BEYOND THEOLOGY

THE AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF EDWARD SCRIBNER AMES

Edited by Van Meter Ames

As a philosopher, Edward Scribner Ames was a pragmatist, sharing membership in the "Chicago School" of philosophy with such noted men as John Dewey, George Herbert Mead, James H. Tufts, and Addison Moore. As a theologian, he was a liberal, earning the reputation during his forty years' ministry at the University Church of Disciples of Christ as that denomination's greatest clergyman since Alexander Campbell. Both his remarkable character and his extraordinary ability to influence for the better those with whom he came into contact emerge clearly from his autobiography—about which Rev. Harold E. Fey, editor of the Christian Century says: "I believe that most readers will lay the book down after reading it convinced that they have met what in India would be called a 'Great Soul.'"

THE HISTORY OF RELIGIONS

Edited by Mircea Eliade and Joseph M. Kitagawa

These essays in methodology—in memory of the late Joachim Wach—have been written by Wilfred Cantwell Smith, Raffaele Pettazzoni, Jean Danielou, Louis Massignon, Ernst Benz, Friedrich Heiler, and the editors. Each writer deals in his separate way with methodological problems and with the implications of systematic knowledge. The individual papers sometimes complement, sometimes challenge each other, but each offers a feast of knowledge and intriguing theory to the alert, intelligent reader.

HENRY VAUGHAN

EXPERIENCE AND THE TRADITION

By Ross Garner

"Ross Garner's Henry Vaughan is an informed, thoughtful, and provocative book. Whatever particular queries a reader may have, the study as a whole is, first, a vigorous and acute corrective to the conventional Hermetic approach of nearly all modern criticism, and, secondly, a positive interpretation of an individual and elusive but thoroughly Christian poet. The book is both broadly based and minutely exegetical, and it has value for any student of seventeenth-century religious poetry and thought."—DOUGLAS BUSH.

The Nineteenth Century in Europe

THE PROTESTANT AND EASTERN CHURCHES

Volume II of Christianity in a Revolutionary Age

A History of Christianity in the 19th and 20th Centuries

By KENNETH SCOTT LATOURETTE

Against the backdrop of the vast economic, political and social upheaval that characterized nineteenth-century Europe, Dr. Latourette presents a panoramic country-by-country review of Protestantism and Eastern Orthodoxy. Never before have the developments in that era in theology, church organization, devotional life, and social outreach been so fully presented within one volume.

“A remarkably complete survey. No other volume approaches it either in scope or detail. It is a mine of important information, otherwise not readily available except through diligent research. One of its most important values is the balanced picture it gives of European Protestantism as a whole.”—WINTHROP S. HUDSON
