

HOLY THINGS AND PROFANE

Anglican Parish
Churches in Colonial Virginia

Dell Upton

Dell Upton has recreated colonial Virginia in an entirely new and profound reading of its churches. Convinced that buildings are only as interesting as the people who made and used them, the author uses the Anglican church as a means of portraying life in England's largest and most prosperous mainland American colony. The parish thus provides a revealing microcosm of a hierarchical society whose leaders used the "holy" church to buttress their own "profane" power.

"Dell Upton's book is a must for architectural historians, and it also commends itself to other readers, embracing as it does the Anglican Communion, American history, Virginia, sociology, and theology. Out of an incredible amount of research, Professor Upton has created a highly readable work, which will captivate anyone interested in any of its various aspects."

This first objective study of Arminius and his thought corrects popular misconceptions of his teachings and reveals the extent of his contributions to modern Reformed theology. Available, $14.95

Worldly Saints

The Puritans as They Really Were by Leland Ryken

The Puritans speak for themselves on "Church and Worship," "Marriage and Sex" and other topics... in a work that challenges prevailing misconceptions about the tradition that is the fountainhead for evangelical Protestants. December, $14.95

THE ROLE OF WOMEN

Daughters of the Church

Women and Ministry From New Testament Times to the Present by Ruth A. Tucker and Walter L. Liefeld

Neither feminist nor traditionalist in its approach, here is an objective and comprehensive survey of women in the church from the New Testament to the present. May, $14.95

No Time for Silence

Evangelical Women in Public Ministry Around the Turn of the Century by Janette Hassey

"... information that may astound even those who thought they knew the history of their own denomination... should be required reading in seminaries and Bible schools"—Arnold T. Olson, Past President, Evangelical Free Church. Available, $7.95

WESLEYAN STUDIES

Whitefield and Wesley on the New Birth

by Timothy L. Smith

Representative sermons from two great preachers compare and contrast their views on the universality of the offer of salvation and the nature of a Christian's growth in sanctification. An introductory essay prefaces each sermon. November, $7.95

The Beauty of Holiness

Phoebe Palmer as Theologian, Revivalist, Feminist, and Humanitarian by Charles Edward White

She shaped the early American holiness movement—yet many church historians have questioned her theological soundness. This well-documented study provides both answers and insights. Available, $15.95

Charles Wesley on Sanctification

A Biographical and Theological Study by John R. Tyson

An account of how Charles Wesley formed his own theological concepts—especially on sanctification—even though doing so risked losing his brother's confidence. Available, $14.95

HISTORY CHARTS

Chronological and Background Charts of Church History

by Robert C. Walton

A collection of 84 charts summarizing the key persons, events, dates and ideas of church history—from ancient to modern European and American. Index and bibliography. Available, $10.95

PRIZES OF THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CHURCH HISTORY

The Frank S. and Elizabeth D. Brewer Prize

The Brewer Prize is a subsidy of $2000 to assist the author in publishing a booklength manuscript in church history. The winning manuscript shall be published in a manner acceptable to the Society. If competing works are otherwise of equal quality, preference will be given to topics relating to the history of Congregationalism. Complete manuscripts in final form must be received by William B. Miller, Secretary, American Society of Church History, 305 East Country Club Lane, Wallingford, PA 19086, by 15 December 1987, with return postage included. The award will be announced at the spring meeting of the Society in 1988.

The Philip Schaff Prize

The Schaff Prize is an award in the amount of $1000 to be paid to the author of the best book originating in the North American scholarly community which presents original research in the history of Christianity or any period thereof. Books considered for the next award must have been published during the year 1985 or 1986. Any member of the Society may nominate titles for consideration for the Schaff Prize. Copies of books nominated do not have to be submitted. Titles nominated for consideration must be received by William B. Miller, Secretary, American Society of Church History, 305 East Country Club Lane, Wallingford, PA 19086, by 1 March 1987. The prize will be announced at the annual meeting of the Society in December 1987.

The Sidney E. Mead Prize

The Mead Prize is an award in the amount of $250 for the author of the best essay in any field of church history written by a doctoral candidate or recent recipient whose manuscript stems directly from doctoral research. The manuscript will be published in Church History. Entries of no more than twenty-five double-spaced pages, including notes, must be submitted to Richard L. Greaves, Chair, Committee on Research, American Society of Church History, c/o Department of History, Florida State University, Tallahassee, FL 32306, by 1 July 1987. The prize will be announced at the annual meeting of the Society in December 1987.

CALL FOR PAPERS

The 1987 annual meeting of the American Society of Church History will be held in Washington, D.C., 27-30 December. The program will focus on the relationship between religion and society. The program committee welcomes proposals for entire sessions, individual papers, or panels. Each proposal must include an abstract that summarizes its thesis, method, and significance, as well as a curriculum vitae for each participant. Send proposals to Professor Jay P. Dolan, Cushwa Center, University of Notre Dame, 614 Memorial Library, Notre Dame, IN 46556. The deadline for submission is 15 January 1987.

Quakers in Conflict

THE HICKSITE REFORMATION

H. Larry Ingle

In this history of the most dramatic division in the Society of the Friends in this country, Ingle shows that the conflict grew from tensions over matters of doctrine basic to Protestantism and from an internal struggle for power.

PHILIP SCHAFF
Christian Scholar
and Ecumenical Prophet

George H. Shriver

As part of its centennial celebration, the American Society of Church History proudly announces the publication of the biography of its founding father, Philip Schaff. This important book chronicles his unparalleled life and work as biblical scholar, teacher, ecumenist, historian, author, world traveler, and advocate of academic freedom and liturgical renewal.

“Intimately acquainted with the relevant archival materials at the two seminaries at which Schaff taught during his brilliant career, George Shriver has woven together out of the rich yet uneven materials that are available the remarkable story [of Philip Schaff’s life and career]. It will refresh for the late twentieth century the memory of a great theological educator and prophetic ecumenist whose life spanned so much of the nineteenth century.”

A Short History of Christian Thought

P. LINWOOD URBAN, Swarthmore College

This introduction to the history of Christian thought is organized topically, analyzing the great issues that have occupied Christian thinkers since the earliest days of the Church. Questions of doctrine, such as the Trinity and the Incarnation, are dealt with in full, as well as such important issues in natural theology as the existence of God, freedom of the will, and the problem of evil.

1986 304 pp. cloth $29.95 paper $10.95

Religion in England

1688-1781

GORDON RUPP, Emmanuel College and Fitzwilliam College, Cambridge

This book examines the profound effect of the Revolution of 1688 on the Churches of England. Rupp describes the life and worship of the Churches; the survival of intolerance despite the principle of toleration; the growth of the dissenting Churches; and the predicament of the Roman Catholics.

(Oxford History of the Christian Church)

1986 520 pp. $79.00

Skepticism and Reasonable Doubt

The British Naturalist Tradition in Wilkins, Hume, Reid, and Newman

M. JAMIE FERREIRA, University of Virginia

Tracing the development of the British tradition of naturalism from the 17th to the 19th century, this book brings together a wide range of thinkers, both Catholic and Protestant, to explore the themes of proof, practice, and the role of common sense. By examining what these thinkers can teach us about the relations between belief, action, and skepticism, the author contributes to the philosophical study of naturalist replies to skepticism in general, as well as to a deeper appreciation of this particular segment of British intellectual history.

January 1987 208 pp. $29.95

The New England Soul

Preaching and Religious Culture in Colonial New England

HARRY S. STOUT, Yale University

"[Stout] has mastered the unpublished documents more fully than any previous writer I am aware of and uses them to give solidity and vividness to his narrative." — The New York Times Book Review. From the founding of the Puritan colonies to the outbreak of the Revolution, this eloquent history of preaching in New England reconstructs the full import of the colonial sermon as a multi-faceted institution shaping religious and political thought for one and a half centuries.

1986 352 pp. $29.95

Under the Cope of Heaven

Religion, Society and Politics in Colonial America

PATRICIA U. BONOMI, New York University

"Bonomi's vigorously argued book forces us to reconsider the role of religion in the lives of ordinary eighteenth-century Americans." — T.H. Breen, Northwestern University. Written with grace and style, this book focuses on 18th-century religious history in the middle and southern colonies as well as in Puritan New England to demonstrate religion's vital role in shaping early American life and values.
