

Fifty years of research and service has made Rafter Radiocarbon the leader in radiocarbon analytical techniques. We provide both Accelerator Mass Spectrometry and liquid scintillation services to a range of disciplines.

Analytical Services

Our clients enjoy superior consultative services, competitive prices, rapid turnaround times on analysis, and results backed by continuing, world class research in the geochemistry of a wide variety of sample types.

Multi-disciplinary Team

Client Service

Recent work undertaken by our team of multi-disciplinary scientists includes:

Established History

- Analysis of organic materials associated with paleoseismic activity
- Tracer studies in biological research
- Improving the analysis of bone, pollen, and marine shell
- Refining paleodietary studies
- Water and sediment analysis in oceanographic research

On-line Service

The Rafter Laboratories also offer a wide range of associated analytical services including, stable isotopes ($\delta^{13}\text{C}$, $\delta^{15}\text{N}$, $\delta^{18}\text{O}$) amino acid profiling, PIXE/PIGME, x-ray diffraction, petrology and palynology.

Notes for Contributors

Antiquity* aims to report new archaeological research, methods and issues of international significance in plain language to a broad academic and professional readership.

We ask prospective authors to consult previous issues of the journal and the full Notes for Contributors on our website at <http://antiquity.ac.uk/contnotes.html>.

Submissions for publication in the JOURNAL should be sent with a disc and hard copy to The Editor, Antiquity, King's Manor, York, YO1 7EP, UK, or by e-mail to editor@antiquity.ac.uk.

Text should be submitted in English in MS Word 2000 or a compatible program and have a maximum length of 5000 words. Please indicate the corresponding author. References should be in the Harvard format (Antiquity does not use footnotes or end-notes). For initial consideration, figures may be embedded in the Word file or submitted as low-resolution jpeg files, but please note our publication image requirements.

Papers submitted to the journal are peer-reviewed by two or more referees. The Editor aims to make a decision on whether the paper is to be accepted within four to six months of receipt.

Authors whose papers are declined are notified via e-mail by the editor, and we can normally pass on part or all of the referees' reports to assist feedback.

Authors whose papers are accepted may be asked to send an updated, revised text and will need to send figures of publication quality. These should be sent as hard copy photographs or drawings or as TIFF files at 600 dpi (colour or monochrome photographs) and EPS files at 1200 dpi (line drawings) on a CD-ROM or Zip disk. Colour images should be prepared in CMYK; RGB should not be used. Authors may be asked if we can mount long tables and other data on our website.

Authors will be asked to contribute towards the cost of publishing colour images. The charge is £100 per page with colour images.

Authors receive a free PDF of their paper, and may order offprints at a charge of £0.75 each (orders must be for 25 offprints or multiples thereof).

Submissions for publication in the PROJECT GALLERY on the website (<http://antiquity.ac.uk/ProjGall/>) should be e-mailed to editor@antiquity.ac.uk as attachments. Text should be in MS Word and have a maximum length of 1000 words. Figures (colour or monochrome, maximum of 6 pictures) should be jpeg files at 72 dpi. Submissions for the Project Gallery are not peer-reviewed but the Editor may request changes before a submission is accepted. Authors will be asked to check their page before it goes live online.

BOOKS FOR REVIEW

We welcome books for review on archaeology and associated research. Please send books to the Reviews Editor, Dr Madeleine Hummler, at Antiquity, King's Manor, York YO1 7EP, UK. E-mail: mrh106@york.ac.uk.

New titles from Thames & Hudson

The Megalithic Monuments of Britain and Ireland

Chris Scarre

From Stonehenge to Newgrange, one of the richest arrays of megalithic monuments in Europe is found in Britain and Ireland. Using massive stones, timber posts and mounds of earth or chalk, the people of these islands built great monuments from the beginning of the Neolithic some 6000 years ago down into the Bronze Age. Tombs, sanctuaries, places of cult and memory: these monuments had numerous functions in prehistoric societies. Transforming the landscape, such grand structures must have represented for their communities a particular way of responding to changing social and symbolic needs, whether processing the dead, gathering for ceremonies or embellishing locations that were of sacred significance.

Organized by geographical area, this authoritative overview is an invaluable guide to the history and social context of these monuments, and will be relished by scholar and traveller alike.

Ancient Rome on Five Denarii a Day

Philip Matyszak

In this entertaining book, Philip Matyszak, author of The Enemies of Rome and Sons of Caesar, travels through time to AD 200 to provide all the information you would need for a visit to Rome at the pinnacle of its greatness. This imaginative travellers' guide to the ancient city has used the writings of those who actually lived there and the latest archaeological evidence to reconstruct the city. A series of walks takes in all the sights, from the opulence of the imperial palace on the Palatine hill through the bustle of the Forum to the grandeur of the Pantheon and the Temple of Jupiter.

This witty and accessible volume is guaranteed to engage and entrance all students of the classical world, and will appeal to anyone who has ever wondered what it would have been like to visit the greatest city of ancient times.
