JOSEPH CONRAD

ACHIEVEMENT AND DECLINE

By THOMAS MOSER. Why should the quality of Conrad's writing have declined in his later years? Searching for an answer, Thomas Moser examines the style, structure, characterization, and moral content of the entire body of Conrad's work—and finds the seeds of decline in the early novels themselves. $4.50

CONTEXTS OF CRITICISM

By HARRY LEVIN. Essays ranging from broad problems of critical theory and esthetic formulation to specific analyses of forms and texts are approached from three points of view: working definitions, historical and semantic attempts to define such concepts as "classicism," "realism," and "tradition"; notations and novelists; long views, discussions of such matters as the symbolic interpretation of literature and the development of literary criticism during the past century. $5.00

THE VICTORIAN POETS

A GUIDE TO RESEARCH

Edited by FREDERIC E. FAVERTY. Originating in the deliberations of the Modern Language Association, this book attempts a critical survey of all the recent researches into Victorian poetry. Essays are by Jerome H. Buckley, Paull Franklin Baum, William Clyde DeVane, A. McKinley Terhune, Frederic E. Faverty, Clyde K. Hyder, Howard Mumford Jones, John Pick, and Lionel Stevenson. "In each case . . . a large and useful mass of information has successfully been reduced to packet size, the packet itself being unusually congenial to hand and eye alike."—Twentieth Century $5.00
