Archaeological Reports is published by the Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies and the British School at Athens, for their subscribers. It is now also available to subscribers to the American Journal of Archaeology (see back cover) and to members of the Society for the Promotion of Byzantine Studies under similar terms. Members of the public can purchase copies from the Secretary, The Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies, Senate House, Malet Street, London WC1E 7HU, UK.

'Archaeology in Greece', compiled annually by the Director of the British School at Athens, is the only account of recent archaeological work in Greece published in English. It is usually supplemented each year by reports from other parts of the ancient Greek and Byzantine world: South Italy, Sicily, Sardinia, Albania, Cyprus, Asia Minor and the Black Sea are covered regularly.

Greek place-names:

In order to standardize the spelling of site-names in Archaeological Reports, they will usually be transliterated using British Library conventions as follows: α/a β/b γ/g (γγ/ng γκ/nk γξ/nx γχ/nch) δ/d ε/e ζ/z η/e θ/th ι/i κ/k λ/l μ/m (μβ/b μπ/b) ν/n ο/o π/p ρ/r σ,s/s τ/t υ/u (or y) φ/ph χ/ch ψ/ps ω/o. A few exceptions to this rule are made where anglicized place-names are very well established (e.g. Athens, Corinth, Rhodes, Vergina).

THE HELLENIC SOCIETY

The Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies was founded in 1879 to advance the study of Greek language, literature, history, art and archaeology in the ancient, Byzantine and modern periods. Membership is open to all, and there is a reduced rate for students. The Society has four main areas of activity. Publications: the Journal of Hellenic Studies (JHS) was first issued in 1880 and is internationally recognized as one of the foremost periodicals in the field of Classical scholarship. It contains articles on a wide variety of Hellenic topics, and reviews of recent books of importance to Greek studies. All members receive both the Journal and its supplement, Archaeological Reports (AR). The Joint Library: the Library is maintained jointly with the Society for the Promotion of Roman Studies and in association with the Institute of Classical Studies of London University. Members resident in or visiting the United Kingdom may borrow the Societies' books and slides, either in person or by post. Meetings: the Society arranges an annual lecture series in London, holds occasional receptions and other meetings, and helps to arrange lectures in collaboration with the various local branches of the Classical Association. Grants: the Society aims to help those engaged in Hellenic Studies at all levels, by making grants of various kinds to undergraduates, graduates and junior researchers. Institutions (typically, but not exclusively, universities) may apply for a grant from the Council of the Society, to fund academic conferences and other events. Schools may apply for grants from the Schools Sub-committee of the Society; details of all grants are available from the Secretary.

Current subscription rates and further details are given in a Prospectus available from the Society office or the Joint Library. For further information, please contact: The Secretary, The Hellenic Society, Senate House, Malet Street, London WC1E 7HU (tel. 020 7862 8730, fax 020 7862 8731, e-mail office@hellenicsociety.org.uk, website <http://www.hellenicsociety.org.uk>).

THE BRITISH SCHOOL AT ATHENS

The British School at Athens (founded in 1886) exists to promote research in Greek history, art, archaeology, anthropology, geography, environment, language and literature of all periods, and provides facilities for research and travel for its members. Its premises in Athens consist of a residential hostel, an excellent library, map and archive collections, a small museum and the Fitch Laboratory, a centre for science-based archaeology. The School also maintains a residential 'dig-house' at Knossos in Crete, which serves as a base for excavations and for scholars engaged in research. Membership is open to established scholars (both in post and retired), postgraduate research students, teachers of classics and related subjects in schools, undergraduates and participants in fieldwork in Greece. Other persons working in the field of Hellenic studies may be admitted at the discretion of the Director. Subscribing members are entitled to receive School publications at favourable rates.

The School conducts an annual programme of fieldwork and is currently engaged in fieldwork (excavation and survey) and related archaeological research projects at Knossos, Keros (Cyclades), East Crete, Kato Phana (Chios), Boeotia, Sparta, Laconia, Kythera and Lefkandi. In September a Summer School on the archaeology and topography of ancient Greece, with a programme of lectures and visits to sites and museums, is offered to undergraduate students. In alternate years a two-week course of lectures and site visits is available to teachers of classics and classical civilizations in UK schools, in association with JACT. A postgraduate taught course (of eight weeks duration, January to March, most recently on Greek sanctuaries) is offered in alternate years; further details are available from the London office.

Studentships and awards are available annually for postgraduate research in Greece, and short-term bursaries (up to three months) are offered to Greek and Cypriot graduates for study at British institutions.

The Annual of the British School at Athens publishes reports of the School's major fieldwork projects and articles on a wide range of Hellenic subjects. The School also publishes jointly with the Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies 'Archaeology in Greece' (in Archaeological Reports), an up-to-date account of current archaeological fieldwork. The series of Supplementary Volumes and BSA Studies consist of detailed publications of major School excavations and related topics.

Details of membership, courses, research awards, subscription rates and available publications may be obtained from: The Secretary of the London Office, British School at Athens, Senate House, Malet Street, London WC1E 7HU (tel. 020 7862 8732, fax 020 7862 8733, e-mail bsa@sas.ac.uk, web site www.bsa.gla.ac.uk).
