ERRATUM

In the March 2009 issue of the JOURNAL, in her article, "Time Spent in Home Production in the Twentieth-Century United States: New Estimates from Old Data," Valerie A. Ramey inadvertently omitted the complete reference to one of the key data sets she used. That data set, The American Heritage Time Use Study, was created at the Centre for Time Use Research, United Kingdom, by Kimberly Fisher, Muriel Egerton, and Jonathan Gershuny, with Nuno Torres and Andreas Pollmann, and contributions from Anne H. Gauthier and John Robinson. The data set is available at http://www.timeuse.org.

ECONOMIC HISTORY SOCIETY ANNUAL CONFERENCE 26–28 MARCH 2010, UNIVERSITY OF DURHAM CALL FOR ACADEMIC PAPERS

The 2010 annual conference of the Economic History Society will be hosted by the University of Durham from 26 to 28 March. Accommodation and some meetings will be located in Collingwood College and the majority of sessions in two adjacent buildings on the Science Site. The college is a 10-minute walk from the Science Site and shuttle buses will be provided at certain times of the day.

The conference program committee welcomes proposals in all aspects of economic and social history covering a wide range of periods and countries, and particularly welcomes papers of an interdisciplinary nature. Preference may be given to scholars who did not present a paper at the previous year's conference. Those currently studying for, or who have recently completed, a Ph.D. should submit a proposal to the New Researcher session; please contact Maureen Galbraith (ehsocsec@arts.gla.ac.uk) for further information.

The committee invites proposals for individual papers, as well as for entire sessions (three speakers, 1.5 hours duration). The latter should include proposals and synopses for each paper in the session, although the committee reserves the right to determine which papers will be presented in the session if it is accepted. If a session is not accepted, the committee may incorporate one or more of the proposed papers into other panels.

For each proposed paper, please send (preferably by e-mail) a brief c.v. and a short abstract (including name, postal and e-mail addresses) of 400–500 words to: Maureen Galbraith, Dept. of Economic & Social History, University of Glasgow, Lilybank House, Bute Gardens, Glasgow G12 8RT, Scotland, UK. E-mail: ehsocsec@arts.gla.ac.uk.

For full consideration, proposals must be received by 14 September 2009. Notices of acceptance will be sent to individual paper givers by 16 November 2009.

Should your paper be accepted, you will be asked to provide the following: An abstract of the paper for inclusion in the conference booklet (by 14 December 2009); a brief nontechnical summary of your paper for the "Media Briefings" section of the society's website (by 1 February 2010); and an electronic copy of your full paper (for the conference website) or a web address where the paper is available for consultation (by 1 March 2010).

It is the normal expectation that speakers who submit a proposal for a paper to the Conference Committee should be able to obtain independent financial support for their travel and conference attendance. However, a very limited support fund exists to assist overseas speakers who are unable to obtain funding from their own institution or from another source. Details of this fund and an application form can be obtained from the society's administrative secretary, Maureen Galbraith (ehsocsec@arts.gla.ac.uk). It is important that a completed application form is included with the paper proposal and the brief c.v. which are submitted to the committee for the September deadline. Only in exceptional circumstances will later applications for support be considered.
