

OUTSTANDING BOOKS

CONSCIENCE

by Walter E. Conn

Recipient of Best Book Award from the College Theology Society. Charles Curran of Catholic University calls it "a very significant book; a foundational study for moral theology." Roger Shinn at Union Theological Seminary hails this book as "both original and comprehensive." Bernard Lonergan of Boston College writes that Conn has given major developmental psychologies "a welcoming home in the religious notion of self-transcendence." Price: $11.95

MORAL DEVELOPMENT, MORAL EDUCATION, AND KOHLBERG

edited by Brenda Munsey

An indispensable book for anyone interested in the intersection of developmental psychology, theology, and morality. This volume is generally acknowledged as an especially fine interdisciplinary work on Kohlberg's theory and research. Used by Kohlberg as a major resource book in his classes at Harvard. Price: $12.95

RELIGIOUS CONVERSION AND PERSONAL IDENTITY

by V. Bailey Gillespie

A sensitive treatment of religious conversion as a basic way of achieving personal identity and self-transcendence. Integrates psychological findings, especially the work of Erik Erikson, with both the biblical perspective and theological insights. Price: $8.95

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION AND THEOLOGY

edited by Norma H. Thompson

This volume presents a wide variety of diverse and robust points of view on the dynamic relationship between religious education and theology. Original major essays by important religious education scholars. A benchmark book in the sense that it provides the standard against any future discussion of the relationship between religious education and theology will have to be measured. Price: $12.95

COMMUNISM IN THE BIBLE

by José Miranda

"A scholarly study in biblical teaching—brief, direct, powerful—which puts the burden of proof on those who would deny that original and authentic Christianity is communistic (not, to say, Marxist). This is vintage Miranda—erudite, passionate, persuasive, and above all, disturbing."

BIBLE OF THE OPPRESSED

by Elsa Tamez

"Why haven't we North American biblical scholars done such a systematic study of the words for oppression in the Bible? If the answer is that we who possess the critical skills are not ourselves oppressed or identified with communities of the oppressed, then it becomes imperative that we listen all the more carefully to these voices from the South."

Faith today...

God on Our Minds

By PATRICK HENRY and THOMAS F. STRANSKY, C.S.P. Candid thoughts about faith in God today as expressed by an ecumenical mix of pastors, theologians and laypersons who gathered informally at the Institute for Ecumenical and Cultural Research to discuss the meaning of God for their lives and their world. $6.95 paper

Our Search for Identity

Humanity in the Image of God

By MARIANNE H. MICKS. The author attempts to revise Christian anthropology by making it not only inclusive but also accessible. She contends that we no longer talk about "the doctrine of man" in theology since God created both male and female in his image. By refocusing the traditional questions of Christian anthropology, she leads the reader to understand that "human nature is not fixed or static, but a process of becoming the selves we were created to be—through relationships."

Speaking of Jesus

Finding the Words for Witness

By RICHARD LISCHER. "Evangelism," "witness," and "communication of the gospel" are terms used interchangeably in this challenging and insightful book to describe the author's concern about grassroots evangelism: "the transmission of God's love in Christ from one person to another, to the end that those who do not know Christ might believe in him and do his will."

THE ARCHAEOLOGY OF THE LAND OF ISRAEL

by Yohanan Aharoni
edited by Miriam Aharoni translated by Anson F. Rainey

This comprehensive and well-documented work examines Israel from its prehistoric beginnings through the fall of the first temple in the early sixth century B.C.E. Unsurpassed as an introductory work in its field, this book with its clear maps and diagrams offers the results of generations of archaeological work and presents authentic challenges to many currently held positions.

REALITY AND EVANGELICAL THEOLOGY

by T.F. Torrance

Here is a vital statement on the nature of Christian revelation from one of the century's most widely respected theologians. This challenging examination of the faults of both fundamentalist and liberal systems of biblical interpretation shows that when Christian theology and interpretation of the Bible take seriously the scientific understanding of the world, they become more faithful, more evangelical, and more real themselves.

JESUS AND THE CONSTRAINTS OF HISTORY

by A.E. Harvey

Using the vast amount of knowledge about the world of Jesus that has been collected in the last century, A.E. Harvey sheds new light on Jesus as a person who faced definite options as a man of his time. Overall, Harvey provides a masterful inquiry into the trustworthiness of the Gospel accounts.

FROM HOLOCAUST TO DIALOGUE: A JEWISH-CHRISTIAN DIALOGUE BETWEEN AMERICANS AND GERMANS

Edited by Leonard Swidler

From Holocaust to Dialogue is the scholarly distillation of a year-long intense seminar among Jewish and Christian religious scholars both at Temple University in Philadelphia and at nine German universities. It contains the best essays produced in that dialogue. These essays, however, are not just rigorous scholarly undertakings—though they surely are also that—but also in many ways they represent important breakthroughs in the encounter between Judaism and Christianity. New thoughts are conceived, new vistas are envisioned, new paths are pointed out—from both the Jewish and the Christian sides. After reading From Holocaust to Dialogue one would have to disagree with Qoheleth: There is something new under the Sun!

You are invited to order a copy of From Holocaust to Dialogue for $5.00. Or you can subscribe to the world's foremost journal of interreligious dialogue in the English language—the Journal of Ecumenical Studies—and receive From Holocaust to Dialogue free with your order for vol. 19 (1982). The quarterly J.E.S. contains many very informative and important articles, book reviews, article abstracts (from some 400 journals the world over), and reports of events, all dealing with some aspect of interreligious dialogue, be it Protestant-Catholic, Jewish-Christian, Muslim-Jewish-Christian, Buddhist-Christian, Christian-Marxist, etc. You may order vol. 19 for just $16 ($18, outside the U.S.).
