Change and Stability in Foreign Policy

The Problems and Possibilities of Détente

KJELL GOLDMANN

"The best theoretical analysis of détente that I have read . . . the competent framework is original, creative and apt to be heuristically useful."

DEBORAH LARSON, Assistant Professor of Political Science, Columbia University

"It has a level of rigor . . . that seems to me rare in books of this field."

GREGORY E. TREVERTON, Lecturer in Public Policy, Harvard University

248pp Hb 0 7450 0560 8 £32.50 Available

The Politics of War

A Study of the Rationality of Violence in Inter-State Relations

CHARLES REYNOLDS

This provocative book provides a fundamental re-evaluation of the theory of warfare, and asks a vital question—when is it rational for a nation to go to war?

The author asks when violence can be instrumental in achieving a political end in the context of international politics, and investigates the strategies practitioners adopt in conventional and nuclear war.

Interpretations of British Politics

The Image and the System

LEONARD TIVEY

"An excellent idea—the book is the product of great learning and mature thought."

PROFESSOR DENNIS KAVANAGH

This new textbook not only presents and discusses the rich range of interpretations developed to explain the British political system, but also makes a major contribution to the general theory of British politics.

State and Regional Nationalism

Territorial Politics and the European State

MICHAEL KEATING

"Michael Keating has written a most balanced, informative, convincing and up-to-date study of territorial politics in Western Europe."

PROFESSOR JACK HAYWARD

The growth of peripheral nationalist and regionalist movements has been one of the most striking features of contemporary west European politics. Offering a rich and comparative analysis of the experience of four countries: Britain, France, Italy and Spain, Keating explores the interaction of regional separatism and governmental centralism.

224pp Hb 0 7450 0272 2 £30.00 Available

Structures of Power

An Introduction to Politics

JOHN SCHWARZMANTEL

"A significant new introduction to some key issues in political theory."

ANDREW GAMBLE

"The kind of book which students new to the topic could read with pleasure and have their interest aroused . . . his breadth of reference within political history, traditional political theory and political science makes the book interesting and agreeable." DR. RODNEY BARKER, Times Higher Education Supplement

The CIA and American Democracy

Rhodri Jeffreys-Jones

In this comprehensive history of the CIA ... the first to be based on verifiable documents and on substantial scholarly sources ...

Jeffreys-Jones examines the agency as an institution operating within a political context.

Providing a probing account of the CIA's shifting relationships with the American public, Congress and presidents, Jeffreys-Jones contends that the successes of the CIA have depended as much on its power to persuade policymakers in Washington as on the quality of its analyses. 336pp. £17.50

Environmentalism and the Future of Progressive Politics

Robert C. Paehlke

Could environmentalism be the basis for a new political ideology ... the first such ideology since the evolution of socialism? In this book Robert C. Paehlke argues convincingly that it can. Environmentalism, he says, encompasses a comprehensive system of thinking which, when integrated with progressive politics, becomes a useful value structure for making individual life choices, taking collective political action, and deciding a broad range of public policy issues. £18.95

At the Creation of a New Germany

From Adenauer to Brandt
An Ambassador's Account

George McGhee

Foreword by John J. McCloy

During the years 1963 to 1968, both Germany and German-American relations underwent drastic changes. From his unique perspective as ambassador to West Germany at that time, George McGhee provides a valuable eyewitness account of those crucial years of transition.

Notes for Contributors

1 All contributions should be sent to: The Editors, British Journal of Political Science, University of Essex, Wivenhoe Park, Colchester, Essex CO4 3SQ. They should not be sent to the Cambridge University Press.

2 Articles submitted to the Journal should in general be between 5,000 and 12,000 words (or equivalent in tables and figures) in length. An abstract not exceeding 120 words is required.

3 Notes and Comments are welcome. A Note should contain a body of original information, a new method for doing something or a new idea (speculation, argument, proof, etc.) presented in a brief and unadorned form without inessential commentary. Comments containing criticisms of articles published in the Journal and additional thoughts on them will be considered for early publication, especially if they are short – say, under 1,000 words.

4 Most issues of the Journal contain a Review Article – either a detailed discussion of a single book or a review of the state of some area of the discipline. Review Articles submitted without prior consultation will be considered for publication, but in their own interest contributors would be well advised not to prepare a Review Article specially for the Journal without first getting in touch with the Editors.

5 Contributors should note the Journal's editorial policy, which is as stated inside the front cover.

6 Authors of articles and Review Articles receive twenty-five free offprints. Additional copies may be bought if they are ordered at proof stage.

7 Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not been previously published and is not being considered for publication elsewhere. In the interest of authors, copyright is normally assigned to the Cambridge University Press.

8 Authors should submit FOUR COPIES of their articles. Contributions must be typed and may be reproduced in any clearly legible form. The preferred size of paper is A4 ( $8\frac{1}{4} \times 11\frac{1}{2}$  in), but quarto ( $8 \times 10$  in) or the US standard size ( $8\frac{1}{2} \times 11$  in) will also be accepted. Because of postage costs, manuscripts not accepted for publication are not normally returned to the author unless their return is specifically requested.

9 The entire material of any article, including footnotes, quotations, appendices, etc., should be double spaced, with left-hand margins of at least  $1\frac{1}{2}$  in. The preferred treatment of footnotes is that they should be numbered consecutively in the text and typed double spaced all together at the end, beginning on a fresh page.

10 Anyone who is preparing a manuscript for submission to the Journal is urged to follow the Journal's style sheet, which covers a number of detailed points concerning footnotes, punctuation, spelling, etc. Copies of the style sheet can be obtained from the Editor. Footnote references should always contain, in the case of books, the name of the author as it appears on the title page, the full title including any subtitle, the place of publication, the name of the publisher and the date of publication, and, in the case of articles, the name of the author, the full title, the name of the journal, the volume number, the year and the page reference (number of first and last page).

11 First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor, by air mail where appropriate, within ten days of receiving them. The master proof will always be sent directly to the Editor by the printer; contributors will receive duplicates.
