An Introduction to

FRENCH CHURCH ARCHITECTURE

By A. GARDNER

Illustrated. 18s. net

“The lover of mediaeval architecture is already much indebted to Mr Arthur Gardner, and now by his new book the debt is greatly increased. . . . The bulk of it consists of photographs, 245 in number. Admirably chosen, they illustrate the development of French architecture from the bare simplicity of the Merovingian baptistery of Saint-Jean at Poitiers or the crypt at Jouarre to the marvels of Flamboyant design such as the south porch at Louviers. An interesting and instructive book to travel with, it is good too to muse over at home in one’s study.”—Notes and Queries.

The Place-Names of

HERTFORDSHIRE

By J. E. B. GOVER, A. MAWER, and
F. M. STENTON

18s. net

English Place-Name Society. Vol. XV

Together with Vol. I, Part II, “The Chief Elements used in English Place-Names.” 21s. net

THIS volume, like other volumes in the English Place-name Survey, not only deals with the history of the names recorded on the Ordnance Survey maps, but is also an ordered survey of the great store of field-name material which may be gathered alike from early documents and from present-day usage.

“We can heartily congratulate Sir Allen Mawer and his learned collaborators on one more fascinating contribution to philology and social history.”—Professor ERNEST WEEKLEY in the Observer.
