OXFORD

Introducing the Most Advanced and Authoritative
Islamic Studies Bibliography Available

BIBLIOGRAPHIES

ONLINE: ISLAMIC STUDIES

NOW AVAILABLE!

"We commissioned the top scholars in the field of Islamic Studies to outline their areas of expertise, so that users will understand how the field is organized and why it developed in the way it did. The authors provide descriptive introductions to each entry and subdivision within their outlines, and then present selective lists of the major sources. Each source is described in a brief annotation indicating what role it plays among the myriad sources available. The annotated bibliographies thus present a guided tour through the key literature on each topic, providing context for its development, and a balanced overview of the major issues within a given topic."

Tamara Sonn, Editor in Chief

William R. Kenan Distinguished Professor of Humanities in the Department of Religious Studies at the College of William and Mary Authority and Innovation for Scholarly Research

Oxford Bibliographies Online (OBO) is an entirely new type of resource: an authoritative, discipline-focused, online guide to the essential literature in the interdisciplinary field of Islamic Studies. OBO was developed to combine the best features of a high-level encyclopedia and a traditional bibliography in a style tailored to meet the needs of today's online researchers. OBO: Islamic Studies examines the range of lived experiences and textual traditions of Muslims as they are articulated in various countries and regions throughout the world. This interdisciplinary field combines history, religion, philosophy, anthropology, Arabic language and literature, as well as literatures in other languages including Persian, Turkish, and Urdu.

- Assurance of Editorial Quality & Excellence
 Each entry receives multiple peer reviews and Editorial Board vetting to provide authoritative and balanced coverage, bringing the excellence you expect from our print programs to online
- Make Research Time More Productive
 OBO is selective, directing researchers to only the most essential, core sources, saving hours of time in the research process

The Long Divergence

How Islamic Law Held Back the Middle East

Timur Kuran

“The path toward economic and legal reforms for the Islamic world can only be charted by understanding the historical impediments to economic development in the region. There is currently no better starting point to contemplate such reforms and development efforts than this book.”

—Mahmoud El-Gamal, author of Islamic Finance: Law, Economics, and Practice

Cloth $29.95 978-0-691-14756-7

How to Cure a Fanatic

Amos Oz

“Amos Oz is the voice of sanity coming out of confusion.”
—Nadine Gordimer, Nobel Prize-winning author

“This little volume . . . is lucid, rational, and constructive. . . . [It] embodies so much realism and optimism.”

—Elizabeth R. Hayford, Library Journal

Paper $9.95 978-0-691-14863-2

Catholic Pirates and Greek Merchants

A Maritime History of the Mediterranean

Molly Greene

“This book adds substantially to our understanding of those who inhabited the littoral of the Mediterranean Sea in the early modern period. At its center is the interaction between two sets of actors that have been largely overlooked in histories of the region.”

—Bruce A. Masters, Wesleyan University

Princeton Modern Greek Studies

The Fall and Rise of the Islamic State

Noah Feldman

“In a short, incisive and elegant book, [Feldman] lays out for the non-specialist reader some of the forms that Islamic rule has taken over the centuries, while also stressing the differences between today’s political Islam and previous forms of Islamic administration.”

Palestinian Village Histories

Geographies of the Displaced

ROCHELLE DAVIS

“Davis has written a nuanced and highly readable account of how Palestinians write their own histories and in the process craft strategies for the future. Drawing on research in half a dozen countries, this book is essential reading for anyone interested in Palestinians.”

—Rhoda Kanaaneh,
author of Surrounded: Palestinian Soldiers in the Israeli Military

$27.95 paper $70.00 cloth

Ottoman Brothers Muslims, Christians, and Jews in Early 20th Century Palestine

MICHELLE U. CAMPOS

“Offers a startling new insight into a globally important case: for a brief period in the not-so-distant past, Palestine was consumed by civic activism and democratic co-existence, and was not necessarily headed toward inevitable conflict. Campos delivers a wonderfully rich contribution to the study of the modern Middle East.”

—Charles Kurzman,
University of North Carolina

$27.95 paper $75.00 cloth

Ghosts of Revolution Rekindled Memories of Imprisonment in Iran

SHAHLA TALEBI

“This searing memoir of women’s visceral pain, principled resilience, and redemptive imagination in Iran’s brutal political prisons will leave you shaken, forever.”

DESCRIPTION

The Middle East Studies Association (MESA) is a private, non-profit, non-political learned society that brings together scholars, educators and those interested in the study of the region from all over the world. From its inception in 1966 with 50 founding members, MESA has increased its membership to more than 2,600 and now serves as an umbrella organization for more than sixty institutional members and forty-two affiliated organizations. The association is a constituent society of the American Council of Learned Societies, the National Council of Area Studies Associations, and a member of the National Humanities Alliance. As part of its goal to advance learning, facilitate communication and promote cooperation, MESA sponsors an annual meeting that is a leading international forum for scholarship, intellectual exchange and pedagogical innovation. It is responsible for the International Journal of Middle East Studies, the premiere journal on the region, the Review of Middle East Studies, and a quarterly newsletter. An awards program recognizes scholarly achievement, service to the profession, and exemplary students. MESA is governed by a nine-member Board of Directors elected by the membership.

MESA is a nonprofit corporation with tax exempt status. Contributions to the Association are deductible under both U.S. Federal and British income tax regulations.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Middle East Studies Association (MESA) is a non-political association that fosters the study of the Middle East, promotes high standards of scholarship and teaching, and encourages public understanding of the region and its peoples through programs, publications and services that enhance education, further intellectual exchange, recognize professional distinction, and defend academic freedom.
