

News and Notes

New Appointments

Samuel H. Beer, Thomas P. O'Neill, Jr. Professor of American Politics, Boston College; formerly Eaton Professor of the Science of Government, Harvard University.

Anne O'Meara Bowman, assistant professor, University of South Carolina; formerly of Texas A&M.

C. Anthony Broh, assistant professor, Rutgers University; formerly of Columbia University.

T. R. Carr, assistant professor, University of Arkansas, Fayetteville; formerly at Texas Tech University.

Susan J. Carroll, assistant professor, Eagleton Institute, Rutgers University; formerly of George Washington University.

Jimmy D. Case, assistant professor, Sul Ross State University, Texas.

Donald K. Crone, assistant professor, James Madison College, Michigan State University; formerly of the University of British Columbia.

Alan Chartocck is the first individual to hold a joint appointment from two SUNY campuses. While he will continue to serve as professor of political science at the State University College at New Paltz, he will also become professor of rhetoric and communications at the State University of New York at Albany.

Mark R. Daniels, assistant professor, University of Connecticut; formerly of Oklahoma State University.

Steven P. Erie, assistant professor, University of California, San Diego; formerly SUNY-Albany.

Larry German, assistant professor, Hanover College.

David F. Gordon, assistant professor, James Madison College, Michigan State University; formerly of the University of Michigan.

Michael M. Gunter, full professor, Tennessee Tech University.

John David Harman, assistant professor, St. John Fisher College, Rochester, New York.

William A. Hazleton, assistant professor, Miami University, Oxford, Ohio; formerly a visiting appointment at Miami University.

Richard K. Herrmann, assistant professor, Ohio State University.

Milton Heumann, professor of political science, Rutgers University; formerly of the University of Michigan.

Roger E. Kanet, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, has been appointed an associate of the Center for Advanced Study of the University of Illinois for 1981-82, where he will be engaged in full-time research on a project dealing with Soviet and East European relations with Africa.

David R. Mares, acting assistant professor, University of California, San Diego; formerly El Colegio de Mexico.

Connie Mauney, assistant professor, David Lipscomb College.

Douglass Nelson, assistant professor, Rutgers University; formerly with the World Bank.

Jeremiah M. Riemer, instructor, Oberlin College.

Shawn Rosenberg, assistant professor, University of California, Irvine; formerly Yale University.

Ford Runge, assistant professor, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Carole Uhlaner, assistant professor, University of California, Irvine; formerly assistant professor, Northwestern University.

R. Kent Weaver, instructor, Ohio State University.

Bradford Wilson, assistant professor, California State College at San Bernardino.

Clifford J. Wirth, assistant professor, University of New Hampshire.

Edward J. Woodhouse, assistant professor, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute; formerly College of William & Mary.

Shawky Zeidan, assistant professor, Fort Lewis College, Durango, Colorado.

Activities

Philip Abbott, professor, Wayne State University, is a recipient of a Board of Governors Faculty Recognition Award for 1981 for distinguished scholarly achievement during the past year.

Earl M. Baker, Temple University and a Commissioner of Chester County, Pennsylvania, has been elected to the Board of Directors of the National Association of Counties.

Ira Carmen, associate professor at the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, will be in residence in fall 1981 at Yale. He was selected to be a visiting scholar and will be working in the Law and Medicine Program, studying the relationship between scientific research and legal norms.

Thomas E. Cronin, Colorado College, has been appointed to the Democratic Party's Commission on the Presidential Nominating Process. He has also been elected a member of the Board of Trustees of the Houston-based American Leadership Forum.

Eric Davis, assistant professor, Rutgers University, will be on leave at the Hoover Institution, Stanford University, 1981-82.

Raymond Duvall, professor, University of Minnesota, has received a Council on Foreign Relations International Affairs Fellowship. He expects to be working with the World Bank during the academic year 1981-82.

Roy Fleming, assistant professor, Wayne State University, is a recipient of the Pro-bus Club Award in the Humanities and Social Sciences for 1981 for outstanding scholarship by a young scholar that is of public relevance and significance.

The Gerald R. Ford Library on the North Campus of the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor was dedicated on April 27, 1981. It will be available for extensive research in September, 1981. Samuel H. Barnes and Harold K. Jacobson served on the five-member Building Committee. George Grassmuck chaired the Dedication Committee and its Arrangements Committee.

W. Robert Gump, Miami University, served as a consultant to the Ohio Development Financing Commission, and co-authored a study report on the impact of industrial revenue bonds on job generation and economic development. He also is serving as chair of the Faculty Advisory Committee to the Chancellor of the Ohio Board of Regents, and as chair of the Miami University Faculty Conference. Gump recently completed a term as chair of the Oxford City Planning Commission.

Ahmad Haffar, State University College, New Paltz, New York, will spend a second year with the Department of Political and Administrative Sciences, University of Riyadh, Saudi Arabia.

Richard S. Hillman, St. John Fisher College, Rochester, New York, is the recipient of a National Endowment for the Humanities grant to participate in a seminar on "Social and Political Change in Twentieth Century Latin America" at the University of Washington, Seattle, June 22-August 14, 1981.

William D. Jackson, Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, presented papers and seminars on arms control topics in Romania, West Germany, and East Germany under the sponsorship of the U.S. Department of State and International Communication Agency. Professor Jackson will be on research assignment for the spring semester, 1981-82.

Roger E. Kanet, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, received The Campus Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching awarded in spring 1981. He is the General Editor of English-Language Publications for the Second World Congress for Soviet and East European Studies, held in Garmisch-Partenkirchen, in fall 1980. Approximately 12 volumes of selected papers will be published by Pergamon Press and Berkeley Slavic Specialties.

News and Notes

John Kincaid, assistant professor, North Texas State University, has received the best paper award for his paper entitled "Liberal Roots of Our Ecologic Crisis and Illiberal Tensions of the New Ecologic Ethic" presented at the 1980 Annual Meeting of the Southwestern Political Science Association.

Donald P. Kommers, professor of government and law and director of the Law School's Center for Civil and Human Rights, has been awarded a Rockefeller Foundation Humanities Fellowship and a grant from West Germany's Alexander von Humboldt Foundation. The project to be funded, "Liberty, Equality, and Fraternity in German and American Constitutional Law: The Quest for a Public Philosophy," will be carried out in Germany and the U.S. Kommers will be a guest of the Max Planck Institute of Foreign and Public Law at Heidelberg University during the winter semester of 1981 and a visiting fellow at Princeton's Center of International Studies during 1982.

Nancy Kopp, a political scientist and member of the Maryland General Assembly, has been selected as one of 12 young political leaders from across the country to participate in a study tour of the Middle East. Sponsored by the non-partisan American Council of Young Political Leaders, the tour group will travel this month to Saudi Arabia, Jordan, Israel and Egypt and engage in discussions with leaders in each country on a broad spectrum of issues of mutual concern.

David S. McLellan, Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, spent the second half of the spring semester, 1980-81, as a visiting fellow at Clare Hall, Cambridge University, England.

Roy E. Miller, associate professor, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, and David A. Bositis, assistant professor, George Washington University, are recipients of the Pi Sigma Alpha Award for the best paper presented at the 1980 annual meeting of the Southwestern Political Science Association for their paper entitled "Social Psychological Characteristics and Telephone Interviewer Effectiveness."

Professor Gary Orfield, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, has been appointed as a guest scholar at the Brookings Institution, the Governmental Studies Program, for the period July, 1981-August, 1982. During his affiliation with the Institution, he will be working on a study entitled "Housing, Urban Policy and Metropolitan Racial Patterns."

Gerald M. Pomper, professor, Rutgers University, will be on leave at Nuffield College, Oxford, for 1981-82.

Nathaniel S. Preston, University Professor Emeritus, The American University, received his J.D. degree summa cum laude from the Washington College of Law, The American University. Professor Preston will join the Washington, D.C. firm of Wald, Harkrader & Ross in September, as an associate.

William B. Rogers, professor of political science, State University College at Cortland, New York, has been elected President of the State University of New York Faculty Senate for a two-year term commencing July 1, 1981. The University Faculty Senate is the faculty governance body for the 35 state-operated campuses in the SUNY system.

George K. Romoser, University of New Hampshire, was a delegate to the 3rd Conference of the International Council on the Future of the University in Lisbon, Portugal, April 1981.

Richard H. Rosswurm, Marshall University, is on leave of absence beginning fall 1981 at the University of Cincinnati College of Law as a fellow in the Urban Morgan Institute for Human Rights. While focusing on human rights law, he will also pursue the usual J.D. curriculum.

Philip A. Russo, Jr., Miami University, served as a consultant to the Ohio Development Financing Commission, and co-authored a study report on the impact of industrial revenue bonds on job generation and economic development. He will be on research assignment for the spring semester, 1981-82.

Steven R. Schlesinger, The Catholic University of America, will be on leave in the fall semester, 1981; he has been awarded an Earhart Foundation research grant to study the factual and evidentiary underpinnings of selected decisions of the United States Supreme Court. He has also been appointed to a consultantship with the minority of the Subcommittee on the Constitution of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Sarah Slavin Schramm is now Sarah Slavin. Correspondence to her and for Women & Politics, of which she is the Managing Editor, should be addressed to: Department of Economics and Political Science, State University College at Buffalo, 1300 Elmwood Avenue, Buffalo, New York 14222.

Shawky S. Zeidan spent the spring 1981 term traveling around the world and teaching political science. Among the countries visited: Brazil, Venezuela, Kenya, India, South Africa, Sri Lanka, Japan and Taiwan.

Dina Zinnes, Charles Merriam Professor, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, and Philip Schrodtt, Northwestern University, have received a two-year grant from the National Science Foundation, to research a project entitled "Collaborative Research on Modeling International Interactions." The project will be funded for $75,127.

Visiting and Temporary Appointments

Walter Arnold, visiting assistant professor, Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, 1981-82.

Harold W. Chase, professor at the University of Minnesota, will be visiting professor at the University of California, San Diego, winter quarter 1982.

Roger A. Coate, visiting assistant professor, University of South Carolina, 1981-82.

Michael Crozier, Centre de Sociologie des Organisations, Paris, France, will be a visiting professor at the University of California, Irvine, during winter 1982.

Henry W. Ehrmann, professor, Dartmouth College, will be visiting professor at the University of California, San Diego, winter quarter 1982.

Richard I. Hofferbert, professor of political science, and Director, Center for Social Analysis at SUNY-Binghamton, has been appointed visiting professor for 1981-82 at Bogacizi University in Istanbul, Turkey. Under sponsorship of the OECD, he will be teaching graduate seminars and assisting in the development of a new graduate program in Public Policy and Public Management.

Kay Lawson, visiting professor, Rutgers University, spring semester, 1982.

Jennie K. Lincoln, visiting assistant professor, Miami University, Oxford, Ohio 1981-82.

Joel C. Moses, associate professor, Iowa State University, will be visiting associate professor at the University of California, San Diego, winter and spring quarters, 1982.

Dale A. Newman, professor of political science at the University of Missouri-Kansas City, has been designated academic associate in the office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs for the University of Missouri system for the year beginning September 1, 1981.

David M. O'Brien, assistant professor, Woodrow Wilson Department of Government and Foreign Affairs, University of Virginia, has been awarded a post-doctoral visiting fellowship at the Russell Sage Foundation for 1981-82.

Paul Roazen, professor, York University, will be visiting professor at the University of California, San Diego, spring quarter 1982.

Richard E. Sargent, visiting assistant professor, State University College, New Paltz, New York.

Jean Edward Smith, professor, University of Toronto, will be visiting professor at the University of California, San Diego, spring quarter 1982.

Michael P. Smith, professor, Tulane University, will be visiting professor at the Graduate School of Public Policy, University of California, Berkeley, during fall, 1981. In the spring, 1982, he will be a visiting scholar at King's College, Cambridge.

Gunnar Wikstrom, Jr., professor of political science, Buena Vista College, has received a staff assignment from the College to work at the Taipei Language Institute in Taiwan for a six-month period, beginning June 28, 1981. His responsibilities, along with five students, is to teach conversational English and to learn Mandarin Chinese. In addition, he is responsible for setting up future faculty-student language-cultural exchange programs on behalf of Buena Vista College. As Director of this newly initiated program, he will be establishing and developing opportunities for future exchanges.

Richard Franklin Winter, associate professor, Dartmouth College, will be visiting associate professor at the University of California, San Diego, fall quarter 1981.

Administrative Appointments

Thomas J. Bellows, Director, Division of Social Sciences, College of Humanities and Social Sciences, The University of Texas at San Antonio.

Peter W. Colby, assistant professor, SUNY-Binghamton, has been appointed Acting Director of the SUNY-Binghamton Center for Social Analysis for 1981-82.

Ron Downing, professor and chairperson, to Director, Michigan Metropolitan Information Center and professor of political science.

Charles Elder, associate professor, Wayne State University, Detroit, Michigan, named chief faculty negotiator for AAUP contract negotiations.

H. Gaylon Greenhill, professor of political science, Vice Chancellor and Dean of Faculties at University of Wisconsin-Whitewater.

Willis D. Hawley, formerly of Duke University, has been appointed Dean of Peabody College of Vanderbilt University and professor of education and political science.

Richard S. Hillman, Chairman, Department of Political Science, St. John Fisher College.

George A. James, President of Community Research and Management Incorporated, Arlington, Wisconsin, joined the Department of Political Science and Legal Studies at Murray State University in August 1981 as associate professor of political science and the first Director of the Master of Public Administration Program.

Bryan Jones, professor to chairperson of Department of Political Science at Wayne State University, Detroit, Michigan.

Charles W. Kegley, chairman, Department of Government and International Studies, University of South Carolina.

Paul Sunik Kim, chairman, Department of Political Science, Gannon University, Erie, Pennsylvania.

James A. Kuhlman, Director and Special Assistant to President Holderman for International Projects, James F. Byrnes International Center, University of South Carolina.

Frederick P. Lewis has been elected chair of the Department of History and Political Science, University of Lowell, Lowell, Massachusetts.

Carl Metz, chairman, Department of Political Science, Hanover College.

Jeffrey Milstein, Director of Research, Porter, Navelli Associates Inc., Washington, D.C.

Steven M. Neuse, Director of the MPA Program, University of Arkansas, Fayetteville; formerly at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville.

John M. Ostheimer, chairman, Department of Political Science, Northern Arizona University, Flagstaff, Arizona.

Peter J. Pizor has assumed the position of chairman of the Humanities and Social Science Division at Indiana University East.

Stephen A. Salmore, chairman, Department of Political Science. The departments of Political Science at Douglass College, Livingston College, Rutgers College, and University College, all on the New Brunswick campus of Rutgers, have been reorganized into a single department which is part of the newly created Faculty of Arts and Sciences.

Peter A. Schocket, director, Graduate Program in Public Administration, Xavier University; formerly of University of Cincinnati.

Michael P. Smith, director, Program for Urban and Regional Research, Center for Public Policy Studies, Tulane University.

Richard Spillane, S.J., chairman, Department of Political Science, Creighton University.

Ron Steinberg, reappointed chairman, Department of Political Science, State University College, New Paltz, New York.

Kenneth L. Wise, Program Director, International Relations, Creighton University.

Jane Shapiro Zacek, formerly professor at Manhattanville College and visiting professor at The National War College, has become Executive Assistant to the Director, Governor's Office of Employee Relations, New York State, Albany, New York.

Promotions

Myron Aronoff, professor, Rutgers University.

Barbara Bardes, associate professor, Loyola University of Chicago.

P. Dennis Bathory, associate professor, Rutgers University.

Robert Benedict, associate professor, University of Utah.

Gerald Benjamin, professor, State University College, New Paltz, New York.

Francis A. Boyle, associate professor with tenure, University of Illinois College of Law in Champaign.

Richard S. Hillman, professor, St. John Fisher College.

William D. Jackson, professor, Miami University, Oxford, Ohio.

Bruce Jacobs, associate professor, University of Rochester.

John M. Ostheimer, professor, Northern Arizona University.

Robert A. Poirier, associate professor, Northern Arizona University.

Larry M. Preston, associate professor, Northern Arizona University.

Leonard G. Ritt, professor, Northern Arizona University.

Gordon B. Smith, associate professor, University of South Carolina.

D. Grier Stephenson, Jr., full professor, Franklin and Marshall College.

Gertrude A. Steuernagel, associate professor, Kent State University, Kent, Ohio.

Donley T. Studlar, associate professor with tenure, Centre College of Kentucky.

Jorge Tapia-Videla, full professor of political science, Wayne State University, Detroit, Michigan.

Marcia Wicker Taylor, associate professor, University of South Carolina.

Deborah Toler, assistant professor, Ohio State University.

Harvey Waterman, associate professor, Rutgers University.

Thomas C. Wiegale, professor, Northern Illinois University.

James L. Wiser, professor, Loyola University of Chicago.

Jean Yarbrough, associate professor, Loyola University of Chicago.

Retirements

Paul H. Anderson, professor and former chairman of political science, Duquesne University.

Enrique Baloyra, professor, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Ardath Burks, professor, Rutgers University.

S. Grover Rich, professor, University of Utah.

James Watson, professor, Rutgers University.

Correction

Elizabeth Doherty was listed in the Spring PS in the Announcement of Awards section for a National Science Foundation Graduate Fellowship as a graduate of Yale University instead of the correct affiliation, Mount Holyoke College. PS regrets the error.