

Journal of Law and Society

Edited by P.A. Thomas

(Formerly the British Journal of Law and Society)

The leading international journal devoted to the interaction of law and society.

The journal provides a platform for discussing law on an interdisciplinary basis within the social sciences. It is widely read in law faculties and by sociologists, psychologists, social workers and everyone concerned with the rights of women, racial minorities and the disadvantaged.

SOCIAL ADMINISTRATION ASSOCIATION

The Association exists for those whose work consists mainly of teaching or research in the fields of Social Administration and Social Policy. It was formed some years ago to enable staff from universities, polytechnics, technical and other colleges, independent and Government research organisations to meet and discuss matters of common interest.

The Association acts as a representative of its members and of Social Administration through contacts with the Social Science Research Council, the Council for National Academic Awards and the Business Education Council.

The Association has specialist groups which meet to discuss the teaching of social policy and comparative social policy.

The Association holds an Annual Conference. The 1983 conference will be from 13th to 15th July at the University of Kent. The theme will be 'The Mixed Economy of Welfare'.

The current membership subscription is £21.50 per calendar year; this includes the subscription to the Association's Journal, the Journal of Social Policy (four issues per year).

CRITICAL SOCIAL POLICY

Critical Social Policy is a new journal which will serve as a forum to encourage and develop an understanding of social policy from radical, feminist and socialist perspectives. The only collective editorial policy is a common opposition to the radical right and an awareness of the inadequacies of orthodox theories of welfare to meet its challenges. Within this project we wish to encourage contributions from a plurality of perspectives. Our priority is to develop a debate about political strategies and we will develop a format which will appeal to a varied audience of academics, practitioners and activists. It is intended that the journal will be international in its content and audience.

Contents of next issue: Summer 1982

Regional Studies

Edited by John B. Goddard

Professor of Regional Development Studies, University of Newcastle upon Tyne

Journal of the Regional Studies Association

Regional Studies publishes the results of original research on such topics as industrial, retail and office location, labour markets, housing, migration, recreation, transport, communications and the evaluation of public policy, wherever any of these topics has a bearing on urban and regional development. Special review articles on important themes and developments are published when appropriate. The journal is of special interest to economists, geographers, sociologists, planners and policy makers and anyone concerned with urban and regional problems and policies.

Volume 16 Number 5 October 1982 will carry the theme of 'Changing environment for regional policy in Britain' and will include the following articles.

B. MOORE and J. RHODES (Cambridge Economic Policy Group) 'A Second Great Depression in the U.K. regions — can anything be done?'

T. WILSON (University of Glasgow) 'The Macro-Economic Background to Regional Policy'

P. ELIAS (Institute for Employment Research, University of Warwick) 'The regional impact of national economic policies: a multi regional simulation approach for the U.K.'

P. LLOYD (University of Manchester) and D. REEVE (Huddersfield Polytechnic) 'North West England 1971—1977: A study in industrial decline and economic re-structuring'

R. ROTHWELL (Science Policy Research Unit, University of Sussex) 'The role of technology in industrial change: implications for regional policy?'

A. THWAITES (Centre for Urban and Regional Development Studies, University of Newcastle upon Tyne) 'Some evidence of regional variations in the introduction and diffusion of industrial products and processes within British manufacturing industry'

Journal of Social Policy

Notes for Contributors

1. All contributions and correspondence should be sent to: The Editor, Journal of Social Policy, PSSRU, Cornwallis Building, The University, Canterbury, Kent, CT2 7NF. All books for review should be sent to: The Review Editor, Journal of Social Policy, Department of Sociology and Social Administration, University of Southampton, Highfield, Southampton SO9 5NH.
2. Articles should generally contain between 5,000 and 10,000 words including footnotes, although longer or shorter articles may be accepted by arrangement with the editor. Short articles stand a better chance of early publication.
3. Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, or is not being considered for publication elsewhere. If an author is publishing a related article elsewhere, this fact should be stated.
4. Contributions (articles, review articles, reviews) should be clearly typed on one side of the paper only using a conventional size of paper, preferably A4. All material should be typed double-spaced with generous margins. Contributors should send two copies and keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
5. Contributions should be accompanied by an abstract of between one and two hundred words, and a title page providing information about the position/s held by the author/s and giving full details of any acknowledgements.
6. Manuscripts will not be accepted for publication unless they conform to the usual journal style. Contributors are advised to look at the latest issue of the journal for general guidance, although a brief style sheet is available from the editor upon request. Particular attention should be made to the journal requirements about references and tables.
7. Notes should not contain bibliographical references: these should be built into the text and the Harvard (author/date) system used. Such notes as are essential should be referred to in numerical order throughout the text and the numbers shown as superscript. Notes and bibliographical references should be typed (double-spaced) as separate sections at the end of the article.
8. Tables should be clearly laid out and designed to fit on to a page 234 mm × 155 mm. Vertical lines between columns should be omitted, and horizontal lines limited to the top and bottom of the table, with an additional one below the column headings. Totals and percentages should be labelled, and units identified.
9. First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the editor, by airmail where appropriate, within seven days of receiving them. The master proof will always be sent direct to the editor by the printer; contributors will receive duplicates.
10. Authors of articles and review articles (but not book reviews) receive twenty-five free offprints. Additional copies may be bought if ordered at proof stage.
11. Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyright, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.
