The Anglo-Saxon Settlement and Cemetery at Bloodmoor Hill, Carlton Colville, Suffolk
Sam Lucy, Jess Tipper and Alison Dickens

With an associated high status 7th-century cemetery, phased structural sequences, surface deposits and major metalworking assemblages, the publication of the excavations at Bloodmoor Hill represents the most thorough treatment yet of a major early Anglo-Saxon settlement, integrating scientific and in depth specialist reporting with full distributional analyses of material culture.

Announcing two new CAU Landscape Archives Series: New Archaeologies of the Cambridge Region (NACR) and Historiography and Fieldwork (H & F).

Borderlands: The Archaeology of the Addenbrooke's Environs, South Cambridge
(NACR 1)

Christopher Evans, with Duncan Mackay and Leo Webley

A comprehensive account of a major later Iron Age and Conquest Period industrial settlement, the volume also summarises a series of landscape-scale evaluation projects to overview regional settlement patterns 85 years on from Fox's seminal Cambridge Region study.

Fengate Revisited: Further Fen-edge Excavations, Bronze Age Fieldsystems & Settlement and the Wyman Abbott / Leeds Archive
(H & F 1)

Christopher Evans with Emma Beadsmoore, Matt Brudenell & Gavin Lucas

Abydos

Egypt's First Pharaohs and the Cult of Osiris

David O'Connor

As both the burial place of the first kings of Egypt and a cult centre of Osiris, Abydos has long tantalized archaeologists with its continuing yield of incredible finds. With over 40 years' experience of excavation and research at the site, and having made some of its most sensational discoveries, David O'Connor is in an unrivalled position to provide the most up-to-date and comprehensive account of Abydos. He not only elucidates the complex history of the site, but also, through an exploration of the sacred landscape of the area, vividly evokes the power it held for contemporary Egyptians.
