Rethinking Ageing

Series Editor: Brian Gearing

AGE, RACE AND ETHNICITY: A Comparative Approach by Ken Blakemore and Margaret Boneham

This is the first definitive study of ageing among black and Asian people in Britain. In this wideranging and questioning book, the authors combine original research with the results of over a decade of community studies of age and race.

REMINISCENCE REVIEWED: Perspectives, Evaluations, Achievements by Joanna Bornat (ed.)

The use of reminiscence and recall in caring situations now plays a central part in working with older people. Despite this fact, there is no single volume which critically evaluates the practice, its outcomes and achievements. This book aims to fill that gap by bringing together for the first time work by leading psychologists, gerontologists, social workers, nurses and community workers - who have first-hand experience of reminiscence work.

UNDERSTANDING AGEING: Images, Attitudes and Professional Practice by Simon Biggs

This book examines the conscious and unconscious attitudes and feelings of practitioners towards their older clients and looks at the ways in which these feelings affect their ability to function as professionals should. Simon Biggs integrates pyschodynamic and social perspectives to provide new insights into how older age is imagined, defined and experienced.

An Interdisciplinary Research Forum

Journal of Aging and Health

Editor: Kyriakos S. Markides, University of Texas Medical Branch, Galveston

The fastest area of growth in the field of aging is gerontological health. But until now, researchers, practitioners and scholars alike have found it necessary to scan dozens of journals, books and conference papers to keep up with the latest findings on aging and its affects on health.

The Journal of Aging and Health provides a much-needed forum for research and scholarly exchange on the health of older persons, including health service utilization and the epidemiology of diseases common to aging.

With an interdisciplinary approach, Journal of Aging and Health provides a variety of perspectives important to the understanding of both aging and health. Articles explore a variety of fields, including:

- Behavioral Sciences
- * Nursing
- * Allied Health* Public Health
- * Social Sciences

- * Epidemiology
- * Public Health
 * Medicine
- * Social Work* Demography

- * Epidemiology

Notes for Contributors

All contributions and correspondence should be sent to: Professor Peter G. Coleman, The Editor, Againg and Society, University Department of Geriatric Medicine, Level E, Centre Block, Southampton General Hospital, Southampton 809 4XY, England. All books for review should be sent to: Professor Anthony M. Warnes, Department of Health Care of Elderly People, University of Sheffield, Northern General Hospital, Herries Road, Sheffield 85 7AU, England.

General approach and proparation of manuscripts

Authors are asked to bear in mind the multi-disciplinary and international nature of the readership when writing their contribution. In particular, care should be taken to draw out the implications of the analysis for readers in other fields, other countries, and other disciplines. Stereotypical presentation, of individuals or social groupings, including the use of ageist language, should be avoided.

Articles should generally contain between 5,000 and 10,000 words, although longer or shorter articles may be accepted by arrangement with the Editor. Articles in the Forum section will normally be aborter (3,000-6,000 words).

Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, and is not being considered for publication elsewhere. If an author is publishing a related article elsewhere, this fact should be stated. Contributors of articles or reviews accepted for publication will be asked to assign copyright, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press.

Authors of papers should send the copies of their article and keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs. Contributions (articles, review articles, reviews) should be clearly typed on one side of A4 (or an equivalent) size paper. All material should be typed double-spaced (including endnotes) with generous margins.

The side of the article (with main words in capitals), followed by the author's name and affiliation, on separate lines, and then by an abstract of between 100 and 200 words, should be typed on a removable cover page (to facilitate the anonymous refereeing procedure). The text of the article should start on the next page.

Citation of references

Contributors may follow either the standard conventions: (a) in-text citation of sources (author/date system); (b) citation in notes (the system used in vols 1-9 of Agoing and Society).

(a) In-text cluston. Give author's surname, date of publication and page references (if any) in parentheses in the body of the text, e.g. '(Hendricks and Hendricks 1986: 222)'. A complete list of references cited, arranged alphabetically by authors' surname, should be typed double-spaced at the end of the article in the form:

Hendricks, J. and Hendricks, C. D. 1986. Agoing in Mass Society: Myths and Realities, third edition Little, Brown & Co., Boston & Toronto.

(See further below for citation of edited volumes, articles).

(b) Citation is notes. References should be given in notes, numbered consecutively through the typescript with raised numbers, and typed double-spaced at the end of the article. Full publication details should be given in the notes when a work is first cited; for second and subsequent citations a short form may be used.

Notes should be presented as follows:

- I Kivnick, H. Q., Through the life cycle: psychosocial thoughts on old age. In Pollock G. H. and Greenspan, S. I. (eds), The Course of Life, Vol. 5. International Universities Press, Madison, CT, 1989; Dowd, J. J., Stratification among the Aged. Brooks/Cole, Monterey, 1989.
- 2 Walker, A., The social creation of poverty and dependency in old age. Journal of Social Policy, 9 (1980), 49-75.

Notes

Notes other than bibliographical references should be kept to an absolute minimum. If they are essential, they should be numbered consecutively in with the bibliographical notes.

Tables

Tables should be clearly laid out on separate pages, numbered consecutively, and designed to fit a printed page of $s_{34} \times t_{55}$ mm. Titles should by typed above the body of the table, with an initial capital for the first word and proper names only and underlined (for italics). Vertical lines should not be used and horizontal lines should be used only at the top and bottom of the table and below column headings. Totals and percentages should be labelled and units identified.

Figures

Figures abould also be provided on separate pages and numbered consecutively. Captions abould be provided on a separate sheet. Indicate in the margin of the typescript approximately where in the text tables and figures should fall.

Proofs and offprints

First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return corrected proofs to the Editor, by airmail where appropriate, within seven days of receiving them. The master proof will always be sent direct to the Editor by the printer; contributors will receive duplicates. Authons will receive as offprints free of charge; additional copies may be purchased if ordered at proof stage.
