Archaeological Reports

Published on behalf of the
The Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies

Editor

Richella Doyle, Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies, UK

Archaeological Reports is published by the Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies and the British School at Athens, for their subscribers. 'Archaeology in Greece', compiled annually by the Director of the British School at Athens, is the only account of recent archaeological work in Greece published in English. It is supplemented each year by a regional report on archaeology and research from other parts of the ancient Greek and Byzantine world: South Italy, Sicily, Sardinia, Albania, Cyprus, Asia Minor and the Black Sea are covered regularly. New acquisitions to UK antiquities' collections and their conservation also feature.

Archaeological Reports is only available with a subscription to The Journal of Hellenic Studies.

What similarities and differences were there between the Reformation in England and in Germany in regard to Christian ethics? The authors of this volume trace general considerations about ethics on both sides and address concrete fields of activity such as marriage, law, economy, war and diplomacy.

Sister Reformations II – Schwesterreformationen II

Reformations and Ethics in Germany and in England – Reformation und
Ethik in Deutschland und in England
Edited by/Herausgegeben von
Dorothea Wendebourg and/und
Alec Ryrie

The authors of this volume deal with the similarities and differences between the Reformation in England and in the Holy Roman Empire of the German Nation in regard to Christian ethics. Although it was understood by all sides that ethics was part of the Christian life, its place in theology was a matter of dispute, not only between the Reformation and its opponents but also among the various schools of thought in the Reformation. The articles in this volume deal with answers given by advocates of the Reformation in England and in Germany to the question of the theological place of ethics, and in addition with decisions and behavioral maxims here and there, such as for example ethics of law, the economy, war or diplomacy.

The Classical Quarterly

Published for The Classical Association

Editors

Bruce Gibson, University of Liverpool, UK

Andrew Morrison, University of Manchester, UK

The Classical Quarterly has a reputation for publishing the highest quality classical scholarship for over 100 years. It publishes research papers and short notes in the fields of language, literature, history and philosophy. Two substantial issues (around 300 pages each) of The Classical Quarterly appear each year, in May and December. Given the quality and depth of the articles published in The Classical Quarterly, any serious classical library needs to have a copy on its shelves.
