ON PRAYER

JEAN-PIERRE DE CAUSSADE, S.J.

With an Introduction by Dom John Chapman

The continued requests for reprints of the works of De Caussade reveal how enduring is the teaching of this eighteenth-century Jesuit spiritual writer. The recent publication in the Orchard Series of a new omnibus edition of his Self-Abandonment to Divine Providence and the letters of spiritual advice he wrote to a number of Visitation nuns, for which there has been a very heavy demand, has made this reprint of his classic series of dialogues on prayer a timely answer to those requests. 18s.

LENTEN READING 1960

Spiritual reading can do a lot to help make Lent a time of really fruitful preparation. The books listed below are all small paper-backs that can be read in snatched moments—in the bus queue, in the lunch hour or at night.

Meditations in Lent

Sebastian Bullough, O.P.

A series of short meditations for the Sundays in Lent on the real significance of Lenten penance and prayer.

2s. od.

The Pain of Christ

Gerald Vann, O.P.

Lenten sermons on the suffering of Christ and the problem of evil in the world today.

5s. 6d.

The Last Week

A Dominican Tertiary

Short, simple meditations, one for each day in Lent, on every phase of the Passion.
