acta sociologica

JOURNAL OF THE SCANDINAVIAN SOCIOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION

Acta Sociologica is published quarterly by Universitetsforlaget and the Scandinavian Sociological Association. The purpose of the journal is to present research results of international standard within the fields of sociology and societal research. Articles are normally written by Scandinavian sociologists, but contributions from sociologists outside Scandinavia are also welcome.

The articles differ in scope and theoretical starting point and represent a variety of issues within the field of sociology.

UNIVERSITETSFORLAGET

POLICY AND POLITICS

MASTER OF PUBLIC POLICY STUDIES

The course is part-time only and study extends over two years. It is aimed at people currently working in central and local government, the NHS and other public sector agencies. The course comprises a core course in policy analysis; a long essay based on special subject work from a list of policy options, including Employment, Housing, Health and Social Services; and a project. Attendance is for 1½ days per fortnight, and four one-week residential blocks in the two years.

Further details can be obtained from Michael Hill (Senior Lecturer) or Judith Tyler (Administrative Assistant) at the School.

POLICY AND POLITICS

POLICY AND POLITICS is a leading British journal in the field of public policy studies. Published quarterly by the School for Advanced Urban Studies, Policy and Politics is committed to advancing understanding of the substance and the process of policy through interdisciplinary work accessible to both academics and practitioners.

Each issue of the journal includes five main articles, together with about 80 abstracts of relevant articles or papers from a wide range of current publications.

Volume 12 (1984): January, April, July, October.

£34.00 institutions, £12.50 individuals.
Single issues £9.00 (individuals £4.50).

For further information please contact Julie Platt, Editorial Assistant, School for Advanced Urban Studies, Rodney Lodge, Grange Road, Bristol BS8 4EA. Tel. (0272) 741117.

Notes for Contributors

All contributions and correspondence should be sent to: Malcolm L. Johnson, The Editor, Ageing and Society, Policy Studies Institute, 1–2 Castle Lane, London SW1E 6DR, England. All books for review should be sent to: Peter Coleman, Dept of Social Work Studies, University of Southampton, Southampton SO9 5NH, England.

General approach

Authors are asked to bear in mind the multi-disciplinary and international nature of the readership when writing their contribution. In particular, care should be taken to draw out the implications of the analysis for readers in other fields, other countries, and other disciplines. Jargon specific to a particular discipline or country should be avoided, and definitions should be provided for words which might be unfamiliar to some readers.

Articles should generally contain between 5,000 and 10,000 words, although longer or shorter articles may be accepted by arrangement with the Editor.

Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, and is not being considered for publication elsewhere. If an author is publishing a related article elsewhere, this fact should be stated. Contributors of articles or reviews accepted for publication will be asked to assign copyright, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press.

Preparation of manuscript

Authors of papers should send three copies of their article and keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.

Contributions (articles, review articles, reviews) should be clearly typed on one side of the paper only using a conventional size of paper, preferably A4. All material should be typed double-spaced (including endnotes) with generous margins.

The title of the article and the author's name and affiliation should be typed on a separate page at the beginning of the article. The title only should appear on the next page, which should contain an abstract of between one and two hundred words.

Style

References to books and articles should be numbered consecutively throughout the text and typed separately in number order at the end of the article. Bibliographic citations should include the following details: in the case of books, the author or authors, the full title, publisher, place of publication and date; in the case of articles, the author or authors, the title and full name of the journal, volume, year and page reference (first and last page). References should be typed using the following style.

1. Hendricks, J. and Hendricks, C. D. Aging in Mass Society: Myths and Realities. Winthrop Publishers, Cambridge, Mass., first edition 1977, second edition, 1981.
2. Walker, A. The social creation of poverty and dependency in old age. Journal of Social Policy, 9 (1980), 49–75.

Footnotes should be avoided if at all possible; when they must occur they should be numbered along with the references.

Tables and figures should be clearly laid out, numbered consecutively, and designed to fit on a page 234mm × 155mm. Vertical lines between columns should be omitted, and horizontal lines limited to the top and bottom of the table, with an additional one below the column headings. Totals and percentages should be labelled, and units identified. Every table or figure should have a title and at least one reference in the text to indicate its location.

Proofreading of the manuscript

First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor by airmail where appropriate, within seven days of receiving them. The master proof will always be sent direct to the Editor by the printer; contributors will receive duplicates.

Authors will receive 25 offprints of their article free of charge; additional copies may be purchased if ordered at proof stage.
