Extended Play

Sounding Off from John Cage to Dr. Funkenstein
John Corbett

"One of the most important aspects of Corbett's trawl among the musical fringe is that it denies the genre definitions that usually constrain music books - this is not a book about jazz or rock or art music but about all of them. . . An outstanding work - lucidly well written, well organised, engaged, and intelligent. It is certainly one of the most stimulating books on music I've read in the last couple of years."

Theomusicology

Jon Michael Spencer, editor

In this handbook to the burgeoning field of theomusicology, theologians and scholars from diverse backgrounds, set out to define the philosophical, methodological, and theoretical concerns of the discipline. Theomusicology explores the relationship of music to religious ethnic communities, the different ways in which religious and secular musics transmit religious meaning, and the power of music to envision alternative domains of experience. 268pp, £9.50pb

Folk Music Journal

The Folk Music Journal is a leading journal in the field of traditional popular culture. It publishes papers on all aspects of folk music, folk dance, and folk song, focusing principally, but not exclusively, on the British Isles and the English speaking world. Contributions come from a wide variety of perspectives, including those of folklore studies, social anthropology, social history, ethnomusicology, dance ethnology, and literary studies.

The contents range from theoretical articles to fieldwork-based studies, and may be local, regional, or international in scope. Recent articles have covered the early development of morris dancing, the Scottish folk music revival, relationships among song and dance tunes, the folk music research of Percy Grainger, history and meaning in 'The Cruel Mother' ballad, and Irish broadside ballad performance.

The Folk Music Journal also contains an extensive reviews section, covering books, journals, discs, audiotapes and videotapes on traditional music and dance. Brief notes, obituaries, and letters to the Editor are published as well.

The Editorial Board is committed to a policy of promoting interdisciplinary and comparative studies over a broad range of cultures and time spans. It seeks to combine erudition with accessibility so as to facilitate dialogue and discussion among both academic researchers and non-specialists.

For further information, contact: The English Folk Dance and Song Society, 2 Regent's Park Road, London NW1 7AY, U.K.

Folk Music Journal is published annually by the English Folk Dance and Song Society and sent free to its members.

Journal of Communication

A new understanding of country . . .

High Lonesome

The American Culture of Country Music

by Cecelia Tichi

Cecelia Tichi's engaging book shows that country music reveals the very heart of America. Country isn't regional, but national, with lyrics that reflect the conflicts, values, and yearnings that have intrigued all American writers and artists for three centuries.

"A daring but successful book. . . . Tichi takes country music seriously, and she gives the art form the kind of serious intellectual treatment that it has always needed and deserved."—Bill C. Malone, author of Country Music, U.S.A.

Early Downhome Blues

A Musical and Cultural Analysis
Second Edition

by Jeff Todd Titon

New Foreword by Alan Trachtenberg

ASCAP-Deems Taylor Prize for Outstanding Book in Music, 1977

Hailed as a classic in music studies when it was first published in 1977, Early Downhome Blues is a detailed look at traditional country blues artists and their work. Combining musical analysis and cultural history approaches, Titon examines the origins of downhome blues in African American society. He also explores what happened to the art form when the blues were commercially recorded and became part of the larger American culture. "This thoughtful and provocative book is an important contribution to blues scholarship, folklorists, and ethnomusicology."—Journal of American Folklore

Notes for contributors

The top (ribbon) copy of the typescript should be submitted. This must be double spaced with margins of at least 1". Notes, bibliographies, appendixes and displayed quotations must also be double spaced. Contributors should write in English, or be willing to have their articles translated. A cover page should be submitted with the article, containing the author's name and postal address, telephone number, and where possible, fax number and electronic mail address. When an article has been accepted for publication, the author may send a copy on computer diskette, together with details of the format and wordprocessor used. However, the publisher reserves the right to typeset any article by conventional means if the author's disk proves unusable.

Tables, graphs, diagrams and music examples must be supplied on separate sheets. Table headings should be typed above the table in the form 'Table 1. The musical categories'. Other captions should be typed double spaced in the same style on separate sheets. Tables, Figures (which include photographs) and music examples should each be consecutively numbered through the article and their approximate positions in the text noted in the margin of the typescript. Figures and music examples should, if possible, be supplied in a form suitable for direct reproduction. Photographs must be well contrasted black and white glossy prints, ideally measuring 8" x 6". Cross-references in the text to figures, etc. should be in the form '(see Example 1)', etc.

Permissions. Contributors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce any material in which they do not hold copyright (a form letter is available for this purpose) and for ensuring that the appropriate acknowledgments are included in their typescript.

Headings. The article title and subheadings should be typed using initial capitals only for the first word and any proper names.

Notes should be kept to a minimum and numbered consecutively through the text with raised numbers outside punctuation. Type the notes on separate sheets at the end of the article.

Bibliographical references should be incorporated in the text using the author-date system: 'as shown by Simon Frith (1981, p. 176)'; '(Frith 1981, p. 176)'; '(Smith and Jones 1978; Frith 1981)'. A complete Bibliography should be typed, double spaced, at the end of the article, following any Notes. Use the following style:

- Hebdige, D. 1982. 'Towards a cartography of taste 1935-1962', in Popular Culture: Past and Present, ed. B. Waites, T. Bennett and G. Martin (London)
- Fairley, J. (ed.) 1977A. Chilean Song 1960-76 (Oxford)
- 1977B. 'La neuva canción chilena 1966-76', M.Phil. thesis, University of Oxford
- Green A. 1965. 'Hillbilly music: source and symbol'. Journal of American Folklore, 78, pp. 204-28

Discography. Contributors are encouraged to provide a Discography when appropriate. Use the style:

- Joan Baez, 'Song title', Recently. Gold Castle Records. 171 004-1. 1987

Quotations. Use single quotation marks except for quotations within quotations which should have double. Quotations of more than c. forty words should be indented and typed double spaced without quotation marks. Type the source on the last line at the right-hand margin.

Proof correction. Contributors receive proofs for correction (together with their original manuscript) on the understanding that they can provide a suitable mailing address and undertake to return the proofs plus manuscript within three days of receipt. Corrections should be restricted to printer's errors, and any other amendments marked will be made at the discretion of the editors and publishers.
