

Lives, Letters, and Lords

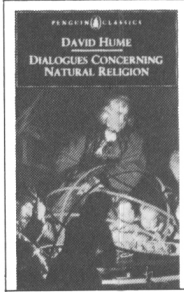

AUTOBIOGRAPHY

John Stuart Mill. Edited and introduced by John H. Robson. 240 pp.
Penguin Classic 0-14-043316-3 $8.95

BURTON: A Biography of Sir Richard Francis Burton Byron Farwell. Explorer, inventor, soldier, poet, archaeologist, and diplomat, Sir Richard Francis Burton is brilliantly captured in all his complexity and fascination in "a fine biography....Well-written and delights in the wonder and peculiarity of its subject."
—Chicago Tribune.

Penguin 0-14-012068-8 $9.95

DIALOGUES CONCERNING NATURAL RELIGION

David Hume. 160 pp. July.
Penguin Classic 0-14-044536-6 $5.95

EDWARD BURNE-JONES

Penelope Fitzgerald. A rich portrait of an artist whose work and life continue fascinating today "hits off to perfection the texture and density of the artistic-literary life of the Victorian era."—Spectator.
Illustrated. 328 pp.

Penguin 0-241-12811-0 $9.95

MODERN IRELAND 1600-1972

R. F. Foster. This wide-ranging survey gives as much prominence to social, cultural, and economic factors as to political ones, exploring Irish history in depth with remarkable insight. "Anti-romantic and realistic....An elegantly-written assessment of the current consensus on problematic questions."
—Shaun O'Connell, University of Massachusetts, Boston. 752 pp.
Penguin 0-14-012510-8 $15.95

OVER TO YOU

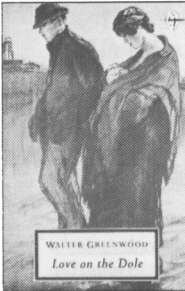

Roald Dahl. Ten stories record first-hand the experience of life as a fighter pilot. 160 pp.

Penguin 0-14-003574-5 $4.95

SAMUEL JOHNSON ON SHAKESPEARE

Samuel Johnson. Edited and introduced by H.R. Woudhuysen. Includes Preface to Shakespeare, Miscellaneous Observations on Macbeth, and selected notes and Dictionary entries. 288 pp. August.

Penguin 0-14-053020-7 $8.95

LOVE ON THE DOLE

Walter Greenwood. Hailed as a classic upon publication in 1933, this powerful portrait of working-class life is both a raw and compelling novel and a remarkable social document. 256 pp.

Penguin Classic 0-14-018335-3 $5.95

THE SECRET LIVES OF TREBITSCH LINCOLN

Bernard Wasserstein. A "masterly" (The New York Times Book Review) biography unravels the secrets of the many-faceted Lincoln—British M.P., spy, revolutionary, Buddhist monk, and con man. "Extraordinary...a first-rate book."—Observer (London).

Illustrated. 368 pp.

Penguin 0-14-011946-9 $8.95

LORD NELSON

The Immortal Memory

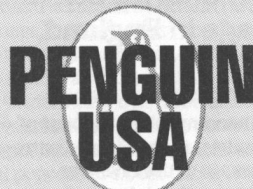

David Howarth and Stephen Howarth.

"Studious, readable, and clean of emotional partialities" (Los Angeles Times), this biography illuminates the admiral's historic career and remarkable public and private life. "History as captivating as the best of fiction."

—John Lehman, former Secretary of the Navy. Illustrated. 352 pp.

Penguin 0-14-010146-2 $9.95

New British Studies from

Academic/Library Marketing
40 West 23rd Street
New York, N.Y. 10010

Cambridge University Press

Literacy and Popular Culture

England 1750-1914

David Vincent

This book examines the consequences of the spread of mass literacy across the whole range of popular culture in England, arguing that the impact of reading and writing can be discovered in the use that was made of these skills, and the meanings attached to them.

Cambridge Studies in Oral and Literate Culture

Hardcover $49.50

Now in a 2nd edition...

Mill and Liberalism

Maurice Cowling

The author endeavors to view Mill's thought as a coherent whole with a specific proselytizing purpose, geared to the emasculation of Christianity and its replacement with a libertarian public doctrine. In a new introduction, Maurice Cowling locates Mill and Liberalism within the broader intellectual history of postwar Britain, looking at the various academic strands of the "New Right" and relating them to more specifically journalist or political manifestations.

Hardcover about $44.50 /

Paper about $14.95

Now in paperback...

Church Courts, Sex and Marriage in England, 1570-1640

Martin Ingram

"A clear, accomplished account of Church courts, marriage and extra-marital sex up to the Civil War... (Ingram) has a good grasp of context and manages to create a general as well as a local study."

—History Today

Past and Present Publications

Paper $19.95

Now in paperback...

Criticism and Compliment

The Politics of Literature in the England of Charles I

Kevin Sharpe

"An enterprising attempt to cross the artificial boundary which the last century has erected between literary and historical inquiry, the book proposes a favourable reevaluation of the drama and the masques of Charles I's court... Sharpe's thesis, argued with courage and grace, deserves to provoke some substantial rethinking."

—The London Review of Books

Cambridge Studies in Early Modern British History

Paper about $16.95

Now in paperback...

Revolution Principles

The Politics of Party 1689-1720

J.P. Kenyon

"Kenyon's exposition will provide fuel for a score or more of political studies, and his conclusion should keep us busy for the rest of the century."

—American Historical Review

An analysis of one of the most complex and difficult periods in British politics, this pioneering book discusses the basic principles under which politicians operated, whether Whig or Tory, during the "post-Revolution" period.

Cambridge Studies in the History and Theory of Politics

Paper about $14.95

Now in paperback...

The Government of England Under Henry I

Judith A. Green

"...the authoritative work on Henry I's government of England... teachers and students at last have a substantial and well written book on this elusive king."

—History and Archaeology Review

Cambridge Studies in Medieval Life and Thought, Fourth Series

Paper $16.95

Cambridge University Press

Bonington

Malcolm Cormack

"... a sympathetic and well-arranged account of the eight working years in which these remarkable results were achieved... The impact of Bonington's paintings depends upon their color, great splashes of blue sky and white cloud, the subtle tones and textures of his rendering of historical costume, the light precision of his touch... the colour plates are sufficiently large and faithful for these essential qualities to be appreciated."

—Graham Reynolds

80 halftones / 50 color plates

Hardcover $75.00

Castles from the Air

R. Allen Brown

This book uses the unique perspective of aerial photography to reveal the medieval castles of Britain in their landscape settings after an illustrated introduction outlining the social and historical context that gave birth to the castle, its purpose and essential architectural structure. Allen Brown offers a sequence of illuminating commentaries on 120 individual sites.

Cambridge Air Surveys

Hardcover $39.50

Rediscovering Hellenism

The Hellenic Inheritance and the English Imagination

Graeme Clarke, Editor

Examines the cultural manifestations of English Philhellenism in the late eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, in literature, architecture, in the visual and plastic arts, in aesthetics and education, and in the favored models and heroes of the past. The essays stress the way in which Hellenism was being continuously rediscovered, and analyze the Victorians' perceptions of themselves through their response to Greek achievement.

Hardcover $55.00

George Lawson's

"Politica" and the English Revolution
Conal Condren

This is the first full account, analysis, and subsequent history of Lawson's "Politica." The author provides the context and analysis of Lawson's major work, redating it and providing a quite different interpretation from previous readings. A substantial section is devoted to the history of the text and its use in controversies in the period 1660-89.

Cambridge Studies in Early Modern

British History

Hardcover $49.50

Lordship and the Urban Community

Durham and its Overlords, 1250-1540

Margaret Bonney

The city of Durham, in the later medieval period, was of great strategic and ecclesiastical importance. After tracing the origins of the city at the end of the tenth century, the author discusses the appearance of the medieval town, its unique site, its division into five separate "boroughs", and the standard of its domestic and public buildings.

Hardcover about $54.50

Regions and Industries

A Perspective on the Industrial Revolution in Britain
Pat Hudson, Editor

It is the contention of this book that industrialization in Britain (and elsewhere) occurred first and foremost within regions rather than in the nation as a whole and that attempts to understand the "first industrial revolution" as a fundamentally important economic, social and political process are best undertaken with the regional perspective at center stage.

Hardcover about $49.50

At bookstores or order from

Cambridge University Press

40 West 20th Street, New York, NY 10011. Call toll-free 800-872-7423, outside NY State.
800-227-0247, NY State only. MasterCard & VISA accepted.

Announcing a new scholarly publication:

Journal of World History

Published by University of Hawaii Press in cooperation with the World History Association

Historical scholarship has traditionally dealt largely with the experiences of national communities. During the past quarter-century, however, historians increasingly have come to see the need to examine the effects of powerful historical forces that do not recognize national, or even cultural, boundaries—population movements, economic fluctuations, climatic changes, transfers of technology, the spread of infectious and contagious diseases, imperial expansion, long-distance trade, and the spread of religions and ideals. As a result, a substantial body of literature examining these forces has emerged.

The Journal of World History is the first journal devoted specifically to world history as a field of research and teaching. The journal publishes articles on such global themes as:

- comparative studies of developments that affect more than one civilization or cultural region
- studies in the historiography of world history
- analyses of encounters between peoples of different civilizations or cultural regions
- reflections on conceptualization and periodization in world history

The Journal of World History will appear twice a year beginning in January 1990. Individual subscriptions are regularly US$25/yr and include membership in the World History Association. Send address information and checks, payable to the World History Association, to Professor Richard Rosen, World History Association, Department of History and Politics, Drexel University, Philadelphia, PA 19104 USA, phone (215) 895-2471. Submit manuscripts to Professor Jerry H. Bentley, Department of History, University of Hawaii, Honolulu, HI 96822 USA.

EUROPEAN HISTORY QUARTERLY

Edited by R M Blinkhorn, University of Lancaster

The areas of interest of European History Quarterly may be defined as European history since the later middle ages, and social and political thought placed squarely within a historical context. All historical approaches – social, political, cultural etc – are embraced, and contributions on British history which possess a broader European significance are welcome. The scope of the Quarterly's coverage ranges from fifteenth-century Prussia to post-1945 Anglo-French relations.

As well as original articles European History Quarterly also publishes lengthy historiographical essays, review articles and shorter reviews, laying some stress in doing so upon works published in European languages other than English.

Published in January, April, July, and October

ISSN 0014-3111

SUBSCRIPTION RATES, 1990

	Institutional	Individual
One Year	£60 ($99)	£27 ($45)
Two Years	£120 ($198)	£54 ($90)
Single Issue	£16 ($26)	£8 ($13)

SAGE Publications Ltd, 28 Banner Street, London EC1Y 8QE, UK
SAGE Publications Inc, PO Box 5084, Newbury Park, CA 91359, USA

Historic Britain

VICTORIAN THINGS

Asa Briggs

Briggs presents an entertaining yet profound analysis of Victorian material culture and values, raising important theoretical issues concerning the meaning of objects, cultural anthropology, and the development of taste.

"Briggs whirls us on an exhilarating Cook's tour of the house the Victorians built: patent stoves disguised as suits of armour, Samain wear, Stephen's ink and Parker pens. . . . But this is far more than a guidebook: it is a revelation about the making of consumer culture."—Roy Porter, The Sunday Times

Cloth $29.95 464 pages 17 halftones

THE POLITICS OF EVOLUTION

Morphology, Medicine, and Reform in Radical London

Adrian Desmond

Desmond's fascinating social history of pre-Darwinian evolutionary theories focuses on the political and scientific radicals at cut-price anatomy schools and the University of London, who found in evolution a means of attacking the natural theology of the wealthy Oxbridge gents and the privileges of the hated establishment physicians.

Cloth $34.95 476 pages 45 halftones, 1 map

SISTERS AND WORKERS IN THE MIDDLE AGES

Edited by Judith M. Bennett, Elizabeth A. Clark, Jean F. O'Barr, B. Anne Vilen, and Sarah Westphal-Wihl

These essays, which originally appeared in Signs, explore women's activities in the Middle Ages and the limitations placed thereon and help further a feminist understanding of the past. Topics include women and work, cultural production and literacy, and religious life.

*Paper $14.95 312 pages
14 halftones*

Library cloth edition $30.00

HAPPY SLAVES

A Critique of Consent Theory

Don Herzog

If a free individual happily chose to be a slave, would consent make slavery acceptable? This riddle begins Herzog's fascinating and unusual exploration of the strengths and weaknesses of consent theory. Using seventeenth-century British history as his touchstone, Herzog illuminates such contemporary concerns as political legitimacy, liberal neutrality, and the distinctions between law and politics.

*Paper $12.95 320 pages
Library cloth edition $45.00*

University of Chicago Press 5801 South Ellis Avenue Chicago, IL 60637

Announcing a New Publication from
The University of Chicago Press

Journal of the History of Sexuality

The Journal of the History of Sexuality seeks to publish the best research of this newly emerging field. The Journal illuminates the history of human sexuality in all its expressions, recognizing differences of class, culture, gender, race, and sexual preference. Its scope transcends temporal and geographic boundaries, from ancient to contemporary history, from Europe and the Americas to Africa and Asia. International scholars in the fields of history, anthropology, sociology, psychology, philosophy, classics, literature, film, art history, legal studies, and gender-related studies will be represented in the material published.

Editor

John C. Fout

Bard College
European History

Associate Editors

John Boswell

Yale University
Medieval History

Alan M. Brandt

Harvard University
History of Medicine and Science

Martin Dannecker

University of Frankfurt
Sociology

Lillian Faderman

California State University, Fresno
Literature

Estelle B. Freedman

Stanford University
American History

Atina Grossmann

Columbia University
European History

Gert Hekma

University of Amsterdam
Sociology

Book Review Editor

Michèle D. Dominy

Bard College
Anthropology

Gilbert Herdt

University of Chicago
Anthropology

Heidrun Kaupen-Haas

University of Hamburg
Medical Sociology

Carroll Smith-Rosenberg

University of Pennsylvania
American History

Randolph Trumbach

Baruch College, CUNY
Early Modern European History

Martha Vicinus

University of Michigan
Literature

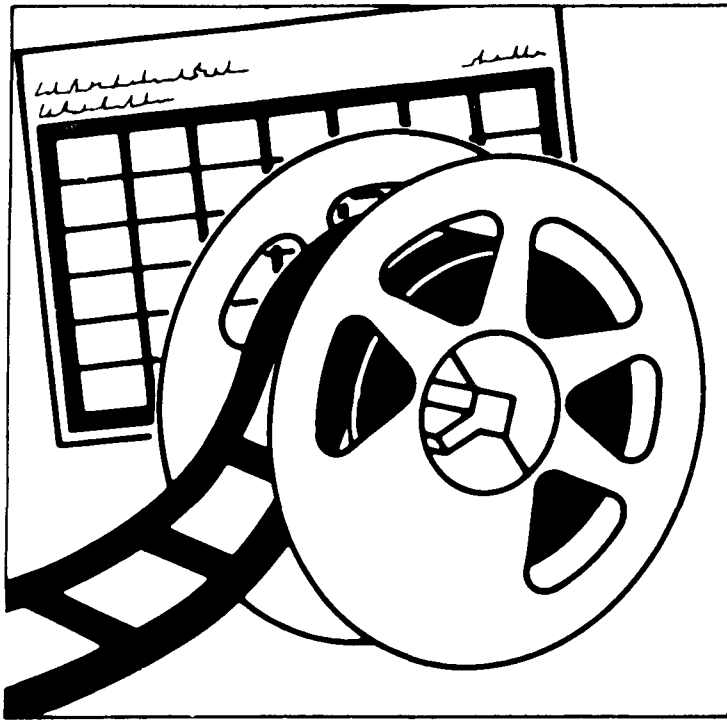

Jeffrey Weeks

Universities of Kent and Southampton
English History

Order now and take advantage of the special rate listed below!

CHARTER SUBSCRIPTION RATES 15% OFF REGULAR RATES

Individuals $24.50; Institutions $49.00; Students $17.00. Outside USA, add $3.00 for postage. MasterCard and Visa (or foreign equivalent) payments accepted. To order, send check, purchase order, or complete credit card information (including expiration date, account number, and signature) to The University of Chicago Press, Journals Division, Dept. SF0SA, P.O. Box 37005, Chicago, IL 60637, USA.

Back issues of this title available in microform

Send for our new catalogue.

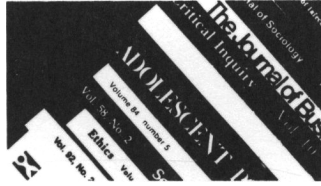

Name	Title
Institution
Street
City
State	Zip

Kraus Microform

Route 100, Millwood, NY 10546
(914) 762-2200

A Division of Kraus-Thomson Organization Ltd

Journals from The University of Chicago Press

Send for our FREE Journals Catalog today

At the forefront of academic publishing since 1891, The University of Chicago Press brings you the highest standards of scholarship.

SOCIAL SCIENCES

Adolescent Psychiatry
American Journal of Sociology
Child Development
Child Development Abstracts
and Bibliography
Crime and Justice
Current Anthropology
Economic Development and Cultural Change
International Annals of Adolescent Psychiatry
Journal of British Studies
The Journal of Business
Journal of Labor Economics
The Journal of Law and Economics
The Journal of Legal Studies
The Journal of Modern History
Journal of Political Economy
Monographs of the Society for Research in Child Development
Ocean Yearbook
Public Opinion Quarterly
Signs: Journal of Women in Culture and Society
Social Service Review
The Supreme Court Review
Technology and Culture

Beginning Summer 1990:
Journal of the History of Sexuality

Also distributing:
The Art Institute of Chicago
Museum Studies
Metropolitan Museum Journal

BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES

The American Journal of Human Genetics
The American Naturalist
Botanical Gazette
The Journal of Infectious
Diseases
Molecular Biology and Evolution
Perspectives in Biology and Medicine
Physiological Zoology
Reviews of Infectious Diseases

HUMANITIES

Classical Philology
Critical Inquiry
Ethics
History of Religions
International Journal of American Linguistics
Journal of Near Eastern Studies
The Journal of Religion
The Library Quarterly
Modern Philology
Winterthur Portfolio: A Journal of American Material Culture

EDUCATION

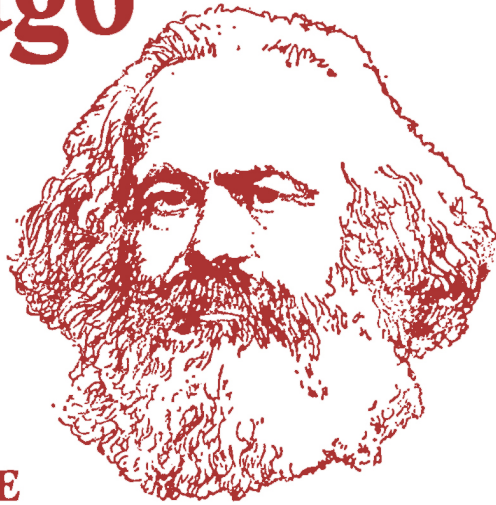

American Journal of Education
Bulletin of the Center for Children's Books
Comparative Education Review
The Elementary School Journal

PHYSICAL SCIENCES

The Astrophysical Journal
The Astrophysical Journal
Supplement Series
The Journal of Geology

For a complete catalog—or brochures on individual journals—write to: Sandra Willis,
Circulation Department, The University of Chicago Press, 5720 S. Woodlawn Avenue,
Chicago, IL 60637 USA

Chicago

MARX AND THE FRENCH REVOLUTION

FRANÇOIS FURET

Translated by Deborah Kan Furet

With Selections from Karl Marx

Edited and Introduced by Lucien Calvié

“Marx thought of writing a history of the French Revolution, but never actually did so. The idea of bringing together his fragmentary writings on the topic and subjecting them to a systematic analysis is an excellent one, and Furet carries it off brilliantly.”—Keith Baker, University of Chicago

Cloth $34.95 256 pages

THE PERMANENT REVOLUTION

The French Revolution and Its Legacy, 1789–1989

Edited by GEOFFREY BEST

This book is not about the French Revolution then, but about the French Revolution now. Eight world-renowned scholars—Conor Cruise O’Brien, Hew Strachan, Eugene Kamenka, Geoffrey Best, George Steiner, Eugen Weber, Norman Hampson, and Douglas Johnson—examine the Revolution’s continued reverberations throughout the world. Issues include the practice of nationalism, the pursuit of human rights, the conduct of war, and the way people practice revolution or criticize it.

Paper $10.95 156 pages

Library cloth edition $24.95

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO PRESS

5801 South Ellis Avenue, Chicago, IL 60637