

"Latin American Perspectives has in its short lifetime acquired an eminent reputation among Latin Americanists both in the United States and in Latin America. It fills an intricate gap in our knowledge of this area which is not currently covered by other journals. I have long subscribed to this Journal and also urged my students to do so. I have also used several of the special issues in my classes."

Helen I. Safa, University of Florida

LATIN AMERICAN PERSPECTIVES

A Journal on Capitalism and Socialism

LAP is the leading progressive journal on Latin America, and publishes more work of Latin American scholars than any other North American journal.

LAP is not afraid to publish the controversial, the left of center, the revolutionary voices active in Latin American scholarship—voices that otherwise might not be heard. In Latin America itself, LAP is one of the most widely read journals to come out of the United States.

LAP provides a clear, multidimensional look at Latin America.

- economics—and the study of the moral, political, and social desirability of economic policies
- political science—and the patterns of social action that underlie the operation of nations, the struggle for power, the conduct and misconduct of governments
- international relations—particularly as they affect the nationalistic movements and internal problems of Latin American countries
- philosophy—theoretical, and applied to the hard realities of developing nations
- history—a critical view, with inside views of history in the making
- sociology, geography, anthropology, even literature . . . the personal, poetic comments of activists and revolutionary scholars

"As a journalist, I work to try to increase public awareness and understanding of Latin America. In this process, I rely on Latin American Perspectives . . . to stimulate my ideas and provide valuable information often unavailable elsewhere."

—Stephen Kinzer, The New York Times

Policy: The JOURNAL OF INTERAMERICAN STUDIES AND WORLD AFFAIRS will publish articles dealing primarily with contemporary U.S.-Latin American relations, U.S. foreign policy towards Latin America, relations between Latin American nations, as well as with their relations with the rest of the world. Articles will also be considered that deal with Latin American internal affairs when such have clear implications for foreign policy. In addition, the editors will welcome articles from both scholars and public figures, from all parts of the world, that deal with the political, economic, cultural and social aspects of Latin American interrelationships on a worldwide basis.

All articles submitted to the JOURNAL will be subject to review by qualified referees before being accepted for publication.

Manuscripts should be submitted in duplicate to: Editor, JOURNAL OF INTERAMERICAN STUDIES AND WORLD AFFAIRS, P.O. Box 248134, University of Miami, Coral Gables, FL 33124. Manuscripts should be typewritten, double spaced, with footnotes, references, tables, and charts on separate pages and should follow the current JOURNAL style. Tables and charts should be of camera-ready quality. A brief biographical paragraph describing the author's current affiliation and recent publications (and/or research interests) should accompany the manuscript. Correspondence regarding book reviews should be directed to the Book Review Editor at the above address.
