The Most Valuable Asset of the Reich

A History of the German National Railway Volume 2, 1933-1945

ALFRED C. MIERZEJEWSKI

"Building upon the superbly crafted first volume in this original and important study, Mierzejewski details the essential—indeed indispensable—role the Deutsche Reichsbahn assumed in each phase and every aspect of the Hitlerian agenda."—Charles W. Sydnor Jr., author of Soldiers of Destruction
280 pp. $45.00 cloth

Also Available:
Volume 1, 1920-1932

"Remarkable. . . based on a stunning mastery of the German, as well as foreign, archival sources."—Harold James, Princeton University
512 pp. $85.00 cloth

Captive University

The Sovietization of East German, Czech, and Polish Higher Education, 1945-1956

JOHN CONNELLY

"Superb. . . Connelly explores the dynamics of East European Stalinism as does no other author. The research is stunning; the writing is clear and engaging; the comparative method works beautifully. The book is a 'must' for every scholar and student in the field."—Norman M. Naimark, Stanford University 456 pp. $55.00 cloth / $24.95 paper

Inventing the Criminal

A History of German Criminology, 1880-1945

RICHARD F. WETZEL

"A provocative but convincing history of the fate of biological determinism in Germany—a story which turns out to be much more complicated than we thought. . . . If Wetzell is right . . . we will need to revise substantially our picture of the continuities and discontinuities in the history of German science."—Suzanne Marchand, Louisiana State University
368 pp. $39.95 cloth

Dealing with the Devil

East Germany, Détente, and Ostpolitik, 1969-1973

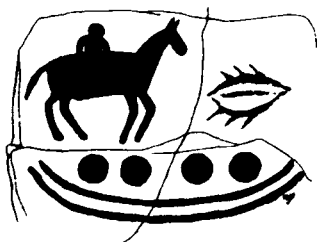

M. E. SAROTTE

"Deepens our knowledge and understanding of one of the pivotal episodes of the Cold War. . . . No other book gives an authoritative account of how it looked from East Berlin. Written with both economy and verve, [this book] ensures that the 'other Germans' of the period can never again be treated as faceless Soviet puppets."—Ernest May, Harvard University

Neighbors

The Destruction of the Jewish Community in Jedwabne, Poland

Jan T. Gross

One summer day in 1941, half of the Polish town of Jedwabne murdered the other half—all but seven of the town's Jews. Here, Jan Gross pieces together eye-witness accounts and other evidence into an engulging reconstruction of the horrific July day remembered well by locals but forgotten by history. His new answers to vexed questions rewrite the history of twentieth-century Poland.

"Neighbors is a truly pathbreaking book, the work of a master historian. Jan Gross has a shattering tale to tell, and he tells it with consummate skill and control. No one who has studied or lived through the twentieth century can afford to ignore it."—Tony Judt

The Miracle Years

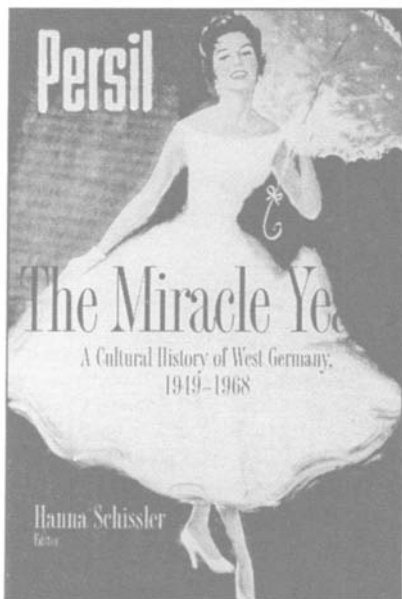

A Cultural History of West Germany, 1949–1968

Edited by Hanna Schissler

Stereotypical descriptions showcase West Germany as an "economic miracle" or cast it in the narrow terms of Cold War politics. Such depictions neglect how material hardship preceded success and how a fascist past and communist sibling complicated the country's image as a bastion of democracy. They also overlook a rich and varied cultural history. That history is told here by leading scholars of German history, literature, and film in this important new book on postwar West German culture and society.

IN THE SHADOW OF "SAVAGE WOLVES":
ANABAPTIST MÜNSTER AND THE GERMAN REFORMATION DURING THE 1530S
ISBN 0-391-04100-2 6"x 9" cloth, 200 pp., maps list $70

Protestant Strasbourg. Catholic Cologne. The Rhineland. It is from these points that In the Shadow of "Savage Wolves" departs and examines the multifaceted reactions of political and religious leaders to the Anabaptist reign in Münster (1534-1535).

A NEGOTIATED SETTLEMENT:
THE COUNTER-REFORMATION IN UPPER AUSTRIA UNDER THE HABSBURGS
ISBN 0-391-04099-5 6"x 9" cloth, 300 pp., map list $80

This book is a continuation of Karl Eder's work. Specifically, how the interests of Catholic reformers who came to Upper Austria in the decades around 1600 corresponded with the interests of various locals under Habsburg rule. By analyzing the constellations of particular interests, the processes of negotiation surrounding these interests can be seen and better understood.
