

Dictionary Catalog of the SLAVONIC COLLECTION

The New York Public Library, Research Libraries

This is a catalog of works in the Lettish, Lithuanian and Slavonic languages including translations from Balto-Slavonic belles-lettres, and of works in non-Balto-Slavonic languages on Balto-Slavonic linguistics or belles-lettres. One of the three major Slavic libraries in the U.S., the collection is strong in periodicals and public documents, imaginative literature in all its forms, history, the social sciences, mathematics, chemistry and physics.

508,000 cards reproduced in 26 volumes

Price: $1150.00

To be supplemented

Alphabetischer Katalog der Bibliothek des JOHANN GOTTFRIED HERDER-INSTITUTS

Marburg/Lahn, Germany

The library of the Herder Institute is the reference collection of one of the largest research centers for East Central European studies. Its holdings encompass older as well as current books on the geography, the ethnography, and the political, legal, economic and cultural history of the area.

63,400 cards reproduced in 5 volumes

Price: $320.00

10% additional charge on orders outside the U.S.
Descriptive material on these titles and a complete catalog of publications are available on request.

G. K. HALL & CO.

70 Lincoln Street, Boston, Mass. 02111

Just Published:

Population Changes in Russia and the USSR: A Set of Comparable Territorial Units by William Leasure and Robert Lewis.

A pioneering work in an important field of study — it will provide the ground work for much subsequent research in the problems of Soviet society. $2.50.

SAN DIEGO STATE COLLEGE PRESS
Aztec Shops, San Diego State College
San Diego, California 92115

FORTHCOMING

Contributions in the December and subsequent issues include:

DISCUSSION SECTION

“Muscovite Imperialism and Kazan”

IHOR ŠEVČENKO, Introductory Remarks

EDWARD LOUIS KEENAN, JR., “Muscovy and Kazan: Some Remarks on the Patterns of Steppe Diplomacy”

JAROSLAW PELENSKI, “Muscovite Imperial Claims to the Kazan Khanate”

OMELJAN PRITSAK, “Moscow, the Golden Horde and the Kazan Khanate from a Polycultural Point of View”

J. LURIA (IA. S. LUR’E), “The Problem of Evaluation of Sources”

CLARENCE BROWN, “Mandelstam”

ROBERT A. LEWIS and J. WILLIAM LEASURE, “Internal Migration in Russia in the Late Nineteenth Century”

LECH TRZECIAKOWSKI, “State—Catholic Church Relations in Prussian Poland, 1871–1914”

Notice

Unsolicited manuscripts must be accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

THE EDITORS

Slavic Review

Columbia University

622 West 113 Street

New York, New York 10025

New AAASS Directory

THE 1967 EDITION of the Directory of Members of the American Association for the Advancement of Slavic Studies will be available in late December. The new Directory, superseding that published in 1966, provides information concerning persons specializing in the study of Russian, Soviet, and East European affairs. For the 2100 AAASS members as of August 1967 the Directory lists occupational titles, office and residence addresses, academic degrees received (with field, institution, and year), and major fields of competence. In addition to the alphabetical listing there is a geographical distribution of members' names by states and cities and also a listing under 20 disciplines or areas of interest.

This Directory may be purchased for $5.00 from the office of the AAASS, 1207 West Oregon Street, University of Illinois, Urbana, Illinois 61801. It is distributed free to all members of the Association. If you would like a copy, and are not a member, we suggest that you place your order on or before November 1, 1967.

Membership Invitation

The American Association for the Advancement of Slavic Studies is an international professional organization open to scholars and other interested persons concerned with the social sciences and humanities in the Russian, Soviet, and East European field.

In addition to publishing its quarterly journal, the Slavic Review, the Association and its regional affiliates hold periodic conferences on both specialized and general themes concerning this field, which has in recent years enjoyed an extraordinary expansion of institutional and educational activity.

Members also receive the annual American Bibliography of Russian and East European Studies, the twice yearly Newsletter, plus the Directory, the new edition of which is described above.

If your application for membership, either for 1967 or 1968, is received before November 1, 1967, your name will be included in the Directory.

For requirements and costs of membership, consult the "News of the Profession" section of this issue.