AMERICAN FOREIGN POLICY IN THE NUCLEAR AGE

Cecil V. Crabb, Jr., Vassar College. "Professor Crabb's book . . . offers an invaluable basis for studies in American foreign policy at the college level. It is comprehensive in scope and yet focused on the new range of problems which now dominate the international scene, and which require approaches different from those of traditional diplomacy."—George C. McGhee. 1960. 544 pp. $6.90.*

HANDBOOK OF PRACTICAL POLITICS

Paul P. Van Riper, Cornell University. ". . . well and clearly written . . . competent even from a narrow professional viewpoint, an achievement that is sometimes missed in publications directed to a broad audience, as is this one."—Dean Alexander Heard, University of North Carolina.

"In the welter of carelessly turned out material, a carefully and thoughtfully done text of this kind will be immensely helpful."—Leone Baxter, Whitaker and Baxter International (Public Relations Consultants). Second Edition, 1960. 356 pp. Paper, $4.00.*

HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE

Paul P. Van Riper, Cornell University. ". . . I am sufficiently impressed with the book's usefulness to make it one of the required texts in my course in public personnel administration . . . a very valuable addition to the literature of public personnel administration."—Paul L. Beckett, State College of Washington.

". . . without doubt the most comprehensive and useful piece of work on this subject."—H. M. Somers, Haverford College. 1958. 588 pp. $7.50.

MAJOR GOVERNMENTS OF MODERN EUROPE

Herman Finer, University of Chicago. ". . . an admirable text for courses in Comparative Government. It is surely the most readable and the most up-to-date of textbooks in this area . . . it is always refreshing to see so able a writer and scholar as Herman Finer making completely clear what his judgments are instead of hiding them under a bushel in the name of 'objectivity'." —Frederick L. Schuman, Williams College. 1960. lxxiv. + 736 pp. $8.25.*

THE NEW COMMUNIST MANIFESTO and Related Documents

Dan N. Jacobs, Miami University, editor. Other documents include Khrushchev's "secret" address to the Party Congress XX, Lenin's Testament with the codicil, the original Communist Manifesto. The 1957 Declaration of the Communist and workers' parties delegates, Mao's "Let a Hundred Flowers Blossom" speech, and extracts from Edvard Kardelj's "Socialism and War." Professor Jacobs provides a general introduction and a headnote for each document. 1961. 217 pp. Paper $1.90.

THE HOUSE WITHOUT WINDOWS: France Selects a President

Constantin Melnik and Nathan Leites, The RAND Corporation. "I want to say how important this book is. It is one of the rare examples of scientific detachment and fastidious care in describing what goes on in one of the most conspicuous political institutions of a conspicuous power. I think it is safe to predict that political scientists in many countries will be inspired to make a fresh examination of the public life of nations with which they are best acquainted."—Harold D. Lasswell, Yale University. 1958. 358 pp. $5.50.
