

Notice to Contributors

Contributions within the scope covered by the journal (see inside front cover) are invited and should be sent to either of the Editors. Electronic submission is preferred (in pdf format if possible, especially if it contains Greek); if hard copy is submitted, only one copy need be sent. Contributors should be sure to keep a copy of the version submitted. Articles are routinely sent to one or more referees for peer review. Contributors whose work is accepted for publication will be asked to supply a final electronic version (in a simple, unformatted Microsoft Word format and in Times New Roman font) as an email attachment or a disk, as well as a final hard copy version of the paper. Authors will be sent a pdf version (plus cover and contents page) of the final formatted copy of any paper published in the journal.

Preparation of Copy

In general, submissions should conform to the instructions in the current edition of Hart's Rules for Compositors and Readers. Note the following special requests:

Articles should be typed in double spacing and on one side of the paper only. Footnotes should be numbered consecutively and typed in double spacing. Greek quotations should be in Greek script and not transliterated. A translation of longer passages of Greek and Latin should normally be included.

Quotations in Latin should be italicised (or underlined to indicate italics), except for long indented passages; quotations in English, French, German, etc. should be put in single inverted commas. A quotation within a quoted passage has double inverted commas. Single words or self-contained phrases (such as faute de mieux) may be italicised (or underlined to indicate italics). The following should not be italicised: ad loc., ap., c., cf., e.g., ibid., i.e., s.v., viz.

References should normally be given in the footnotes, in the following form:

BOOKS

G.H. Gellie, Sophocles, A Reading (Melbourne 1972) 53–78.

A.D. Trendall, The Red-Figured Vases of Lucania, Campania and Sicily 1 (Oxford 1967) 193-4, or 1.193-4.

Authors' initials should be stated, at least at their first mention.

ARTICLES

A.S. Henry, 'Euripides, Hippolytos 790–855', CQ 26 (1976) 229–31 or A.S. Henry (CQ 26 [1976] 229–31).

Both year and volume number should be given.

Abbreviations may follow the style of L'Année philologique.

ANCIENT AUTHORITIES

Ar. Birds 136; Arist. Nic. Eth. 3.9.7 or Arist. Pol. 1273a2; Hom. Il. 5.1 (not E 1); Cic. Phil. 2.19; Quint. 10.1.45; Soph. O.T. 225. Most single references to ancient authors and documents should be placed in the text, rather than in footnotes.

When a modern work is referred to several times in footnotes, it is preferred that its full title be given only in the first footnote in which it appears; subsequent references to the work should be by author's name and by this footnote number. Otherwise, cross-references inside an article should be kept to a minimum and, if used, the author should indicate the relevant page and line of the typescript.

The following abbreviations should be noted:

CAH 9.536; CIL 6.29271; FGtH 115 F 225; *PIR*² C 763; RE 4A.629–753; TLL 6.2878.16.

BC/BCE/CE should appear after, and AD before, the number of the year.

GRADUATE STUDIES IN CLASSICS & ANCIENT HISTORY

The future is nothing, but the past is myself, my own history, the seed of my present thoughts, the mould of my present disposition. – R.L. Stevenson

The ancient civilizations of Greece, Rome and the Middle East laid the foundations of modern literature, culture and politics. Graduate studies in Classics and Ancient History at ANU offer you the opportunity to explore these ancient worlds and better understand the contemporary world.

History at ANU is ranked number one in Australia and number 12 in the world*.
Our degrees offer:

- > language courses in Latin or Ancient Greek
- > study tours to Turkey and Greece under the guidance of our researchers, and
- > teaching in the ANU Classics Museum housing ancient art and objects of daily life from Greece, Rome, Egypt and the Near East.
