THE HARVARD ACADEMY
FOR INTERNATIONAL AND AREA STUDIES
The Harvard Academy Scholars Program
2009-2010

The Academy Scholars Program seeks to identify and support outstanding scholars who are at the start of their careers whose work combines disciplinary excellence in the social sciences (including history and law) with a command of the language, history or culture of non-Western countries or regions. Their scholarship may elucidate domestic, comparative, or transnational issues, past or present.

The Academy Scholars are a select group of individuals who show promise of becoming leading scholars at major universities or international institutions. The competition for these awards is open only to recent Ph.D. (or comparable professional school degree) recipients and doctoral candidates. Pre-doctoral applicants must have completed all course work and general examinations at the time of application and are expected to have made significant progress on their dissertations.

Academy Scholars are appointed and supported by the Harvard Academy for International and Area Studies and are provided time, guidance, access to Harvard facilities, and substantial financial assistance as they work for two years conducting either post-doctoral or final-stage dissertation research in their chosen fields and areas. Some teaching is permitted but not required. The Senior Scholars, a distinguished group of senior Harvard faculty members, act as mentors to the Academy Scholars to help them achieve their intellectual potential.

Post-doctoral Scholars will receive an annual stipend of $48,000, pre-doctoral Scholars will receive an annual stipend of $28,000. Applications for the 2009-2010 class of Academy Scholars are due by October 10, 2008. Finalist interviews will take place in Cambridge December 12, 2008. Notification of Scholarships will be made in January, 2009. For complete information on how to apply visit:

JOURNALS OF
THE AFRICAN STUDIES ASSOCIATION
AVAILABLE IN JSTOR

Since 2002, the African Studies Association has worked with JSTOR, an online digital archive, to provide access to complete back runs of ASA journals. Users may search, browse, view, and print full-text PDF versions of articles in three ASA journals, from their first year published through all but the current and three previous volumes:

African Issues (1971)
African Studies Review (1958)
History in Africa (1974)

These journals are available as part of JSTOR's Arts & Sciences II and the Complement Collections. Users at institutions that participate in any of these collections can access the publications directly at www.jstor.org.

Individual articles from the back issues of ASA's publications are also available for purchase at $12.00 per article through JSTOR's Publisher Sales Service, a collaborative initiative to facilitate access to important scholarly literature for independent scholars. For more information on this program, please visit http://www.jstor.org/about/pss\_title\_list.html.

JSTOR is proud to collaborate with the African Studies Association to preserve and make widely available the historic literature of our field.

JSTOR is a not-for-profit organization dedicated to helping the scholarly community discover, use, and build upon a wide range of intellectual content in a trusted digital archive. Its overarching aims are to preserve a record of scholarship for posterity and to advance research and teaching in cost-effective ways. JSTOR collaborates with organizations that can help achieve its objectives and maximize the benefits for the scholarly community

STYLE/FORMATTING GUIDELINES

In order to ease the editor's burden, please observe the following guidelines when submitting a paper:

HA is formatted on the Macintosh platform. Mac users should send papers on 3.5" diskette in Microsoft Word 6.0 or below (this feature can be accessed through the "Save As" submenu under "File"). Articles written in WordPerfect, ClarisWorks, etc. should "Save As" and choose "Word 6.0" in the "File Format" dialogue box. If this is not possible, "Save As" a "rtf" (Rich Text File). PC users should send papers on disk in "rtf" format. E-mail users should send papers also on disk. Please be aware that conversion problems often arise between electronic platforms, especially on the PC side since PCs cannot read many Mac electronic files. Therefore, when sending material via e-mail, use the "rtf" format AND send it on a Mac disk. Special font users (e.g., Hausa, Arabic) must send the font family (TrueType or Screen and Print fonts) to the editor on disk in the Mac format.

"10%" not "ten (or 10) percent" always use two numbers after dash in citations unless 1 (1-9) or 3 (197-205) are necessary always write months out in full, e.g., 30 February 1917

single quotation marks (') within double (") quotation marks

ALWAYS embed notes (using the word processor's footnoting capacity) punctuate as follows: , " and ." not ", and ".

Capitalize substantives in titles of both books and articles citation to books: Author, title (place, date), 25-31 (do not use p. or pp.)

citations to articles: author, "title of article," full title of journal 32(1995), 25-31 (do not use p. or pp.)

whenever possible, use first names of authors, not just initials

for spelling, use American conventions ("or," "ize," etc.)

Use "ibid.," to repeat immediately preceding citation only

Guidelines for Authors

put one space, not two, between sentences (between the period and the capitalized letter of the next sentence)

never begin short-title references with an article

indent and separate direct quotations of three lines or more, and omit quotation marks

ALWAYS cite sources (especially quotations) by specific page number/s place note references at ends of sentences only do not indent first paragraphs of sections do not indent paragraphs with tabs, but use the Paragraph style feature of the word processor to indent paragraphs

Please note:

There are no prescribed minimum or maximum page lengths.

The social-science (or intratext) referencing system is acceptable as long as page numbers are included.

Do not send jpeg images (maps, photographs, etc.). These are substandard images not suitable for publication in a professional journal. Photographs must be scanned (gray scale) at 600 dpi and saved as TIFF files. Maps must be scanned (line art) at 1200 dpi if they are NOT to be reduced in size, and at 800 dpi if they must be reduced in size to fit the History in Africa page size. Save your scanned maps as TIFF files also. Given the fact that some e-mail servers do not accept large e-mail attachments, do NOT attach image files to your e-mail communications. It is best to burn all scanned images to a cd (or a DVD if the files are extremely large) and send it to the Production Assistant (Jeff Kaufmann, University of Southern Mississippi, Department of Anthropology and Sociology, 118 College Drive #5074, Hattiesburg, MS 39406).
