

From a Distance. Together.

ACTIVATE OR RENEW YOUR MEMBERSHIP TODAY!

nationalities.org/membership

The Association for the Study of Nationalities would like to thank you for your past support, and we invite you to renew your membership for 2022. Your membership enables the ASN community to remain strong and continue its mission to advance scholarship in this important field. ASN is an inclusive scholarly community built on intellectual contributions of hundreds of members from all over the world. As a self-organizing association, our success depends primarily on a large and committed array of volunteer scholars who devote their time, energy, creative ideas, and efforts to push forward our mission.

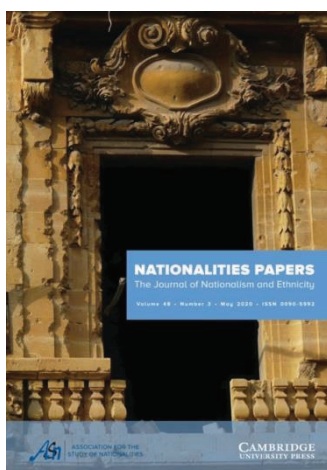

Beyond access to ASN's flagship journal Nationalities Papers, your membership dues contribute to programs that recognize and promote exceptional works of scholarship, including work by doctoral students.

Membership dues also support #VirtualASN, our online initiative that brings together our worldwide ASN community to exchange ideas and engage in critical debates. While our first Virtual ASN events were open to the academic community at large, we also are planning year-round webinars, reading groups, and workshops that will be accessible only to ASN members.

Thank you for your contributions to our community!

nationalities.org/membership

4th Nationalities Papers Photo Contest

Our annual photo contest rewards scholars for the best photos from their fieldwork. These photos are judged in terms of their content, synthesis, and visually compelling insights about nationalism, ethnicity, or migration. The photo submissions should be accompanied by a brief description (300-500 words) of how the photo relates to the fieldwork of the applicant in particular and nationalism, ethnicity or migration in general. This is the third year of the photo contest!

The contest is judged by a jury comprised of scholars from the editorial board of the journal and past awardees. The membership of the jury changes every year, and is led by the editor-in-chief and supported by the managing editor. The 6 prize-winning photographs will be featured on the cover of Nationalities Papers. The photographer will be acknowledged in Nationalities Papers.

Timeline

- April 30, 2022: Contest closes for entries and nominees notified.
- May 2022: The winners will be announced.

2022 Nationalities Papers Photo Contest Committee

The winners will be chosen by the following scholars:

Ana Ljubojević - University of Graz, Austria

Harris Mylonas - George Washington University, USA

Hélène Thibault - Nazarbayev University, Kazakhstan

Submit your photos and brief descriptions electronically by emailing them to the Managing Editor of Nationalities Papers: np.managingeditor@gmail.com

For rules and additional information please visit <https://nationalities.org/prizes/nationalities-papers-photo-contest>

Nationalities Papers is the place to turn for cutting edge multidisciplinary work on nationalism, migration, diasporas, and ethnic conflict. The journal's geographical emphasis is on Central, Eastern, and Southeastern Europe, Russia, Ukraine, the Caucasus, and Eurasia. Our mission is to feature both theoretical and empirical work, and review articles. We publish high-quality peer-reviewed articles from historians, political scientists, sociologists, anthropologists, as well as scholars from other fields.

Instructions for Contributors can be found at cambridge.org/nps-ipc

Subscription information. Nationalities Papers is published six times a year (January, March, May, July, September, November) by Cambridge University Press, 1 Liberty Plaza, New York, NY 10006, USA.

The subscription price of Volume 49 (2021) including delivery by air where appropriate (but excluding VAT), is $1973.00 (£1193.00) for institutions print and online; $1727.00 (£1042.00) for institutions online only. Individual subscriptions are available at $454.00 (£276.00) for print only.

Orders, which must be accompanied by payment, may be sent to a bookseller, subscription agent or direct to the publisher: Cambridge University Press, Journals Fulfillment Department, 1 Liberty Plaza, New York, NY, 10006, USA; or Cambridge University Press, UPH, Shaftesbury Road, Cambridge CB2 8RU, England. For single issues, please contact subscriptions_newyork@cambridge.org.

Advertising. For information on display ad sizes, rates, and deadlines for copy, please visit the journal homepage at cambridge.org/nps or contact USAdSales@cambridge.org.

ISSN: 0090-5992

EISSN: 1465-3923

© Association for the Study of Nationalities, 2021. All rights reserved.

No part of this publication may be reproduced, in any form or by any means, electronic, photocopying, or otherwise, without permission in writing from Cambridge University Press. Policies, request forms and contacts are available at: <http://www.cambridge.org/about-us/rights-permissions/permissions/permissions-requests/>

Permission to copy (for users in the U.S.A.) is available from Copyright Clearance Center <http://www.copyright.com>, email: info@copyright.com.

Postmaster. Send address changes to Nationalities Papers, Cambridge University Press, 1 Liberty Plaza, 20th Floor, New York, NY 10006, USA.

On the Cover. Photo taken by Paul Goode: "Military cadets parading after the ceremonial laying of wreaths at the Memorial to Heroes of War and the Home Front in Perm, Russia. Since coming to power in 2000, Vladimir Putin rebuilt the memory of victory in the Great Patriotic War as a means of unifying the nation. Beyond the well-known military parade in Moscow on Victory Day (May 9th), regional governments organize commemorative displays that bring together the resources and participation of church, state, business, and civil society actors. While the government appeals to patriotism through public displays of readiness to defend the motherland, most Russians are unmoved by official patriotism. By contrast, the more authentic, everyday practices associated with patriotism are apolitical and bound to family and friendship. This picture captures this contrast between official and everyday patriotism in a shared moment of levity between a pair of military cadets during a somber patriotic ritual in the run-up to the Victory Day parade. Photo taken in Perm, Russia, May, 2016."

CONTENTS

State of the Field

- A New Wave of Research on Civilizational Politics
Henry E. Hale and Marlene Laruelle 597

Special Issue on 1918 and the Ambiguities of “Old-New Europe”

- Introduction: 1918 and the Ambiguities of “Old-New Europe”
John Paul Newman and Lili Zách 609

- ‘Compulsory Independence’: Irish Nationalist Images of Empire and Republic
after the Birth of Independent German-Austria, 1919–1922
Lili Zách 614

- “Completely Forgotten and Totally Ignored”: Czechoslovak Veterans of the Austro-Hungarian Army and the Transitions of 1918–1919
Jiří Hutečka 629

- End of War or End of State? 1918 in the Public Memories of Post-Communist Croatia
and Serbia
Tea Sindbæk Andersen and Ismar Dedović 646

- Women’s Organizations and Antisemitism: The First Parliamentary Elections in Independent Poland
Aneta Stępień 662

Articles

- In Search of the Lands of Rus’: The Idea of Ukraine in the Imagination of the Little Russian Movement (1917–1919)
Gennadii Korolov 679

- Historians as Activists: History Writing in Times of War. The Case of Ukraine in 2014–2018
Yuliya Yurchuk 691

- The Curse of Displacement: Local Narratives of Forced Expulsion and the Appropriation of Abandoned Property in Abkhazia
Andrea Peinhopf 710

- Third Rome or Potemkin village: Analyzing the Extent of Russia’s Power in Serbia, 2012–2019
Ernest A. Reid 728

- Unraveling the Black Mountain: Authoritarian Submission and Party Preference in Montenegro
Jovana Davidović 738

- Russian Strategic Narratives on R2P in the ‘Near Abroad’
Juris Pūpcenoks and Eric James Seltzer 757

- The Debate about Soviet Genocide in Lithuania in the Case Law of The European Court of Human Rights
Dovilė Sagatienė 776

- Film Review 792

- Book Review 795

Cambridge Core

For further information about this journal please go to the journal website at: cambridge.org/nps

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS