

Founded in 1954, the Business History Conference (BHC) is a non-profit organization devoted to encouraging all aspects of the research, writing, and teaching of business history and of the environment in which business operates. Its membership is international and representative of economists, historians, and those in allied fields, such as history of technology, accounting, labor, transportation, and government, who focus on business history as a means of understanding their subjects.

LICENSE

It is a condition of publication in the journal that authors grant an exclusive license to the Business History Conference. This ensures that requests from third parties to reproduce articles are handled efficiently and consistently and will also allow the article to be as widely disseminated as possible. Authors may use their own material in other publications provided that the journal is acknowledged as the original place of publication and Cambridge University Press as the publisher.
