

Law & Society Review Condensed Style Sheet

Type manuscripts double-spaced on one side of the paper only. While manuscripts need not conform to this style sheet at the time of submission, all manuscripts must include an abstract, footnotes, and a list of references, and all accepted manuscripts must be revised by the authors to conform to the Review's style. The rules listed below supplement the manuscript information on the inside front cover of the Review. Authors are urged to consult Review issues in volume 26 or later for further illustrations. A detailed style sheet is available from the Editorial Office.

1. Abstracts. All manuscripts should include an abstract of not more than 100 words. No abstracts are required for review essays or comments.
2. Footnotes. Footnotes should be numbered sequentially (except for the author's footnote) and printed on pages immediately following the text (not at the foot of the page). They should contain only substantive comments and additional references not immediately relevant to the text.
3. Tables and Figures. Tables should approximate the appearance of printed tables. Figures should be camera ready; provide originals, not xerographic copies. Tables and/or figures should be placed at the end of the text, after footnotes, appendixes, and references. Their location within the text should be indicated as follows:

Table 1 about here

---

4. Citations. All notes that consist merely of supporting citations should be placed in parentheses in the text. For example:

In a thoughtful essay, Hayden (1991) . . .

OR

Media stories often portray the civil jury as generous (Daniels & Martin 1986:236; Hans 1989: Huber 1988).

The same general rules apply to footnote text.

5. References. References are placed at the end of the manuscript following the footnotes. The list should contain only those sources actually cited in text or notes. Give authors' names as they appear in the original source. For more than one publication by the same author, list them in chronological order, with the older item first. For more than one publication in one year by the same author, use small (lower-case) letters to distinguish them (e.g., 1970a, 1970b).

BOOKS: Last Name, First Name (year) Title of Book. City: Publisher.

Example: Lerner, Melvin J. (1980) Belief in a Just World. New York: Plenum.

CHAPTER IN EDITED VOLUME:

Example: Glazer, Nathan (1979) "The Judiciary and Social Policy," in L. Theberge, ed., The Judiciary in a Democratic Society. Lexington, MA: Lexington Books.

ARTICLES: Last Name, First Name (Year) "Title of Article," volume number Journal initial page of article. (Give month or issue number if each issue is separately paginated.)

Examples: Padgett, John F. (1990) "Plea Bargaining in Prohibition," 24 Law & Society Rev. 413.

Brill, Steven, & James Lyons ((1986) "The Not-So-Simple Crisis," American Lawyer 12 (May).

UNPUBLISHED PAPERS:

Example: Lofquist, William S. (1991) "The Development of Organizational Probation." Presented at American Society of Criminology annual meeting, San Francisco.

All cases cited in text are listed under "Cases Cited" following the References. All statutes cited are listed under "Statutes Cited." For style for cases and statutes, see A Uniform System of Citation.

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS 1993 STUDENT AWARDS

The Law and Society Association is seeking nominations for its Student Awards, which will be presented at the Association's Annual Meeting in Chicago, Illinois, in May, 1993. Awards will be made to those whose nominated paper best represents outstanding law and society research in each of two categories: undergraduate papers, and graduate/law papers. The awards are $100 cash and travel subsidy up to $400 for expenses to attend the annual meeting. Nominations can be made only by a non-student member of the Law and Society Association and through the submission of the recommended student paper to the Committee on Student Awards.

The subject matter and methodology of the recommended papers should be in the interdisciplinary tradition of law and society research, and should reflect the style of articles that appear in the Law & Society Review. All papers entered in the competition should be written by matriculated students at any (U.S. or non-U.S.) institution of higher education between September 1991 and January 1993. Submissions in each category will be evaluated by the Committee on Student Awards, chaired by Jo Dixon.

Send 6 copies of the recommended student paper before January 26, 1993 to:

Jo Dixon
Department of Sociology
New York University
269 Mercer Street
New York NY 10012

NOMINATIONS SOUGHT FOR 1993 HARRY KALVEN PRIZE

The Harry Kalven Prize is awarded by the Law and Society Association for "empirical scholarship that has contributed most effectively to the advancement of research in law and society". It is not a book prize, but is given in recognition of a body of scholarly work. Neither is it a "career achievement" award, however, and at least some portion of the work for which the award is given should have been completed within the past few years.

The committee to select the 1993 recipient of the award is June Starr [chair] State University of New York, Stony Brook; John Hagan, University of Toronto; and Stewart Macaulay, University of Wisconsin, Madison.

Nominations of candidates or suggestions for the committee's consideration should be sent to:

June Starr
Kalven Prize Committee Chair
1769 Park Boulevard
Palo Alto CA 94306

Documentation concerning the significance and contributions of the research, including citations to publications, will assist the committee in its consideration of candidates. Nominations should be received by December 1, 1992. The award will be presented at the 1993 Annual Meeting of the Association in Chicago, Illinois.

The War on Drugs: Commentary & Critique

Vol. 18, No. 4

This issue focuses on the international and domestic facets of the War on Drugs. Authors from Latin America, Australia, and the United States critique the legal and media discourses justifying the program, examine the forces creating the demand for legal and illegal drugs, and conduct a search for an equitable and rational social policy — one not dependent on a “war” footing.

BLOWING THE WHISTLE The Organizational and Legal Implications for Companies and Employees

Marcia P. Miceli, The Ohio State University, and Janet P. Near, Indiana University, Bloomington

“In today’s environment, the effectiveness and sometimes the survivability of public and private sector organizations depends on their ability to constructively involve employees in problem identification and resolution. Whistle-blowing can be a constructive or destructive form of employee involvement depending on how it is handled by the individuals and organizations concerned. Blowing the Whistle makes a valuable contribution to our understanding of this sensitive issue. It is highly recommended reading for those wishing to maximize the benefits and minimize the harm that can come from a whistle-blowing situation.”

ORGANIZATIONAL JUSTICE The Search for Fairness in the Workplace

Blair H. Sheppard, Duke University, Roy J. Lewicki, The Ohio State University, and John W. Minton, Duke University

“This is a much needed book on a most important issue. Sheppard, Lewicki, and Minton illustrate the importance and wide ranging nature of fairness concerns in organizations today. They provide sound, practical advice for managers and suggest new and interesting questions for organizational researchers. This book is for the conscientious manager and academic.”
