

JOURNAL
OF THE
INSTITUTE OF ACTUARIES
STUDENTS' SOCIETY

VOLUME VII, PART 2

October 1947

The business of the intelligent student is not to acquire knowledge—this is only the means to an end—his business properly is to acquire the power of knowing, to cultivate his perceptive and discriminative faculties, to learn to analyse the subjects before him, to make himself ready in weighing arguments, and in general well to perform that complex function of the human mind which we call thinking.
