INTERMEDIATE READER OF MODERN CHINESE

Volume I: Text

Volume II: Vocabulary, Sentence Patterns, Exercise
Chih-p'ing Chou and Der-lin Chao

This textbook, prepared for American students who have already completed two semesters of Chinese, does not "talk down" to the student, and its contemporary subject matter will certainly provoke classroom discussion. Successfully encouraging speaking as well as reading practice, the book progresses from correspondence and dialogue to short essays.

Lessons 1 through 10 focus on college life in the United States, 11 through 15 concern political and social issues in contemporary China, and 16 through 20 present biographies of three well-known figures in Chinese intellectual history and analyses of the Chinese Democracy Movement (including the Tiananmen Square incident). Lessons 21 and 22 deal with Chinese translations of foreign place names and the Gulf War and are designed to accustom students to reading Chinese newspapers.

The lessons in this text offer sufficient material for a two-semester course with five contact hours per week. For the text and vocabulary traditional and simplified characters are juxtaposed. The exercises of each lesson are included in the vocabulary volume. An index to the glossary is included.

ZHUANGZI SPEAKS

The Music of Nature

Adapted and illustrated by Tsai Chih Chung

Translated by Brian Bruya

With an afterword by Donald J. Munro

A bestselling comic book in Taiwan, Zhuangzi Speaks is now available in an English-language translation that captures the wisdom of the ancient Chinese sage in a simple but profound way. The classical Chinese text has been retained, running in the margins of each page.

In Zhuangzi Speaks, charming cartoon characters act out the key parables of the master Zhuangzi, who points to a new way of living harmoniously with nature.

With the writings attributed to Laozi, the Zhuangzi contributed to an alternative philosophical ideal that matched Confucianism in its impact on Chinese culture. Over the centuries this classical Daoism influenced many aspects of Chinese life, including painting, literature, and the martial arts. It had a particularly strong effect on Chan Buddhism (Japanese Zen). For this book, Donald Munro has written an afterword that places Daoism and the Zhuangzi in historical and cultural context.

EDITORIAL AND SUBSCRIPTION INFORMATION

The Journal of Asian Studies (ISSN 0021-9118), founded in 1941 and known until September 1956 as the Far Eastern Quarterly, is published by the Association for Asian Studies (formerly The Far Eastern Association) in February, May, August, and November. The annual institutional subscription rate for the Journal (including the Bibliography of Asian Studies and the Doctoral Dissertations on Asia) is $95, postage included. Regular members of the Association for Asian Studies receive the Journal as part of their annual membership. Single issues of the Journal and Bibliography published after February 1974 are available through the Secretariat of the Association. Issues published prior to 1958 may be purchased from A.M.S. Reprints, 56 East 13th Street, New York, NY 10003.

The editor welcomes preliminary inquiries about manuscripts for possible publication in The Journal of Asian Studies. Completed manuscripts should be sent to the editor, David D. Buck, JAS, Department of History, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, Milwaukee, WI 53201. Please submit four copies. All submitted work should be double-spaced, including extracts, notes, and references. Because manuscripts cannot be returned, please do not send the original. Consult recent issues of the Journal as a guide to the format for source citations, notes, and references. Footnotes should be as few as possible and typed double-spaced at the end of the text. Documentation should follow the style recommended in sections 15.4 through 15.35 of The Chicago Manual of Style, 13th ed. (Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 1982), pp. 400–408. All manuscripts submitted to the JAS are expected not to have been published elsewhere and not to be under review for possible publication elsewhere. Manuscripts, including notes, should not be more than 40 pages in length.

Authors are encouraged to submit tables, figures, and black-and-white photographs, and other illustrations along with their manuscripts. Photocopies or photos of record are acceptable for first review and should accompany the manuscript at original submission. Authors who wish to illustrate their articles with photographs must provide black-and-white glossy prints of good quality at the time of final delivery of their copyedited manuscript. Please provide a separate, typewritten, double-spaced list of captions and legends for all illustrations, keyed by number to each figure or photograph, including all necessary credit or permission lines. Authors are responsible for securing and paying for permission to use illustrative material. Do not write on the back of photographs or paste photographs to sheets of paper. Identify each photo by typing the first words of its caption on a stick-on label, then affix the label to the back of the photo. Photographs will be returned after publication.

Books for review and correspondence concerning reviews should be sent to the appropriate editor.
