Divisions among Christian communions have sometimes arisen from and are often sustained by vastly different accounts of the origins and development of important historical events. Telling the Churches' Stories takes a critical look at the practice of writing church history and challenges historians of Christianity to be self-consciously ecumenical in the practice of their craft. The essays in this volume evaluate and employ fourteen principles for writing Christian history from an ecumenical perspective.

Editors Timothy J. Wengert and Charles W. Brockwell, Jr., begin by placing these principles of historiography more fully within current trends in ecumenism and church history. In response, Richard A. Norris critiques these principles, their moral basis, and the difficulties with their implementation, and Günther Gassmann places these principles squarely within the global context of ecumenical history.

Three noted historians, contributing articles from their own fields, apply these principles to specific case studies: Frederick W. Norris examines the Arian controversy of the fourth century; Elsie Anne McKee looks at Katharina Schütz Zell, an influential sixteenth-century Protestant Reformer; and James Hennesey investigates the role of history in the nineteenth-century Roman Catholic Church in the United States.

A foreword by Justo L. González, a conclusion by Thomas Finger, and a bibliographic essay by Douglas A. Foster also provide ample indication of the importance these principles will have for organizing meaningful discussion of the profound ways in which ecumenical perspectives and history writing interact with each other.

PRIZES OF THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CHURCH HISTORY

The Frank S. and Elizabeth D. Brewer Prize

The Frank S. and Elizabeth D. Brewer Prize, offered annually, is a subvention fund of $1000 to assist a press in publishing a book-length manuscript in church history. The Brewer Prize is limited to first books. Manuscripts already accepted for publication may be submitted for this award, but the publication must have printed on its title-page, "The Frank S. and Elizabeth D. Brewer Prize Essay of the American Society of Church History." The monetary grant will be authorized upon receipt in writing of a commitment from a publisher accepting the manuscript. Complete manuscripts in final form must be received by Henry W. Bowden, P.O. Box 8517, Red Bank, NJ 07701, by 1 November. Manuscripts may not be submitted in more than one ASCH competition. The award will be announced at the Spring meeting of the Society. No award will be made in any year when none of the manuscripts is adjudged to be outstanding.

Winner for 1994: Stephen Burnett "From the Jews' Own Books: Johann Buxtorf, Christian Hebraism, and the Emergence of Jewish Studies."

Winner for 1993: Diana Hochstedt Butler, "Standing Against the Whirlwind: A Study of the Evangelical Party in the Protestant Episcopal Church."

Winner for 1992: Gregory Hanlon, "Confession and Community in Seventeenth-Century France: Catholics and Protestants in Aquitaine."

The Philip Schaff Prize

The Philip Schaff Prize is an award in the amount of $1000 to be paid to the author of the best book originating in the North American scholarly community which presents original research in the history of Christianity or any period thereof. This award is given in odd-numbered years. Books published during the two previous calendar years are eligible for the competition. Any member of the Society may nominate titles for consideration. Copies of nominated books need not be submitted. Titles of nominated books must be received by Henry W. Bowden, P.O. Box 8517, Red Bank, NJ 07701 by 1 March in odd-numbered years. The prize will be announced at the annual Winter meeting of the Society.

Winner for 1993: Stephen J. Stein, The Shaker Experience in America.

Winner for 1991: David D. Hall, Worlds of Wonder, Days of Judgment: Popular Religious Belief in Early New England.

The Sidney E. Mead Prize

The Sidney E. Mead Prize is an award in the amount of $250 for the author of the best unpublished essay in any field of church history written by a doctoral candidate or recent recipient whose manuscript stems directly from doctoral research. The manuscript will be published in Church History. Entries of no more than twenty-five double-spaced pages, including double-spaced endnotes, must be submitted to Henry W. Bowden, P.O. Box 8517, Red Bank, NJ 07701, by 1 July. The prize is offered annually, though no award will be made in any year when none of the manuscripts is adjudged to be outstanding. Manuscripts may not be submitted in more than one ASCH competition. The winner will be announced at the annual Winter meeting of the Society.

Winner for 1992: Alison Williams Lewin, "'Cum Status Ecclesie Noster Sit . . .': Florence and the Council of Pisa (1409)."

Winner for 1991: Ernest Freeburg, "'An Object of Peculiar Interest': The Education of Laura Bridgman."

“This is the most comprehensive and most lucidly written introduction to the methods of historical research and writing in the field of church history that I have seen. . . . A magnificent achievement.”

— Harry S. Stout

“This carefully prepared book is a very useful introduction to research and methods for the whole field of church history and historical theology, but it also contains rich information and insight for those researching or teaching any aspect of this vast subject. . . . It effectively points out how to locate and use significant classics in the field and also how to make use of the cascading resources and powers of the computer. Neither dissertation writers nor those laboring on historical lectures, articles, or monographs should miss this book.”

— Robert T. Handy

“Anyone beginning research in church history — as well as many old hands — will find this book to be the best single-volume resource for theory and practice, incorporating bibliographical information and guidance on computer aids.”

— David Bebbington

THE ALBERT C. OUTLER PRIZE IN ECUMENICAL CHURCH HISTORY

The Albert C. Outler Prize in Ecumenical Church History consists of an award of $1000 to the author of a book-length manuscript and a possible grant of up to $3000 for publication costs—or in exceptional cases, for necessary expenses in the preparation of a manuscript accepted for publication. The term “Ecumenical” is to be construed as chiefly concerned with the problems of Christian unity and disunity (doctrinal, cultural, institutional) in any period of church history, or with interactions between Christianity and other religious movements. Works of a partisan nature are excluded. The winning manuscript must have printed on its title-page, “The Albert C. Outler Prize in Ecumenical History of the American Society of Church History.” Complete manuscripts in final form must be received by Henry W. Bowden, P.O. Box 8517, Red Bank, NJ 07701, by 1 June. The prize is offered annually, though no award will be made in any year when none of the manuscripts is adjudged to be outstanding. Manuscripts may not be submitted in more than one ASCH competition. The winner will be announced at the annual Winter meeting of the Society.

Winner 1993: Allen C. Guelzo, For the Union of Evangelical Christendom: The Irony of the Reformed Episcopalians, 1873–1930.

Winner for 1991: Ronald L. Numbers, The Creationists.

THE JANE DEMPSEY DOUGLASS PRIZE

The Jane Dempsey Douglass Prize is an award in the amount of $250 for the author of the best unpublished essay on some aspect of the role of women in the history of Christianity. The manuscript will be published in Church History. Entries of no more than twenty-five double-spaced pages, including doubled-spaced endnotes, must be submitted to Henry W. Bowden, P.O. Box 8517, Red Bank, NJ 07701, by 1 August each year. The prize is offered annually, though no award will be made in any year when none of the manuscripts is adjudged to be outstanding. Manuscripts may not be submitted in more than one ASCH competition. The winner will be announced at the annual Winter meeting of the Society.

Winner for 1993: Genevieve McCoy, “Post-Edwardian Calvinism and the Women of the ABCFM Oregon Mission.”

Winner for 1991: Joyce Irwin, “Pietism and Women: A Study in Contrasts.”

Philip Schaff's Interpretation of Nineteenth-Century
American Religion

Stephen R. Graham
Foreword by Martin E. Marty

"In this excellent volume Stephen Graham has made his own unique contribution to the literature on Philip Schaff. Graham has written the most complete interpretation available of Schaff's views and vision of nineteenth-century American religion. . . . Our own contemporary religious issues will be informed by this creative presentation of Schaff and his hopes for his adopted homeland, which included Christian cosmos, point omega of unity."

— George H. Shriver

"A welcome contribution to the growing body of literature on Philip Schaff. . . . No one has so far done greater justice to the important themes of Schaff's interpretation of the American religious scene than the author of this fine book."

— Klaus Penzel

"Graham is to be commended for his splendid accomplishment in retrieving Schaff's contributions to American cultural and religious criticism."

— R. Scott Appleby
