Greeks in Ptolemaic Egypt

Naphtali Lewis

Drawing on a number of different case studies this book compasses a vivid picture of life in a country in which the native Egyptian population is dominated by a privileged and exclusive Greek minority.

Aeschylus: Choephoroi

Edited by A. F. Garvie

This new edition of Choephoroi takes account of the large number of important recent publications on the different aspects of Aeschylus' work. Much of the Commentary is devoted to problems of interpretation and style, thought and dramatic technique. The Introduction discusses the pre-Aeschylean Orestes tradition in literature and art; the character of the play itself; the staging; and the state of the transmitted text.

The History of Theophylact Simocatta

An English Translation with Introduction

Edited by Michael and Mary Whitby

The History of Theophylact Simocatta is our most important source for the reign of the emperor Maurice. Theophylact's narrative concentrates on the two main theatres of war that threatened the empire's security. This first English translation of the History, a work renowned for its stylistic idiosyncrasy and obscurity, offers an annotated text to facilitate a proper evaluation of its evidence.

The Augustan Aristocracy

Ronald Syme

While the monarchy established by Caesar Augustus attracts assiduous study not enough has been said about the old nobility reascent after years of civil war. Covering something like a century and a half in the history of Roman families, The Augustan Aristocracy may be taken as supplement no less than sequel to The Roman Revolution (1939) and to Tacitus (1958).

A History of Greece to 322 BC

Third Edition

N. G. L. Hammond

Widely used in English-speaking countries, this book presents a modern interpretation of Greek ideas, culture, and actions. The prehistoric period and the intellectual, social, and economic background are treated as thoroughly as the political and military history of the Greek states, which is the main topic.

THE OED SUPPLEMENT IS NOW COMPLETE

A SUPPLEMENT TO THE
OXFORD
ENGLISH DICTIONARY

Volume IV, Se-Z
Edited by R. W. Burchfield

The fourth and final volume of the Supplement, covering the language from Se to Z, will be published in May 1986, completing the great work of bringing the OED up to date which was started in 1957.

'The Supplement's appearance is no doubt the most important event in English lexicography since the completion of the OED itself in 1928 . . . it supplies what for many will be easily the most entertaining and readable of all dictionaries.'

The Times Literary Supplement

' . . . a work impossible to overpraise. Unique, it stands unmatched.'

The Christian Science Monitor

'Majestic, funny, moving in its revelation of the language's infinite capacity for nuance.' Punch

'The work, which has taken a quarter of a century to complete, makes Hercules' cleansing the Augean stables look like a part-time job.' The Guardian

Metamorphoses

Ovid

Translated by A. D. Melville and edited by E. J. Kenny

A. D. Melville's translation admirably reproduces the grace and fluency of Ovid's style, with the subtle addition, for occasional special effect, of rhyming couplets to the traditional blank verse form. Its modern unacademic idiom opens the way to a fresh understanding of Ovid's unique and elusive vision of reality.

Sources for Roman History 133–70 BC

Second edition

Edited by A. H. J. Greenidge and A. M. Clay

Second edition edited by E. W. Gray

This collection of source material in Greek and Latin, literary, inscriptional, and numismatic, covers a period in which there is no adequate continuous treatment by any ancient writer. This new paperback edition reprints the text of the Second Edition (1960) with some corrections.

Virgil: Aeneid VI

Edited by R. G. Austin

'Austin's contribution to our understanding of the Aeneid now stands in comparison with Heinze's or Norden's'. Journal of Roman Studies
'Throughout, Austin's characteristic sensitivity and refined judgement combine with careful scholarship to present a balanced, sound commentary on this most difficult and crucial book of Virgil's epic poem.' Classical World
This paperback edition replaces the hardback edition first published in 1977.

Plato's Phaedo

David Bostock

Examines the theories and arguments put forward by Plato in his Phaedo where he attempts to show that the soul is immortal. These arguments raise a number of important philosophical problems: the book aims to introduce these problems as they arise from Plato's text.

NOTES TO CONTRIBUTORS

1. One copy of an article will suffice. It will usually be returned if the contributor so requests on submitting it, but as the editors may wish to annotate it and furthermore cannot take responsibility for any loss, contributors should retain another copy.

2. Articles should be typed in double spacing on A4 paper and on one side of the paper only. Footnotes should be numbered consecutively and typed on separate sheets. Greek quotations need not be typed, but every letter must be clear and legible; especial care should be taken over accents and breathings.

3. Quotations in English, Latin, French, etc., should be put in single inverted commas, e.g.

...the phrase 'dux femina facti' has...

A quotation within a quoted passage has double inverted commas. Single words or self-contained phrases (such as fait accompli) may be underlined to indicate italics. Material inserted within a quotation is placed in square brackets:

'[The translator]... must ever be casting his eyes upwards from the copy to the original.'

4. References should normally be given in the footnotes, in the following form:

BOOKS

R. Syme, The Roman Revolution (Oxford, 1939), pp. 78–9 or op. cit., pp. 78–9.

E. Norden, *Die antike Kunstprosa*⁵ i. 164–81
or op. cit. i. 164–81.

F. Jacoby, FGrHist 328 F 4.

Authors' initials should be stated, at least at their first mention. Abbreviations should not be assigned to books unless they are generally familiar (e.g. *OCD*² omitting full points).

ARTICLES

R. P. Winnington-Ingram, 'The Danaid Trilogy', JHS 81 (1961), 141–52
or R. P. Winnington-Ingram, JHS 81 (1961), 141–52.

Both year and volume number should be given.

Abbreviations may follow the style of Marouzeau's L'Année philologique.

ANCIENT AUTHORITIES

Aristophanes, Birds 135; Homer, Od. 1.1 (not a 1); Cic. Phil. 2.20 (not 2.8 or 2.8.20); Plin. N.H. 9.176 (not 9.83.176 or 9.83); Quint. 10.1.46; Soph. O.C. 225 (retain full points; do not use l. or ll., but, where necessary, line or lines).

B.C. should appear after, A.D. before, the number of the year. The following should not be italicized: op. cit., loc. cit., cf., ibid., s.v.

THE CLASSICAL ASSOCIATION

The main aims of the Classical Association are to promote and sustain interest in classical studies, to maintain their rightful position in universities and schools, and to give scholars and teachers opportunities of meeting and discussing their problems. It organizes an annual conference, lasting four or five days, in a university centre, and sponsors twenty-nine branches, most of which hold Greek and Latin Reading Competitions for Schools. Its activities are fully reported in its annual Proceedings, issued free to all members.

The present membership of the Association is approximately 4,400. Membership is open both to individuals and to institutions at an annual subscription of £3.00 (life composition for individual members, £63.00). Members may obtain the Classical Review and Classical Quarterly at reduced prices (Review, £13.00; Quarterly, £14.00; combined subscription, £24.00). Greece & Rome may also be obtained through the Association for an annual subscription of £11.00. Application for membership and subscriptions for the journals (which should normally be received by 31 January in each year) should be addressed to the Hon. Treasurer, Richard Wallace, Department of Classics, University of Keele, Keele, Staffs ST5 5BG.

The Association can also supply copies of the Index to the First Series of the Classical Review (price £1.50, post free) and of the last issue of The Year's Work in Classical Studies, covering the years 1945–7 (price £1.00, post free). These publications and details of the various occasional publications of the Association are obtainable from the Hon. Treasurer. Inquiries should be sent to either of the Hon. Secretaries (Dr J. Percival, Department of Classics, University College, Cardiff P.O. Box 78, Cardiff CF1 1XL and Miss H. M. Jones, 18 Valley Close, Pinner, Middlesex).
