

Notes on Contributors

David Wiggins

Wykeham Professor of Logic in the University of Oxford. He was previously Professor of Philosophy at Birkbeck College, London. He has written Sameness & Substance, and Needs, Values Truth.

Ton van den Beld

Associate Professor of Moral Philosophy at the University of Utrecht, The Netherlands. A Czech edition of his dissertation on the political and social philosophy of Thomas G. Masaryk will shortly be published in Prague.

Oswald Hanfling

Visiting Research Professor at the Open University. His writings include Wittgenstein's Later Philosophy (Macmillan 1989) and The Quest for Meaning (Blackwell 1987).

Louis Pojman

Professor of Philosophy at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point. His books include The Logic of Subjectivity and Religious Belief and the Will. He is currently working on the topics of desert and equality.

Theodore Redpath

Dr Redpath died earlier this year at the age of 83. He read English at Cambridge in the 1930s and went on to do a Ph.D. on Leibniz under C. D. Broad. In 1950 he became a Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge and for many years served as a University Lecturer in English. His interests ranged widely from Greek tragedy and theories of tragedy to topics in aesthetics and the history of philosophy. His published work included books on Tolstoy (1960) and Wittgenstein: A Student's Memoir (1990), editions of Donne's Songs and Sonnets (1956; revised 1983) and Shakespeare's Sonnets (1964), and numerous articles on Bacon, Tennyson, Locke, Wittgenstein and Moore.

Stephen J. Boulter

Teaches philosophy at the University of Glasgow, where he has recently completed his doctoral thesis, 'Aquinas and the Realist Dispute in Science'.