Vol 148

MEDICAL DEPT. CT. JUN 23 1986

ISSN 0007-1250

Published by authority of
The Royal College of Psychiatrists

NOTICE TO CONTRIBUTORS

1. The British Journal of Psychiatry is published monthly under the auspices of the Royal College of Psychiatrists. The Journal publishes original work in all fields of psychiatry. Communications on general editorial matters, including manuscripts for publication, printed matter, and books for review, should be sent to The Editor, The British Journal of Psychiatry, 17 Belgrave Square, London SW1X 8PG.

2. Contributions are accepted for publication on the condition that their substance has not been published or submitted for publication elsewhere. The Journal does not hold itself responsible for statements made by contributors. Unless so stated, material in the Journal does not necessarily reflect the views of the Editor or the Royal College of Psychiatrists.

3. Published articles become the property of the Journal and can be published elsewhere, in full or in part, only with the Editor's written permission.

4. Manuscripts accepted for publication are subject to copy-editing, and to editorial changes required for conformity with Journal style.

5. We regret that papers unsuitable for publication will not be returned.

6. General advice to authors In the assessment of manuscripts submitted to the Journal, great importance is attached to clarity and brevity of expression. Authors should read General Notes on the Preparation of Scientific Papers (3rd ed. 1974, £0.45, from The Royal Society) and/or Judith Butcher's Typescripts, Proofs and Indexes (1980, Cambridge University Press, £2.95). Spelling should follow the Concise Oxford Dictionary.

The standard of statistical work in papers submitted for publication has proved to be very variable. Authors using any statistical methods at all are strongly advised to study the paper 'Statistical guidelines for contributors to medical journals' (D. G. Altman et al, British Medical Journal, 7 May 1983, 286, 1489–1493) at the earliest possible stage in preparing their work for publication.

7. Manuscripts Two high-quality copies should be submitted and the author should retain a copy. Articles must be typed on one side of the paper only, double spaced with wide margins, and all the pages must be numbered sequentially, starting with the title page.

a. The title should be brief and to the point. If necessary, a sub-title may be used to amplify the main title. The names of the authors should appear on the title-page, and their names, degrees, affiliations and full addresses at the end of the paper.

b. A summary should be given at the beginning of the article. It should be brief and factual and not normally more than 150 words.

c. References should be listed alphabetically at the end of the paper, the titles of journals being given in full. Authors should follow Journal style for the reference list and study the examples given below. Titles of books and journals are printed in italic and should therefore be underlined on the typescript. Reference lists not in Journal style will be returned to the author for correction.

Authors should check that the text references and the reference list are in complete agreement as regards dates and spelling of names. The text reference should be in the form '(Smith, 1971)' or 'Smith (1971) showed that ...'

SCOTT, P. D. (1974) Definition, classification, prognosis and treatment. In Pathology and Treatment of Sexual Deviation (ed. I. Rosen) Oxford: Oxford University Press.

'Personal Communications' need written authorisation.

d. Symbols and abbreviations Follow Units, Symbols and Abbreviations: A Guide for Biological and Medical Editors and Authors (3rd ed. 1977), £2.00, available from the Publications Office of the Royal Society of Medicine. Terms or abbreviations which might not be understood by the average reader should be explained at first occurrence.

e. Tables and Figures Each table should be on a separate sheet, with an adequate heading; table and heading should be self-explanatory without reference to the text. The desired position of the table relative to the text should be indicated in the left margin.

Figures should be individual glossy photographs, or other camera-ready prints, not photocopies, clearly numbered and captioned below. Avoid cluttering figures with explanatory text which is better incorporated succinctly in the caption. A figure intended to occupy a single column should be drawn (or photographed) 80–110 mm wide to allow for a 2/3 reduction; a figure requiring the whole width of the page should be 180–210 mm wide. Lettering (film-set or stencil) should be 12pt sans (initial capital for the first word only) to give 8pt on the printed page. Labels on graphs should read parallel to the axes. Units must be clearly indicated and should be in brackets (note—'litre' should be spelled out in full unless modified to ml, dl, etc.).

f. Photographs Prints must be taken directly from the original b/w negative (not, for example, from a colour slide or a printed page) and should be glossy and sharply focussed. Labels, arrows, etc. should be shown on a duplicate print or overlay. Do not write anything on photographic prints, and do not use staples or paper-clips on them. These procedures apart, all the comments on figures and tables apply equally to photographs.

8. Proofs A proof will be sent to the senior author of an article. Reprints, which are prepared at the same time as the Journal, should be ordered when the proof is returned to the Editor.

9. Letters to the Editor Letters should not exceed two double-spaced typed pages. They will be edited for clarity and conformity with Journal style and may be shortened. There should be no more than five references; tables and figures cannot be used.

TAVISTOCK Videotapes

Tavistock videotapes are specially designed to exploit the teaching potential of video and engage with a range of current approaches in counselling and effective communication and interaction. Using the knowledge and skills of established and respected practitioners and academics, each tape concentrates on issues and difficulties that are commonly experienced by the helping professions – doctors, nurses, psychiatrists, therapists, social workers, health visitors – but are seldom demonstrated successfully in training.

Ticehurst House was established as a psychiatric clinic more than 200 years ago. Today it retains its position at the forefront of psychiatric care.

The reputation of Ticehurst House stems from the comprehensive service it offers to patients and to the medical and psychiatric professions.

The psychiatric team at Ticehurst House offers a full spectrum of treatments in the care of short and long term patients and specialises in the active care of short term patients, the treatment of alcoholics and the assessment and treatment of psychogeriatric patients.

The hospital responds promptly to requests for out-patient consultation and admission of patients. There are excellent liaison procedures between Ticehurst House and outside Consultants and G.P's.

The special facilities at Ticehurst House include a psychogeriatric assessment unit, the Newington Alcohol Treatment Unit and facilities for day care patients.

Within the grounds of the hospital Highlands Lodge offers high quality accommodation for low dependency patients under the care of Consultants and experienced nursing staff.

Ticehurst House enjoys an excellent reputation for its cuisine. Bedrooms are spacious and equipped with nurse-call systems.

It is easily accessible by both road and rail, being close to Wadhurst in Sussex (70 minutes from Charing Cross), and stands in forty-eight acres of delightful gardens and grounds.

For further information write or telephone The Medical Director, Ticehurst House, Ticehurst, Near Wadhurst, Sussex TN5 7HU. Telephone (0580) 200391.

SYMPOSIUM ON EPONYMOUS AND UNUSUAL PSYCHIATRIC CONDITIONS

Over the years a number of presentations of psychiatric illness have been written up and presented as distinct conditions, and for many, eponymous titles have been given. While these do not form the core of psychiatric practice, recognition and management of some of them requires awareness and also specialist knowledge.

In this Symposium it is intended to discuss a number of such disorders calling on the experience of experts who have seen and dealt with these conditions. The Symposium will provide not only an historical background of the conditions, but also an update with regards to current thinking and management, and will create a forum in which to meet physicians who have experience with these syndromes.

Guest speakers and topics will include: Professor P. Pichot, De Clerambault's Syndrome; Professor W. Trethowan, The Couvade Syndrome; and Dr S. Lewis, the Syndrome Capgras and Fregoli.

This one day Symposium will be held on Friday 27th June 1986 at:

The Royal College of Physicians
11 St. Andrews Place
Regents Park LONDON
NW1 4LE

(by kind permission of the Treasurer)

The cost of registration will be £20 (£10 for junior medical staff.)

For further details of speakers and their specific topics, and registration form, please contact: Diane Carter, Charter Clinic, 1/5 Radnor Walk, London, SW3 4PB. Tel No 01 351 1272.

Helping people help themselves

Work is the curse of the drinking classes

Excessive drinking invariably produces problems of one kind or another.

But when the abuse of alcohol is at work, more than the job may be threatened.

Dismissal, divorce, and debt are often part of a familiar pattern.

For the well motivated alcoholic who recognises the need to give up drinking, Antabuse has a part to play.

Clinical evidence^{1,2,3} shows that when Antabuse is administered under third party supervision with a contractual obligation, the results of therapy dramatically improve.

And that's a sobering thought.

Antabuse[®]

disulfiram B.P.

Help for the well motivated alcoholic

PRESCRIBING INFORMATION PRESENTATION: White, scored tablets each containing 200mg DISULFIRAM B.P.
INDICATION: Anti-alcoholic agent used as an adjuvant in the treatment of co-operative, chronic alcoholics.
DOSAGE: Day 1 of treatment: at least four tablets as a single dose; day 2: three tablets; day 3: two tablets; days 4 and 5: one tablet. The subsequent maintenance dose is one or half a tablet daily.
CONTRA-INDICATIONS: Antabuse is contra-indicated in cardiac failure, coronary artery disease, pregnancy, psychosis and drug addiction. Caution should be exercised in the presence of renal failure, hepatic or respiratory disease, diabetes mellitus and epilepsy. Disulfiram may interact with a number of drugs; for further information see data sheet.
PRECAUTIONS: It is recommended that treatment with Antabuse should be initiated only in a hospital or specialised clinic and by physicians experienced in its use. Patients should not have ingested alcohol for at least 12 hours and must be warned of the potential dangers of an Antabuse-alcohol reaction. Antabuse should not be given during a drinking episode. The Antabuse-alcohol reaction is characterised by violent flushing, dyspnoea, headache, palpitations, tachycardia, nausea and vomiting. Intensive supportive therapy may be required.
SIDE-EFFECTS: Drowsiness and fatigue may occur during initial treatment. Nausea, vomiting, halitosis, reduction in libido, allergic dermatitis, peripheral neuritis and hepatic cell damage have been reported. Psychotic reactions occur rarely.
BASIC NHS COST: £9.60 per 50 tablets. PL 0495/5900 (PL Holder: Weddel Pharmaceuticals).
