Nature, Contemplation, and the One — John N. Deck

A Study in the Philosophy of Plotinus

Plotinus has been so highly regarded as a mystic that his importance as a philosopher has sometimes been eclipsed. In this fresh interpretation of the meaning and philosophic importance of Plotinus' major teachings, the author reappraises his thought from the standpoint of 'nature as contemplation', a central doctrine in the Enneads. Students, philosophers, and historians will welcome this important and lucid approach to a major figure in Western thought.

PRINCIPLES AND PERSONS

An Ethical Interpretation of Existentialism

by Frederick A. Olafson

Professor Olafson, in his systematic study of the ethical implications of contemporary existentialism, has attempted to reconcile the Anglo-American and Continental-European positions in the field of ethics and value theory. After analyzing the concept of moral autonomy as represented by the philosophies of Heidegger, Sartre, and Merleau-Ponty, he contends that these writers, as a distinctive group, have worked out a powerful ethical theory as apart from a set of ethical attitudes. The development of 20th century ethical theories on the Continent and in the English-speaking world are reviewed in the light of the broad parallelism that exists between them.

POTESTAS CLAVIUM

by Lev Shestov, translated by Bernard Martin

Lev Shestov, the great Russian existentialist, continues his polemic against rational idealism and scientism in POTESTAS CLAVIUM and embarks on his quest to restore men's faith in the God of the Bible. He draws on his thorough knowledge of European philosophy and literature to portray the struggle of the individual to maintain his freedom and creativity against all institutions, theological dogmas, and scientific or metaphysical systems.

EDUCATION AND PRODUCTIVE SOCIETY

EDITED BY DR. H. R. ZIEL

1965

As a result of the urgings of governments, industries, philosophers, and various social institutions, that educators be alert to the exponential changes occurring in our productive society, a conference of decision-making personnel in vocational and technical education throughout Canada was held at the University of Alberta in 1964.

This book is a collection of the papers appearing at the conference, along with the resulting comments. They present a jarring note to the rapid change shaping our educational system, our society, and the need for a more realistic and effective program of education if mankind is to be the master of technology. 217 pages. $5.50

FORM AND SUBSTANCE

W. K. THOMAS

1963

A guide to the research paper which describes the effective use of libraries as sources of material, shows how to shape the essay, and points the way to correct essay form. 102 pages. $2.50

THE BOOK OF CANADIAN POETRY

A. J. M. SMITH

THIRD EDITION. 1957

A complete revision of this standard text, with the addition of twelve new contemporary authors. 547 pages. $7.50

THE BOOK OF CANADIAN PROSE: VOLUME I

EARLY BEGINNINGS TO CONFEDERATION

1965

This anthology, the first of a two-volume series, includes much material never before seen in collections of Canadian literature—the practical expository writing of fur traders, explorers, and politicians who made 1867 possible—supplemented by a critical introduction and useful notes on the individual authors as well as a selective bibliography. The book forms a companion to the earliest sections of the book of Canadian poetry. 261 pages. $6.00

JOHN LOCKE: EPISTOLA DE TOLERANTIA

A Letter on Toleration, edited by RAYMOND KLIBANSKY, translated by J. W. GOUGH. Locke wrote his Epistola de Tolerantia as an exile in Holland, and it was published there anonymously in 1689. The English translation, made in 1689 without Locke's supervision, has been reprinted many times, but the Latin text (here edited by Raymond Klibansky) did not appear between 1768 and 1961. This critical edition is a new and more accurate English translation by J. W. Gough. The Preface places the Epistola in its Dutch setting; the Introduction outlines the antecedents of Locke's theory and discusses his argument. $6.75

Oxford Readings in Philosophy

General Editor G. J. WARNOCK. The aim of this new paperback series is to bring together important recent writings in major areas of philosophical inquiry, selected from a variety of sources, mostly periodicals, which may not be conveniently available to the university student or the general reader. The editor of each volume contributes an introductory essay on the items chosen and on the questions with which they deal. A select Bibliography is appended to each as a guide to further reading.
