THE BRITISH ACADEMY

CROMER GREEK PRIZE

WITH the view of maintaining and encouraging the study of Greek, particularly among the young, in the national interest, the late Lord Cromer founded a Prize, to be administered by the British Academy, for the best Essay on any subject connected with the language, history, art, literature, or philosophy of Ancient Greece.

The Prize, which is ordinarily a sum of £40, is awarded annually in March, under the following Rules:—

1. Competition is open to all British subjects of either sex who will be under twenty-six years of age on 31 December preceding the award.

2. Any such persons desirous of competing must send in to the Secretary of the British Academy on or before 1 June of the year preceding the award the title of the subject proposed by him or her. The Academy may approve (with or without modification) or disapprove the subject; their decision will be intimated to the competitor as soon as possible.

3. Preference will be given, in approval of subjects proposed, to those which deal with aspects of the Greek genius and civilization of large and permanent significance over those which are of a minute or highly technical character.

4. Any Essay already published, or which has already received or is in competition for another prize of the same nature, will be inadmissible. A candidate to whom the Prize has been awarded will not be eligible to compete for it again. But an Essay which has not received the Prize may be submitted again (with or without alteration) in a future year so long as the writer remains eligible under Rule 1.

5. Essays of which the subject has been approved must be sent in to the Secretary of the Academy on or before 31 December. They must be typed (or, if the author prefers, printed), and should have a note attached stating the main sources of information used.

6. It is recommended that the Essays should not exceed 20,000 words, exclusive of notes. Notes should not run to an excessive length.

Communications should be addressed to 'The Secretary of the British Academy, Burlington House, Piccadilly, London, W.'

The Society for the Promotion of Roman Studies.

50, BEDFORD SQUARE, LONDON, W.C. 1

President: DR. H. IDRIS BELL, C.B., O.B.E., F.B.A.

THE subjects to promote the study of which the Society was formed are the history, archæology and art of Rome, Italy and the Roman Empire in general down to about 700 A.D. In particular, so far as its resources permit, and so far as is possible without prejudice to the wider objects with which it is concerned, the Society endeavours to encourage the study of Britain under Roman occupation by devoting space in its Journal to articles on Romano-British history and archæology.

In connexion with the Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies the Society maintains a joint library of works on classical antiquity, and a collection of lantern-slides and photographs. Members are entitled to borrow books and slides, and these can be sent to them by post. Communications about books and slides should be addressed to the Librarian at 50 Bedford Square.

Afternoon meetings for the reading and discussion of papers are held at Burlington House, Piccadilly, W.1, and one evening meeting is arranged for the discussion of a subject useful to teachers of Roman history. Numerous meetings are also held in University and other towns. Notices of all meetings are sent to members.

The Journal of Roman Studies, which is open to the contributions of both British and foreign scholars, is published by the Society in half-yearly parts, and is sent post free to all members.

The Annual Subscription for membership of the Society is one guinea. The composition fee for life membership is ten guineas for persons over fifty years of age, and fifteen guineas for others. Student Associates are admitted at the reduced subscription of 10s. 6d.

Persons desirous of joining the Society are asked to communicate with the Secretary at the Haverfield Library, Ashmolean Museum, Oxford.

The Classical Association.

The objects of the Classical Association are to promote the development and maintain the well-being of classical studies, and in particular (a) to impress upon public opinion the claim of such studies to an eminent place in the national scheme of education; (b) to improve the practice of classical teaching; (c) to encourage investigation and call attention to new discoveries; (d) to create opportunities for intercourse among lovers of classical learning.

Membership of the Association is open to men and women alike. The annual subscription is 5s. (life composition, £3 15s.). Members receive a copy of the annual Proceedings of the Association and, on a payment of 2/6, of The Year's Work in Classical Studies (both post free.) They may also obtain the Classical Review and Classical Quarterly at reduced prices, though the reduction cannot be guaranteed unless the subscription is paid before January 31st in each year. Greece and Rome may be obtained for an annual subscription of 7s. 6d.

Applications for membership should be addressed to the Hon. Treasurer of the Association (Miss Gedge, Westfield College [University of London], Hampstead, N.W. 3). Inquiries should be addressed to either of the Hon. Secretaries of the Association (Miss N. C. Jolliffe, Girton College, Cambridge and Mr. J. J. R. Bridge, Mutcombe, Fairfield Park, Bath), or to the Hon. Secretary of any one of the Local Branches, viz., Aberystwyth, Bedford and Northampton, Birmingham, Bristol, Cardiff, East Anglia, Hull, Kent, Leeds, Leicester, Liverpool, London, Manchester, Northumberland and Durham, North Wales, Nottingham, Oxford, Reading, Sheffield, Southampton, South Western, Sussex, Swansea, Taunton and West Somerset.

DIONYSIUS SOLOMOS

By

R. J. H. JENKINS

Dionysius Solomós was a Greek lyric poet, a contemporary and admirer of Byron. In his own day his Hymn to Liberty was read in every civilised European country, and, although he played his own part in the struggle for Greek Independence, he is important principally as a great Romantic poet and the restorer of Greek as a literary language. In this full study of the man and his work Mr Jenkins also makes some of his poetry available to English readers for the first time. Portrait and Map: 8s. 6d. net

ARISTOTLE ON FRIENDSHIP

Edited by

G. PERCIVAL

The aim of this book is to present in as complete a form as possible the argument of Books VIII and IX of the Nicomachean Ethics. The method used by Mr Percival, the translator-editor, is new; he has treated Aristotle's text as though it were lecture notes, and the full text of the expanded translation represents the lecture as it should have been delivered. This expanded translation can be read continuously, and the reader can grasp the meaning without diverting his attention to footnotes. Explanation is distinguished from translation by italics, and if these be passed over in reading, a continuous plain translation of the text results. 10s. 6d. net

THE ECONOMICS OF ANCIENT GREECE

H. Michell

18s. net

“Professor Michell reveals, in addition to his industry, a pronounced capacity for a non-technical and commonsense handling of his complicated material, which puts the classical student who is not an expert in economics heavily in his debt. Whether read through or used as a work of reference, the book will be found a serviceable and up-to-date guide to its important subject.”—The Listener

THE ARCHITECTURE of the INTELLIGIBLE UNIVERSE in the PHILOSOPHY of PLOTINUS

A. H. Armstrong

7s. 6d. net

“Mr Armstrong acquits himself with honour of the difficult task of mapping the seemingly quaint maze of Plotinus’s thought, proving in this work that, at close quarters, the apparently confused world outlook of the great Neo-Platonist reveals a well-constructed scaffolding of systematical thought, albeit not a fully consistent philosophy.”

Times Literary Supplement

“An important contribution to Plotinian studies . . . indispensable to students of the later Platonism.”—The Cambridge Review

PHILIP V OF MACEDON

F. W. Walbank

2 plates, 10 maps

18s. net

Most writings on Philip of Macedon are written from the Roman point of view, seeing Macedon simply as an obstacle in the path of the legions. This biography of Philip examines the internal social and political conditions of the country and their effects on his policy, and traces from the Macedonian side the history of his relations with Rome.
