

Arabic Sciences and Philosophy

Published by Cambridge University Press, this major international journal is devoted to the history of the Arabic sciences, mathematics and philosophy in the world of Islam between the eighth and the eighteenth centuries.

Coverage

Arabic Sciences and Philosophy publishes original studies of the highest standards. Its policy is to encourage studies of the inter-relations between the Arabic, Greek, and Indian sciences and philosophy, and Latin, Byzantine, Hebrew, Italian and other European sciences and philosophy.

Arabic Sciences and Philosophy will be essential reading not only for specialists in Arabic and Islamic science and philosophy, but also for scholars with an interest in medieval science, and the history of science and philosophy more generally.

Information for Authors

Prospective authors should send their contributions, typed and double-spaced on quarto or A4 paper, to the Editor, Professor Anthony O'Hear, Royal Institute of Philosophy, 14 Gordon Square, London WC1H 0AG. They should retain a second copy for the purpose of checking proofs. When an article has been accepted for publication, the author is strongly encouraged to send a copy of the final version on computer disk (Apple Macintosh or IBM compatible PC) together with the hard copy typescript, giving details of the wordprocessing software used (Microsoft Word, Word or Word Perfect). However, the publisher reserves the right to typeset material by conventional means if an author's disk proves unsatisfactory. Authors should observe the conventions of the journal. The Editor may alter manuscripts wherever necessary to make them conform to the stylistic and bibliographical conventions of the journal. Single quotation marks should be used except where there is a quotation within another. The titles of books and journals should be underlined (i.e. to be printed in italics), as should foreign words. Titles of articles should be in single quotation marks.

Notes and references will be printed as footnotes and should be typed (double-spacing) on a separate sheet, numbered consecutively. They should be referred to in the text by superscripts. Citations should be as follows:

The return of contributions cannot be guaranteed unless they are accompanied by stamps, or in the case of contributions from abroad, by international coupons, to cover postage. A self-addressed envelope should also be enclosed.

Only corrections of printer's errors can be allowed in proofs. Authors are therefore asked to send any alterations or additions to Professor O'Hear as soon as possible after receiving his letter of acceptance.

Authors of articles, discussion papers and review articles will receive twenty-five offprints free of charge. Additional offprints can be ordered when proofs are returned by arrangement with the Institute.

Books for review should be sent to the Editor at the Institute and not to Cambridge University Press. Publishers are asked to note that non-philosophical works are not reviewed in Philosophy.

Authors' corrected proofs should be sent to Professor O'Hear at Royal Institute of Philosophy, 14 Gordon Square, London, WC1H 0AG. All other correspondence should also be addressed to the Institute.
