more effective black political action in the future. Cloth £15.00 Paper £4.95

Stabilizing an Unstable Economy

HYMAN P. MINSKY

A senior economist provides a pathbreaking financial theory of investment to explain the unstable behaviour of the American economy and offers recommendations for stabilizing it at high employment while maintaining a stable price level. A Twentieth Century Fund Report £25.00

Distributing Risk - Insurance, Legal Theory, and Public Policy

KENNETH S. ABRAHAM

In this pioneering book, Abraham examines the theoretical foundations and public policy implications of modern American insurance law, exploring the ways in which insurance can help to reconcile the competing values of individual responsibility and collective risk sharing at the heart of the American political system. £25.00

Lawyers for Hire - Salaried Professionals at Work

EVE SPANGLER

Drawing on in-depth interviews with over a hundred staff attorneys in four institutional settings in the New England area, Eve Spangler presents an absorbing analysis of lawyers as employees, focusing on their treatment by and response to management. £25.00

Wallace Stevens

The Poetics of Modernism

Edited by ALBERT GELPI

This collection of essays by seven renowned critics presents different views of Wallace Stevens' place in the evolution of Modernist poetry by tracing both the development of Modernist poetics and Stevens' place in it. The essays range from discussions of the poet's relation to his contemporaries such as Ezra Pound, William Carlos Williams and Marianne Moore to his influence on current writers such as John Ashbery and Robert Duncan. 176 pp. 0 521 30201 3 £19.50 net

The Sacred Game

Provincialism and Frontier Consciousness in American Literature
16301860

ALBERT VON FRANK

Ranging from Anne Bradstreet in the mid-seventeenth century to Emerson and Margaret Fuller in the mid-nineteenth, this book is a study of provincialism in the American literary imagination. The author demonstrates that Western settlers striving to maintain a familiar life were actually conserving personal identity, and also transmitting European culture to the West.

- 1 All contributions and editorial correspondence should be sent to: The Editor, Journal of American Studies, School of English and American Studies, University of East Anglia, Norwich NR4 7TJ, England.
- 2 Articles should generally contain about 5,000 words. Longer or shorter articles, or articles in two or more parts, may be accepted by arrangement with the Editors.
- 3 Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, and is not being considered for publication elsewhere.
- 4 Contributions should be clearly typed in double spacing (including footnotes), preferably on A4 paper, with a wide left-hand margin. Diagrams, maps and illustrations may be included.
- 5 Spelling may conform either to British or American usage, providing it is consistent throughout.
- 6 Footnotes should be used sparingly: in general, to give sources of direct quotations, references to main authorities on disputable questions, and evidence relied on for a new or unusual conclusion. They should be numbered consecutively, and may most conveniently be placed, in double spacing, at the end of the article.
- 7 For guidance on matters of style, contributors should refer either to the MLA Handbook (1977), or to the Journal of American Studies Style Notes, copies of which may be obtained from the Editors.
- 8 Contributors should keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
- 9 Notes intended for the Editors or Printer should be on a separate sheet.
- 10 First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor, by airmail where necessary, within three days of receiving them.
- 11 Corrections should be kept to an absolute minimum. They should be confined to errors of the typist or printer unless the Editor authorizes otherwise.
- 12 Contributors of articles and review essays receive 25 free offprints. Extra copies may be ordered according to a scale of charges.
- 13 Contributors need not be members of the British Association for American Studies. Unsolicited typescripts can only be returned to overseas contributors who send International Reply Coupons (not postage stamps).
- 14 Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyright, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.
