Submit your proposal for a themed section in Social Policy and Society

Social Policy and Society publishes a uniquely structured themed section in each issue which is designed to offer an overview of a particular policy-relevant theme. The inclusion of a review article and a short guide to useful sources help to make these themed sections an invaluable resource for academics, policy-makers and students. By allowing flexibility in the number of articles in a themed section, the Guest Editors have the freedom to take the appropriate approach for their theme.

Themed section proposals are welcome on any topic that is relevant to social policy. Recent topics have included: ‘Looking for Trouble?’ Critically Examining the UK Government’s Troubled Families Programme; Policy Responses to Ageing and the Extension of Working Lives; and Assessing the Effects of Conditional Cash Transfers in Latin American Societies in the Early Twenty-First Century.

Themed section proposals must include:

• The envisaged title
• Names and institutional affiliations of the proposed Guest Editor(s)
• A rationale for the Themed Section that outlines the key issues to be explored and justifies the authors chosen
• A list of contributors and their institutional affiliations
• An ordered list of contents that conforms with the requirements for Themed Sections
• The author(s), title and a 500 word abstract of each proposed article

Proposals should be sent to the editors via email at spseditors@sheffield.ac.uk. All proposals are reviewed by the Editorial Board and can be submitted at any time.

For further information please consult the Instructions for prospective Guest Editors of a Themed Section (cambridge.org/sp-s-ifc) or contact the editors.

Sociology
Books and Journals from Cambridge University Press

Cambridge’s sociology list is one of the longest established and most respected in the world. Including leading authors such as Michael Mann, Anthony Giddens, Charles Tilly, Theda Skocpol and Margaret Archer, our books list has particular strengths in social theory, historical sociology, political sociology and research methods.

This is complemented by a cluster of leading journals including European Journal of Sociology, Journal of Social Policy and Ageing & Society.

Guidelines for Contributors

1. All contributions and correspondence should be sent to SP & S Administrator, Department of Sociological Studies, University of Sheffield, Southport, S10 2TU, ukspseditors@sheffield.ac.uk

2. Articles should be up to 6,000 words including endnotes, but excluding tables and bibliography. Word length must be stated.

3. Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, and has not been submitted for publication elsewhere. If an author is publishing a related article elsewhere, this fact should be stated. Authors of articles published in the journal own copyright to Cambridge University Press (with certain rights reserved) and will receive a copyright assignment form for signature on acceptance of their paper. Contributors are responsible for obtaining permission for reproduction in any material that they do not own copyright to, to be used in both print and electronic media, and for ensuring that the appropriate acknowledgements are included in their manuscript.

4. Contributions should be typed double-spaced with generous margins on A4 paper. Contributors should send an electronic copy of the manuscript formatted in Microsoft Word, text and page numbers. Further guidance on avoiding sexist, racist and disablist language is published by the British Sociological Association (BSA) – see www.britsoc.co.uk/equality. The editorial team are happy to advise contributors on the most suitable terminology to use, particularly with respect to subjects not covered by the BSA guidelines, such as sex.

5. Discriminatory language should be avoided. Further guidance on avoiding sexist, racist and disabled or other inappropriate language is published by the British Sociological Association (BSA) – see www.britsoc.co.uk/equality. The editorial team are happy to advise contributors on the most suitable terminology to use, particularly with respect to subjects not covered by the BSA guidelines, such as sex.

6. The Harvard (author/date) system should be used and reference to page numbers in the text should be shown as follows: Maltby, 2002:1 and not Maltby, 2002, p. 1. References to websites should contain the full URL and date the site was accessed, i.e. http://www.social-policy.com [accessed 04.11.2011].

7. Such notes as are essential should be referred to in numerical order throughout the text and the numbers shown as superscript. These notes should be endnotes rather than footnotes and should be placed after the body of the text and before the references.

8. Tables and figures should be clearly laid out and designed to fit onto a page 18 cm x 12 cm. Vertical lines between columns should be omitted, and horizontal lines limited to the top and bottom of the table, with an additional one below the column headings. Totals and percentages should be labelled, and units identified.

9. If an article is accepted for publication, first proofs will be sent to the contact author as an electronic link to a pdf document which the author downloads. Only typographical errors may be changed at proof stage. The publisher reserves the right to charge authors for corrections of non-typographical errors. Paper offprints are not automatically supplied to authors. Upon publication the corresponding author will receive a pdf of their article. Paper offprints can be purchased by using the form supplied at proof stage.

The Social Policy Association

The Social Policy Association supports the study of all aspects of Social Policy through the sponsorship of its journals (Journal of Social Policy, Social Policy and Society), the publication of a newsletter, the organisation of an annual conference and a small grants scheme. It represents its members through contact with a range of bodies, including the ESRC. For further information about the activities of the SPA, contact: Rachael Dobson, School of Psychology, Criminology and Sociology, Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, Kingston University, Penfryn Road Campus, Kingston upon Thames, Surrey KT1 2EE.
